FIGHT LAUNCHED TO END PAROLE BOARD SECRECY

Commission Drafts Prison Report.

Defends Action

W. C. Jones, chairman of the state board of pardons and paroles, defends action of board in granting freedom to six convicts. Details on page 6.

As Gov. Horner's commission investigating prison conditions in Illinois went into session here yesterday to prepare its report and recommendations, public officials announced plans for legislation to compel the state parole board to make known the names of convicts whom it frees from the penitentiaries.

At present the parole board keeps secret the names of these released convicts and in many cases the names do not become known until the convicts have gotten into trouble again. In other cases persons who were victims of the crime for which the men were sent to prison and have reason to fear revenge from dangerous characters do not know these convicts are again at large.

Four Gunmen Released.

On Wednesday it was learned that four gunmen, with long criminal records, had been released by the parole board before election day. A few days before it became known that David Carlson, serving a third prison term for invasion and robbery of a Winnetka home, had been paroled.

Mayor Kelly declared yesterday that he is in favor of legislation requiring full publicity of the parole board's actions.

"I am on the side of any bill that legislates in the interest of public safety, that is for law and order and against crime and habitual criminals," the mayor said.

Plan Bill in January.

State Senator Harold G. Ward [Dem., Chicago], who is Mayor Kelly's legislative spokesman at Springfield, said that at the January session of the general assembly he will introduce a measure compelling the parole board to announce the names of the convicts it releases.

"This secrecy does no one any good," Senator Ward said. "It is against the public interest. In my mind, when a man is paroled or pardoned there should be full publicity.

"If the man is a dangerous criminal the public should be warned he is at large, particularly those people who might fear his release. The announcement that the convict is free cannot hurt him because his character has already been made known at his trial and has doubtless been given publicity.

"Can Do No Harm."

"With other criminals the publicity also can do no harm. It is better for these men to lay their cards on the table when they are released, rather than live in fear from day to day that their pasts will become known through an enemy."

There is no specific provision in the parole statutes giving the board the power to keep secret the names of the prisoners it frees. From its broad powers and duties in the statute, however, the board has promulgated a regulation for this secrecy.

The lists of parolees are given monthly to the state's attorney's office and to the police department, but this information rarely gets to the public, to prospective associates, and employers of the parolees, or to the persons responsible for their incarceration.

Governor's Commission Meets.

The governor's commission investigating prison conditions went into session yesterday at the offices of the Chicago Crime commission, 300 West Adams street. The session, which may last through today, is being held behind closed doors.

Members of the commission attending are the Rt. Rev. J. H. Schlarman, Catholic bishop of Peoria, chairman; Col. Henry Barrett Chamberlin, director of the crime commission; State Senator James J. Barbour of Evanston, Judge John Prystalski of the Cook county Circuit court, Assistant State's Attorney Emmett Moynihan, Robert L. Kern, newspaper editor of Belleville, Ill.; Milton H. Summers, Chicago attorney and member of the crime commission, and the Rev. Preston Bradley, pastor of the People's church of Chicago.

Members who did not attend are

KENTUCKY LOVE AFFAIR ENDS IN WIDOW'S DEATH

New Castle, Ky., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt, former lieutenant governor and former adjutant general and one of Kentucky's outstanding military figures, tonight faced charges of murdering his fiancée, Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor, 40, socially prominent and beautiful widow, after arraignment on a murder warant sworn by her brother, Dr. E. S. Garr.

The body of Mrs. Taylor was found last Friday night in a ditch along the Louisville-La Grange highway with a bullet wound in her chest and Gen. Denhardt's .45 caliber army revolver lying two feet away.

The examining trial for Gen. Denhardt was set for 10 a. m. Nov. 20 at New Castle.

He Refuses to Testify.

Refusal to testify at the coroner's inquest into the woman's death this afternoon prompted Dr. Garr to swear out the warant charging the general with murder.

The first and only witness called to the stand in abortive inquest proceedings, Gen. Denhardt, showing signs of considerable perturbation in the packed courtroom because of rumors that neighbors were "out to see that he gets his medicine," blamed his refusal to testify "on advice of attorneys."

La Grange is in Oldham county. Coroner D. L. Ricketts, conducting the inquest, addressed Denhardt:

"Are you willing to testify?"

"I would like to," replied Denhardt, "very much, but my counsel says not—for reasons best known to himself."

Blames It on Counsel.

Coroner Ricketts leaned forward. "You refuse?" he repeated doggedly.

"I am not refusing," snapped Denhardt. "My counsel refuses. If I had my own way, I'd tell everything gladly."

Denhardt tilted his head back, thrust his chin forward, and declared in a voice that the crowd of approximately 1,000, some hanging onto windows and standing on radiators, could hear plainly, "I am declining on advice of counsel over my protest."

State Asks Delay.

Commonwealth's Attorney H. B. Kinsolving broke in, asking that the inquest be postponed indefinitly because Denhardt, whom he spoke of as the chief witness, refused to testify.

At this point a brief lull occurred in proceedings. At about the same moment Coroner Ricketts rapped the stand with his gavel and announced the inquest would recess indefinitly. Sherif Ivan Harrod pressed through the huddle, upon being addressed by Kinsolving, and placed a hand on Denhardt's shoulder.

"Gen. Denhardt," he said, "I have a warant for your arrest."

Mrs. Taylor, who was considered one of the most beautiful women in the two counties, had met Gen. Denhardt last June, shortly after the prominent veteran bought an 800 acre farm in Oldham county. After a whirlwind courtship, they had planned to marry within a week or two, he had said earlier in the week, during numerous interrogations by county officers.

Husband Dead Five Years.

Mrs. Taylor's husband died in 1931 and she assumed management of his laundry business.

Veteran of three wars, Gen. Denhardt, considerably disliked throughout the state because of his activities while on National Guard duty in strife torn sections, was free tonight on $25,000 bond, required by Henry County Judge A. S. Morgan, which was furnished by Dr. A. T. McCormack, state health commissioner.

Gen. Denhardt was city prosecutor of Bowling Green, Ky., for ten years after he came back from the Spanish-American war, twice county judge of Warren county, served in the 1916 Mexican expedition as an officer of the 3d Kentucky infantry, later served in France, being cited for conspicuous action in the St. Mihiel offensive, was lieutenant governor of Kentucky from 1923 to 1927, and adjutant general from 1931 to 1935. Shortly after becoming adjutant general he was named a reserve brigadier by the war department.

Gen. Denhardt retired from public

HE BULLDOGS COYOTE FROM HIS AUTO AND NOW HE'S CHAMPION

Encino, N. M., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Rodeo thrills and spills from Salinas to Madison Square Garden faded into insignificance here today as the boys told how Bill Bourne took off from a careening "gas buggy" to win the world's first "coyote doggin'" championship.

Bourne downed his coyote in twenty-two minutes in the Armistice day running of what appears to be something of a motorized fox and hounds chase.

The "coyote doggers" took off from stripped down automobiles and chased coyotes to earth across the open, rugged mesa. The title was Bourne's because he was the only entrant to make his "critter eat dirt."

The time was measured from the start of the chase until the animal was winded and pinned to the ground.

POPE SURPRISES 25 CAMERA MEN WITH HIS VIGOR

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Pope Pius lectured newspaper photographers on their art today and surprised them with a display of vigor despite his 79 years and the ills of old age.

Carlo Carletti, Associated Press photographer who was among the twenty-five received by the pope today, detected no new infirmity. The pontiff walked into the reception hall slowly but without assistance, Carletti said. Likewise, he ascended the throne without aid. A shortness of breath which has marked his speech in recent months was noticeable, but the pope appeared to suffer no unusual difficulty.

Prelates said the pope had conferred with his physician recently and described his symptoms but refused to submit to a thorough examination. Accordingly there is no precise diagnosis of his ailments.

Smiling and jovial, the pope urged photographers to become "thought transmitters." "People once read texts and glanced at illustrations," he said. "Nowadays the texts become supplements to pictures."

Squirrel Nips Co-Ed's Leg as She Walks to N. U. Class

Miss Doris Kadel, 18 years old, a co-ed at Northwestern university, was walking in Emerson street, near Orrington avenue, Evanston, on the way to class yesterday when a squirrel darted at her, bit the calf of her left leg, and ran away. Miss Kadel, who lives in Willard hall, near the campus, will start taking Pasteur treatments as a precaution against rabies today.

Mr. Buck Deer Pays a Tragic Visit to Elgin

A buck deer, inquisitive but ignorant of the pitfalls of civilization and a city, wandered through the residential section of Elgin yesterday afternoon. Nibbling at a root here and there, staring at dwellings and following an aimless path, the dainty creature with its five pronged horns finally found its way into the very heart of the city's business district.

During the journey the deer was surprisingly unafraid of humans. He shied away when children and housewives ran into the street to see this wild creature treading pavements and sidewalks. In great bounds he fled when any attempted to approach, but otherwise seemed unconcerned at his surroundings.

Plays to a Big Audience.

But as the deer trotted past the city hall and penetrated nearer and nearer to Fountain square he found the streets crowded with snorting, roaring automobiles. People crowded the sidewalks and drove him on.

There was a brief lull in trafic and the now bewildered and terrified animal, trembling and staring, paused in front of the town's largest theater. Then another automobile swiftly passed with motor rumbling. The strain was too great and the graceful creature, driven frantic with fear, began scampering wildly about.

For fifteen minutes the agile animal dodged through the business streets. He avoided automobiles like a broken field runner toting a football. But there was no surcease. The buck found himself trapped at last, and in a blind jump plunged through a plate glass door of the Walkover Shoe store at 52 South Grove avenue.

Place of Escape at Last.

A jagged edge of glass slashed an artery as the deer went through. He slipped down the aile, flabbergasting Harold Kellman, a clerk, and a woman customer, who saw him pass. Then he sank, panting, in a rear room.

There police cornered the buck. An examination convinced them that the wound soon would prove fatal and, after a brief colloquy, a bullet was fired into the buck's brain.

State Game Warden Frank Wewetzer said the deer probably had escaped from some estate or zoo, although he had heard no reports of this nature. He said the deer, which weighed about 185 pounds, was a native to the central plains regions. The animal had been seen around suburban Elgin for several weeks. The carcass will be given to the Larkin Children's home and a venison banquet held on Sunday.

'ARE THERE EXHIBITS?' JUSTICE QUERIES IN A CASE OVER WHISKY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—(AP)—To a lawyer about to address the Supreme court today, Justice McReynolds put this question:

"Whisky," replied the lawyer, Irving Breakstone of Chicago.

"Are there any exhibits?" asked Justice McReynolds.

"There were exhibits in the court below" [Supreme court of Illinois] "but they never got up here."

All of the justices smiled broadly.

FIND MERCHANT DEAD IN CAR WITH PISTOL BESIDE HIM

Louis Kruglick, 36 years old, owner of a large produce market at 4042 Montrose avenue, was found shot to death early yesterday in his automobile at Oak Park avenue and Forest Preserve drive in Norwood Park township. A revolver, with one shot fired, was found beside his body, and there was a wound in his right temple.

The county highway police were puzzled by the absence of a powder burn about the wound, and began an investigation on the theory that Kruglick might have been slain. His wife, Mrs. Fay Kruglick, mother of their two children, said her husband had been missing since early Monday morning from their home at 4735 Monticello avenue. She said she did not report his disappearance to the police because he frequently took short trips out of the city.

Later police learned that Kruglick had been suffering from a stomach ailment, and that in the last two weeks he had written several checks which were returned marked insufficient funds.

Calls on Police with Wife to Admit There's Another

A couple walked into the Racine avenue police station last night and gave their names as Stephen J. Skrzyptzak, 34 years old, and Alice Maszczynski, 24 years old, of 744 North Lincoln avenue. "We were married last July 22," Skrzyptzak told Lieut. Thomas J. McLaughlin, "but since then my conscience has been bothering me. I married a woman named Rose Marie Wolf on June 27, 1927. She deserted me and I have never heard from her. I never got a divorce." Skrzyptzak will be arraigned in the Felony court today on a charge of bigamy.

Wally Dined by Queen as Feud Rocks Palace

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 12.—"A palace battle" over the pros and cons of the friendship of King Edward VIII. of England for Mrs. Wallis [Wally] Simpson was described today to be raging between two groups at the royal court.

The controversy was reported as rumors of the king's marriage intentions are gradually penetrating and are being discussed in all ranks from Limehouse to Mayfair.

There is an increasing tendency among Britons to believe that King Edward does not contemplate marriage with the American born woman whose divorce from Ernest A. Simpson, shipping broker, becomes final next April. The belief also is spreading that disgruntled courtiers are to blame for spreading rumors about the danger of a commoner invading the precincts of the royal house of Windsor.

Discusses Possible Marriage.

The possibility of the king marrying Mrs. Simpson and abdicating was discussed today in the Week, a privately circulated and mimeographed magazine. The Week said there was little possibility of either development.

The Week said Mrs. Simpson had luncheon with Queen Mary last week, and intimated that attempts "to discredit the king's friendship" for the American divorcée were dispelled by that incident. The report that Mrs. Simpson was the guest of the queen could not be verified today.

Reliable sources said that Mrs. Simpson was hostess to the king at her home at 16 Cumberland terrace last night. She is reported to have entertained the monarch and a small party of friends until after midnight, when Edward left for Portland, where he inspected the home fleet today.

"It has become obvious a very great deal has been said in the United States about the king and Mrs. Simpson," the Week said in its article.

Tells of "Gambling."

"It is true that if any two persons so placed as Mrs. Simpson and the king were to fall in love their situation would be one of intolerable difficulty, and therefore there is no doubt its possibility is an absorbing subject of study for the American press and a profitable object for speculation for the British stock exchange.

"For, though the English press has been silent in the matter, the same cannot be said for the insurance brokers.

"The difficulty of finding a valid reason for having an incurable interest in the king's marriage hasn't prevented a brisk business from being done in insurance against this possibility.

Points to Insurance Rates.

"Even more symptomatic of the frank gambling which is based on hints and rumors of the king's private affairs are the rates quoted for postponement of the coronation.

"Actually the most important factor in any calculation of the possibility of postponement is the duke of Connaught [the king's great-uncle]. It is thought the duke is at present in good health, but he is now a very

FASCISTS LOSE MADRID SUBURB IN FLANK FIGHT

Planes Machine Gun Loyalist Lines.

MADRID, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Three Fascist rebel bombers and six pursuit planes sprayed machine gun bullets on government lines from the Toledo bridge to University City at dusk today after the government announced recapture of Getafe, eight miles to the south.

In the first insurgent air raid on Madrid in two days, Gen. Francisco Franco's planes suddenly darted through low cloud banks, power dived, and raked the entire stretch of government barricades, trenches, and artillery batteries with a hail of lead.

Twelve government scout planes took the air against the attackers and officials said they shot down two of the insurgent bombers.

Getafe Easily Taken.

Getafe was occupied by only a handful of Fascist troops, the war ministry said, and was easily captured in a surprise flank attack after a brief skirmish. A quantity of arms and ammunition was seized, it was said.

More insurgent shells, meantime, were aimed at government batteries in Madrid, but several ripped into the heart of the city. An unestimated number of persons were injured when several shells crashed through housetops.

Militia Hold Lines.

Decimated militia hold their lines around Madrid on the seventh day of the bloody battle for possession of the capital.

The optimism of Madrid officials mounted hourly as their fighting men hurled back each successive attack by their foes seeking to enter Madrid by crossing the Manzanares river.

A foreign legion of some 1,000 anti-Fascist volunteers fought side by side with the regulars, and the government expected 1,000 Catalan reinforcements would reach the capital shortly to join the 4,000 of their comrades who marched into Madrid the day before.

Increase Pressure at Aranjuez.

The government forces increased pressure on the insurgent forces around strategic Aranjuez, southeast of the capital, in efforts to break the enemy communication lines to the front.

"Madrid will continue to be impregnable although the siege last seven more days, or weeks, or months," the defense junta announced.

Further measures were adopted to halt the street sniping at night between Fascist sympathizers and the government militia.

All women, children, and aged or disabled persons who wish to leave Madrid would be given evacuation facilities, the Madrid defense council announced. They would be transported to the Levante region in eastern Spain, the council said.

Thirty Women Die Fighting.

OUTSIDE MADRID, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Thirty women—many of them young girls—were killed today fighting in trenches outside Madrid.

Moorish legionnaires swarming through the Carabanchel Bajo area came upon the bodies of the women crumpled in a trench.

Each was dressed in the blue coverall of a government militiaman and from a distance there was nothing to indicate they were women.

Books and Magazines About.

Beside the bodies were scattered books and magazines—evidence of how the female soldiers had passed the time awaiting the attack they could not repulse.

The contorted bodies of at least 300 government regulars in the same area showed the mad haste of the government retreat before the Moorish assault.

Some were dumped helter-skelter in the red brick hospital at Carabanchel Bajo. Other bodies had been thrown in closets and washrooms—gruesome evidence of the confusion of the government retreat.

Battle Rages On.

The left and right wings of the insurgent forces spread out and forward tonight, apparently in efforts to attack the capital simultaneously from both the north and south entrances.

During the night the Moors made repeated attacks on riverside sections of the capital in the Manzanares valley, which appeared to be partly evacuated.

Shell Madrid Suburbs.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LISBON, Portugal, Nov. 12.—[Censored.]—There was further furious shelling of Madrid's suburbs today, preparing the way for a new advance by the Fascist insurgents.

A tank crew of rebel Foreign Legionnaires commanded by Capt. Vidal was reported to have committed suicide rather than fall into the hands of the government militia, when the tank failed in a desperate attempt to capture the Segovia bridge at the west side of Madrid. Other Legionnaires recaptured their tank.

Another Fascist tank with one Portuguese among the crew succeeded in reaching a point on the boulevard of Atocha, pretty well within Madrid, but was forced to retreat again. The tank was overturned in the course of the retreat, but made a complete turn, landed upright and escaped.

Gen. Francisco Franco commander in chief of the rebels, is said to have stated he wanted to win his victory on the outskirts of the city because the loyalists then will be exhausted and less able to resist within the capital.

Report Naval Battle.

PERPIGNAN, France, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Two unidentified Spanish warships engaged in a naval battle off the Catalan coast near Rosas, reports from over the Franco-Spanish border said today. Reverberations from the sea battle caused fresh fears Spanish Fascists might attempt to land troops in Catalonia.

Government forces were rushed to the sea coast town and prepared to resist any insurgent disembarkment attempt. Rosas was fired upon several weeks ago by ships allegedly attached to the Fascist forces.

Plan Concentration Camps.

VALENCIA, Spain, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The Spanish ministry of justice today announced it is preparing to create concentration camps for "condemned Fascists." Thus, officials said, the government plans to give its enemies what the officials called "their own medicine."

Up to now, prisoners convicted of participation in the Spanish rebellion have been sent to jails and prisons, which now are overflowing in government centers.

CHARGES BRITISH REDS, FASCISTS GET FOREIGN AID

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Foreign funds are being supplied to both Fascists and communists in this country, Sir John Simon, home secretary, said today in the house of commons, but said he was unable to make a detailed statement of the source or amounts.

James Griffiths, Laborite, raised the issue by asking Simon whether the home office kept check on funds sent from abroad to Sir Oswald Mosley's Fascist Black Shirts and if he could give an indication of the amount and origin of foreign subsidies.

"I cannot make a detailed statement," replied Simon, "but information has reached me which goes to show that both in the case of the Fascist and communist organizations, their funds are being supplemented from abroad."

He declined to say what steps, if any, are being taken to put an end to this activity.

FALL FROM LADDER FATAL.

Peter Mordus, 66 years old, 9650 Avenue N, died in the South Chicago hospital yesterday, two hours after he fell from a ladder while repairing his house.

PLANES FROM COAST TO BOMB 'SHIP' ON GREAT SALT LAKE

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 12.—(AP)—This world famous religious center, home of a creed that constantly bespeaks peace, will witness its first air raid Saturday.

Thundering 600 miles out of the west, fifteen war planes will attack an "invading battleship" on Great Salt lake, 18 miles west of here, world shrine of the Latter Day Saints' church.

Four tons of high explosives will rain down upon a pyramid of wood and canvas, 30 feet square and 15 feet high and mounted on eight oil drums, floating in the southeastern end of the saline sea.

Directions were reversed in preparing the attack. Designed to test the nation's coast defense, officers pointed out that the lake is about the distance from March Field, Cal., air base that planes would fly over the Pacific ocean to meet actual enemy ships.

The bombers will fly from the coast about 200 miles an hour at an altitude of 18,000 feet. Each plane will carry two 300 pound demolition bombs, and the squadron will swoop down upon its target twice to fire two separate salvos of 4,500 pounds each.

PETITIONS COURT TO VACATE VOTE FRAUD SENTENCE

Mrs. Lina T. Singer, 41 years old, 3339 Douglas boulevard, one of four polls officials of the 41st precinct of the 24th ward sentenced to jail for frauds in the election of Nov. 8, 1932, petitioned the County court yesterday to vacate her 60 day sentence imposed on Dec. 7, 1933.

The petition, filed by Mrs. Singer's brother, Attorney Martin C. Weisbrod, sets forth that Mrs. Singer was "dominated" by fellow election officials and that she has paid her penalty in suffering since she was sentenced. Both the Appellate court and the Illinois Supreme court have upheld the sentence.

Two of the three polls officials convicted with Mrs. Singer have served their terms. They are William Kohen, who served 60 days, and Martha Rabinovitz, who served 15 days. Another, Florence Arieu, 1431 South Homan avenue, joined her appeal with that of Mrs. Singer, and now must serve a 30 day sentence.

SECTION BOSS, 60, AND YOUNG WIFE HELD IN KILLING

Thurmond, W. Va., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Robert L. Bennett, 60, railroad section foreman, and his pretty 23 year old wife were charged with murder tonight in the death of H. C. Bennett, 50, railroad conductor and justice of the peace.

Deputy Sheriffs Virgil Lyons and Carl Ballard filed the charge against Robert L. Bennett and his wife an hour after H. C. Bennett was shot to death in the Robert Bennett home.

Lyons said the two Bennett men were not related, and added:

"Jealousy caused the shooting. Bennett told us that 'I shot him as he came in the door.'

"Mrs. Bennett told us she had been seeing H. C. Bennett for about five or six months, and that her husband found out about it."

ITALIAN ENVOY LASHES STALIN; LOOK FOR BREAK

Rome Accepts Challenge on Spain.

ROME, Nov. 13 [Friday].—(AP)—Informed Italian sources today stated they saw the possibility of a diplomatic rupture between Italy and Russia on the heels of a bitter denunciation of Russia by Dino Grandi last night before the International Non-Intervention committee in London.

These sources declared Grandi's attack on Russia served only to accentuate the growing bitterness between Rome and Moscow. They pointed out that an Italian ambassador for the first time had accused the Moscow government and Josef Stalin directly, rather than communism or bolshevism of intervention in the Spanish civil war.

Russia Acquitted on Spain.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The international "hands off Spain" committee tonight acquitted Russia of three Italian charges that she had aided the Madrid government after a bitter denunciation of Russia by Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador to London. The committee then adjourned to await an answer from Russia regarding a fourth Italian allegation.

[The non-intervention committee on Oct. 28 acquitted both Italy and Portugal of charges of violation of the neutrality agreement.]

The committee earlier approved a plan to send neutral observers to the principal Spanish ports to guard against an inflow of arms. The plan, however, was sent back to a subcommittee.

Grandi, referring to the Spanish government's flight from Madrid, said:

"Thus ends, amidst fire and blood, the greatest attempt ever made by bolshevik Russia, to export their creed, through force and famine, beyond their frontiers.

Accepts Soviet Challenge.

"Stalin [Josef Stalin], chief of the bolshevist revolution, said it was the duty of the U. S. S. R. to render every assistance within their power to the Spanish communist revolution, inasmuch as the liberation of Spain from Fascist oppression was not a private affair of the Spaniards, but the common cause of communism.

"We accept the challenge. Italy, in fact, is convinced that it not only is the future of Spain, but the future of all civilized Europe that is at stake today."

The Italian's denunciation drew a quick retort from the Russian representative, Moiseyevitch Kagan.

"If today we have to listen to the Italian representative's piping a tune which Berlin has composed," Kagan said, "then, though we may congratulate Berlin on 'victory,' we must condole with Rome on yielding her independence of approach in international matters, on surrendering her former sane attitude to the U. S. S. R. at the clamor of Berlin."

Fascists Are Losing War at Madrid, French Assert

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Nov. 12.—Belief that Gen. Francisco Franco, chief of the Spanish rebel armies, has missed his best chance of winning the civil war and will definitly have lost the war if Madrid holds out for a few more days was expressed in certain official circles here today on the basis of reports from French observers with both the Spanish armies.

Officials in private conversation betray keen satisfaction over the turn of events in Spain, contrasting with the deep gloom which prevailed among all friends of the Spanish republic last week.

See Morale Unbroken.

Greatest importance is attached here to Gen. Franco's failure to shatter the government militia's morale, as proved by the resistance at Madrid. Even if the rebels should capture the capital in the end, declare the French observers of this school of thought, Franco will not have achieved his real objective which was to break the fighting spirit of the Loyalists—for the militiamen have gained self confidence which they never possessed before.

Furthermore it is pointed out that Franco's losses already are so terrific—the French have some striking statistics on this question—that virtually all the offensive power of his army will be gone after he has fought his way into Madrid.

Many observers here, however, doubt now that Gen. Franco will ever get into Madrid, and they drop hints of surprise developments in the next few days which may force the rebels to retreat. As far as an outsider can tell, there is nothing definite to base such optimism on.

Call Class of '11 to Colors.

Proof of Gen. Franco's weakness in man power after the drain of the last three weeks is seen here in the decree published today at Burgos, Spain, calling the military class of 1911 to the colors throughout the territory held by the rebels.

Two other classes, not counting conscripts doing military service when the war broke out, were drafted in August. The lackadaisical attitude of these drafted warriors was evident on many occasions and their military value is almost nil. The fact that Franco thought it necessary to mobilize another class when all able-bodied males with any fighting spirit and any love for the rebel cause have long since joined up as volunteers proves that the drain on effectives is serious.

It proves another thing. These new recruits cannot be incorporated into the army and rushed to the front in time to be of much use for the battle of Madrid, and anyway they are no good for an offensive war. It looks, therefore, like Gen. Franco is prudently looking forward to the time when he may have to fight a defensive war himself and need all possible effectives regardless of value to hold a long front.

Uneasy Over Rôle of Foreigners.

Although the French are pleased to see the government holding out so successfully, they are uneasy over the increasingly preponderate rôle of foreigners on both sides. The rebels would be absolutely powerless without the Moors, Germans, and Italians and would have lost the war long ago but for them. On the other hand the government did not really put up a fight until the Russians started giving them heavy support.

Now that defeat of the rebels for the first time emerges as a possibility, one may envisage under certain circumstances the French fear that Premier Mussolini and Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler will try to save their prestige by still more active intervention in Spain—as, for instance, an Italian expedition against the Catalan coast.

At the same time every new soviet ship which lands at Barcelona or Valencia increases the French nervousness. The latest report is that two Russian freighters are en route from Sebastopol to Barcelona, one carrying tanks and big guns and the other laden with raw materials and machinery for making gas, with a crew of Russian technicians to organize gas production and chemical warfare.

SUIT IS FILED TO FORECLOSE ON DRUGGAN FARM

Foreclosure proceedings were filed in Circuit court in Waukegan yesterday by Hugo Pick against Mrs. Elizabeth Druggan, owner of a 240 acre farm near Lake Zurich, Lake county. She is the mother of Terry Druggan, former beer baron, who is believed to be the real owner of the farm. He lives there.

Pick, trustee of the estate which sold the farm, says in his bill that Mrs. Druggan failed to meet a semi-annual interest payment of $612 last Oct. 17. He declared that the purchase price in 1924 was $80,000, and that Mrs. Druggan still owed $24,500 as of last August. He demanded an accounting, appointment of a receiver, and sale of the property in default.

BRITAIN SEEKS NEW AMERICAN TRADE TREATY

LONDON, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons today that official consideration of an Anglo-American trade treaty was "one of the main objects of his majesty's government."

It was the government's policy, he said, to "promote the exchange of goods between Great Britain and other countries by means of bilateral pacts. The government will continue to keep in touch with the governments of the United States, France, and other nations."

PROCLAIM RIGHT OF HUNGARY AND AUSTRIA TO ARM

Italy Backs Two Nations in Tri-Power Accord.

VIENNA, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The right of Austria and Hungary to rearm was proclaimed tonight in an official communique issued by the foreign ministers of Italy, Austria, and Hungary.

[Little entente nations—Czechoslovakia, Rumania, and Jugo-Slavia—have repeatedly opposed Austro-Hungarian rearmament, basing their protests on the post-war treaties, which forbade the two countries to rearm.]

In hailing the entry of Austria and Hungary into the arms-bristling bivouacs of Europe, the communique declared their right to rearm was the "principal" objective of the new tri-power accord.

Italy Gives Special Privilege.

Italy's support of the project was envisioned by observers as likely to override any serious protests from little entente powers.

The communique also announced that Austria and Hungary will be given special privileges in the development of Ethiopia, where Italian sovereignty was recognized by the two nations last night.

The official statement, signaling the conclusion of the tripartite talks, did not disclose further details of the negotiations. Informed sources, however, declared the three countries—already bound together by economic and financial pacts—had agreed on a united front regarding bolshevism, Spanish socialism and the league of nations.

May Form 4-Power Bloc.

A foreign office spokesman said the Italo-Austro-Hungarian accord is linked with a possible bid to Germany to join in a four-power block.

Diplomatic quarters also heard that recognition of the Fascist insurgent government of Spain, in the event the Socialist government collapsed, was among the points of agreement reached in the new accord.

Seek Italo-German Naval Unity.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—To prepare for German-Italian naval coöperation in the Mediterranean and especially in Spanish waters, a delegation of Italian naval officers arrived in Berlin today to confer with chiefs of the German admiralty.

Italians and Germans are "eager to find ways and means of insuring peace in the Mediterranean," which they hold to be endangered by the alleged Russian transport of arms to the republican government of Spain.

Navy men returning from duty aboard German vessels in Spanish waters declare that commanders of Italian ships complained that German sailors fraternized more with the British than with the Italians and asked the German commanders to instruct their crews on the closeness of Italo-German friendship.

Woman, 70, Killed When Struck by Street Car

Mrs. Mary Louise Lambert, 70 years old, of Coloma, Mich., was killed yesterday when she was struck by a northbound Wentworth avenue street car at 73d street.

WOMAN FOUND SLAIN IN HOME; HUNT BOARDER

Red Bank, N. J., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—A few hours after Ralph Mills killed himself, confessing in a note the killing of his red headed wife, Nellie, police today found themselves with another slaying on their hands.

Mrs. Alice Smith, 75, was found dead in bed in her cottage after neighbors reported they had not seen her for more than twenty-four hours. Her body was nude and bore numerous cuts and bruises.

Police Chief Earl N. Hoyer ordered a search for William Corlies, a world war veteran and boarder at the Smith home, who was last seen on Tuesday. Examination indicated Mrs. Smith had been beaten to death about twenty-four hours before her body was found.

The Mills mystery was solved late last night when Mills shot and killed himself as authorities closed in on him at Lincroft. He used the same pistol with which he killed his estranged bride Tuesday night, police said.

FLORSHEIM FLAREWEDGE SHOES
FOR MEN WHOSE SHOES "RUN OVER!"
YOU GET THE EXTRA WEAR OF A SECOND PAIR
Florsheim has always believed that shoes are more than foot coverings! Each last and style represents our answer to a specific customer need. The Exclusive Florsheim Flarewedge principle, for example, was developed for men who run ordinary shoes over because they have "outflare" feet—normal feet needing more room on the outside. It is this policy of creating shoes our customers need, and building into them the extra wear of a second pair, that has built the largest fine shoe business in the world.

EUGENE O'NEILL RECEIVES NOBEL LITERATURE PRIZE

U. S. Professor Shares Award for Physics.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Eugene O'Neill, noted American dramatist, was awarded the Nobel prize in literature today.

Prof. Carl David Anderson of the California Institute of Technology shared the prize for physics with Prof. V. G. Hess of Innsbruck university, Austria.

Prof. Peter Debye of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute for Physics in Berlin was granted the chemistry prize for his studies of the structure of the molecule.

Prize Worth $45,000.

O'Neill—whose better known plays include "Ah, Wilderness!" "Strange Interlude," and "Mourning Becomes Electra"—became the second American to win the literature prize. Sinclair Lewis, novelist, received it in 1930. O'Neill will be given the prizes for 1935 and 1936, totaling about $45,000, as no award was made last year in literature.

Prof. Anderson and Prof. Hess will be given about $20,000 each.

The Nobel Foundation's managing board of directors, as is customary, did not cite any specific work by the winner of the literature prize.

Prof. Anderson's award was granted for his discovery in 1933 of positrons—positive electrons—by the bombardment of atoms with a high voltage current. Prof. Hess' prize was for his research in cosmic radiation.

King to Present Awards.

King Gustav will present the awards Dec. 10 at a ceremony in connection with the anniversary of the death of Alfred B. Nobel, Swedish discoverer of dynamite, who left the $9,000,000 fund from which the prizes are given.

O'Neill is considered by the Scandinavian public the world's leading playwright. "Mourning Becomes Electra," a trilogy, will be staged in connection with the Nobel festival.

The American dramatist, who is 48 years old, has won the Pulitzer prize for the drama three times, something no other has done. The Pulitzer awards in various fields were established in the will of Joseph Pulitzer, American publisher, who died in 1911.

O'Neill's latest play presented in New York was "Days Without End," which ran early in 1935.

"Wrote More Than 35 Plays."

Besides "Strange Interlude," "Ah, Wilderness!" and "Mourning Becomes Electra," the American playwright's other dramas—more than 35 in all—include "The Emperor Jones," "The Hairy Ape," "Desire Under the Elm," "Marco Millions," "Lazarus Laughed," and "Beyond the Horizon."

O'Neill lives with his third wife—the former actress, Carlotta Monterey—on an island off the coast of Georgia. He is now in Seattle, Wash., working on a series of eight plays of the far west in 1860.

O'Neill Expresses Pleasure.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Eugene O'Neill believes his play, "Mourning Becomes Electra," was the chief factor in his winning the 1936 Nobel prize for letters. But he obtained the greatest personal pleasure from writing "The Great God Brown" and "The Hairy Ape."

The famed playwright was outlining four years' work—an eight-play saga of American life—when he received word of the Nobel prize today.

"Naturally I'm very happy," he said. "I feel like a horse that has just been given a blue ribbon. I did not think an American would get the award so soon after Sinclair Lewis received it in 1930."

Gives Associates Credit.

Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Dr. Carl David Anderson, 31 year old physicist, tonight gave his associates major credit for the work which brought him a share of the Nobel award in physics. The academy of science at Stockholm, Sweden, announced the prize would go to Dr. Anderson and to Dr. V. F. Hess of Innsbruck university, Austria.

"It was no one man job," said the young bachelor of his discovery four years ago of one of the tiniest particles in nature, the positron or positive electron, a particle of the atom.

His associates in the work were Dr. Robert A. Millikan, Nobel laureate physicist, and Dr. S. H. Neddermyer.

Dr. Anderson distinguished himself in the study of cosmic rays. He photographed the strange behavior of the three billion volt invisible bullets of light several years ago following his photographic discovery of the positron.

Some theoretical physicists believed his pictures revealed actual creation of matter. Anderson replied that the cosmic radiation effects indicate the particles were actually coming out of the nucleus of the atom by collision and not creation of matter.

Granted Divorce and Support Money

MRS. DORIS BOKUM KING.

Charge Is Cruelty

Mrs. Doris B. King, 22 years old, 1242 Lake Shore drive, was granted a divorce on the ground of cruelty yesterday by Judge Walter P. Steffen in the Superior court from Newton C. King, 23 years old, an insurance salesman. She was awarded $100 a month for the support of her son, Calvin Putnam King II., 18 months old, and King was ordered to return $783 that his wife lent him. Mrs. King's father, Norris H. Bokum, is head of the insurance brokerage concern of Bokum & Dingle at 1 North La Salle street, where his son-in-law is employed. The Kings were married in St. Chrysostom's church on March 15, 1934, and separated last Oct. 10.

SALARIES OF N. U. FACULTY TO GO UP 10 PCT. ON JAN. 1

An increase of 10 per cent in salaries on Jan. 1 and the hope of another 10 per cent increase a year hence were announced for the staf of Northwestern university yesterday by President Walter Dill Scott. The personnel numbers about 1,100, including 401 full time and 348 part time members of the faculty.

"For more than three years," said President Scott, "our faculty members have had practically no advances despite the constantly increasing cost of living. A number have been offered positions in other universities at higher pay during the past year, but not one has left us. I'm glad we can reward them."

President Scott said the increase will be paid out of the $7,000,000 Roger Deering gift, the major portion of which will be turned over to the university within thirty days. In 1932 and again in 1933 the university salaries were cut 10 per cent.

Inheritance Taxes Fixed on Highland Park Estates

County Judge Perry L. Persons of Lake county approved appraisers' reports and fixed inheritance taxes yesterday on two estates of Highland Park residents. One was the estate of Herman Black, chairman of the board of the Evening American, who died Nov. 9, 1935, in his home at 1616 Dean avenue. The value of the estate was placed at $198,679, and the inheritance tax at $6,720. The other estate was that of Mrs. Ida C. Leavenworth, who died last July 4 in her home at 204 North Sheridan road. It was appraised at $89,729 and the tax was placed at $1,789.

BOY, 15, CAUGHT IN FIRE OF BANDIT CHASE; MAY DIE

Pursuer Is Also Wounded in Street Battle.

Carl Schmelzle, 15 years old, 1806 Monticello avenue, was shot and critically wounded yesterday when he walked into the path of gunfire between a robber and a beer truck driver after a holdup in front of 3758 Armitage avenue.

The victim of the holdup was Al Rogin, 1253 North Spaulding avenue, a driver for the West Side Distributing company, a beer concern at 4531 Adams street. He gave up $150 after the robber jumped into the cab of his truck.

Witness Pursues Robber.

A witness of the holdup was Frank Counihan, 1614 North Leclaire avenue, a driver for Shoen's Old Lager company, 4513 Armitage avenue. As he saw the gunman ride away with Rogin he dashed into the tavern at 3758 Armitage avenue and borrowed a pistol from Carter Clausen, 40 years old, 3928 Greenleaf avenue, Lincolnwood, a liquor salesman.

In Clausen's car Counihan pursued the robber who was riding in Rogin's truck. He overtook the truck in Hamlin avenue near Dickens street, where the robber jumped out and fired one shot, which struck Counihan in the shoulder. The wounded man fired three shots, one of which struck the Schmelzle boy in the abdomen.

Shot Retrieving Football.

The boy had been watching a football game in a vacant lot near by and was wounded when he ran into the line of fire to pick up the football which had been kicked out of bounds.

The robber ran into a nearby alley, where he held up Harold Rencke, 1725 North Kedzie avenue, and forced him to get out of his car. The bandit escaped in the automobile, a dark sedan.

The Schmelzle boy was taken to the County hospital. Physicians last night called for volunteers for a blood transfusion. Counihan was taken to the Danish-American hospital, where his condition was said to be not serious.

FLAMING DRESS BURNS ACTRESS AND PHYSICIAN

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Mrs. Louis L. Grant, former film actress known as Dorothy Clarke, and Dr. Charles Castlen, Glendale physician, were burned today when the woman's evening gown was ignited, apparently by a carelessly tossed lighted match.

Mrs. Grant was in the Ambassador hotel when the accident occurred. She fled screamiing through the hotel cocktail lounge, her dress flaming.

Dr. Castlen, who was nearby, pushed the former actress into a chair and beat out the flames with his dinner jacket. He received numerous burns in his rôle of rescuer, as did Mrs. Grant.

STUDENT IS INJURED; EXPULSION IS FACED BY WICHITA HAZERS

Wichita, Kas., Nov. 12.—(AP)—The threat of expulsion faced members of the "Purple gang" of Wichita university tonight as police and school officials investigated a hazing in which an 18 year old freshman was marked with a cross and suffered a broken nose.

Police said they had the names of nineteen alleged "Purple gangsters." They expect to question Harold Brill, brilliant university football full back, among others, they added.

Earl Tipton, the freshman, had a broken nose and a purple cross, drawn with indelible ink, on his forehead when he returned home from the hazing last night.

He said hooded members of the gang seized him, severely beat him, took him outside the city to mark him with the cross and cut his hair, then returned him, bleeding, to his home.

Dean Frank A. Neff said he would investigate and that expulsions may follow.

John Phillips of Oil Family Reported Gravely Ill Here

John Phillips, 38 years old, of Houston, Tex., son of Frank Phillips, president of the Phillips Petroleum company, was reported in a critical condition in St. Luke's hospital last night following a hemorrhage of the stomach suffered earlier in the day in his room at the Stevens hotel. Mr. Phillips was given a blood transfusion during the day. He and his father had been attending a convention of the American Petroleum institute at the hotel. Mrs. Frank Phillips hurried here by plane from Bartlesville, Okla., to be at her son's side.

'PUMPERNICKEL KING' IS FOUND SLAIN IN N. Y.

New York, Nov. 12.—[Special.]—The battered body of Morris Erde, diminutive and elderly baker known to thousands of east siders as the "Pumpernickel King," was discovered today propped grotesquely against the wall of a courtyard on Columbia street.

Until his body was found, Erde had been the object of a city-wide search, having been missing since Sunday. When found, his head and shoulders were encased in a grimy potato sack, the head having been battered with a club.

Although Erde obviously had been dead for several days the murderer added a touch of mystery to the case by returning to a cellar, where the police are certain the murder took place, and dragging the body through a cellar corridor, a distance of sixty feet, to the courtyard, were Michael Bowan, janitor of the building, reported that he found it shortly before dawn today. Bowan was arrested tonight.

WRIT TO RELEASE KREUTZER FROM PRISON SOUGHT

A habeas corpus petition was filed yesterday in Circuit court in Waukegan for the release from Joliet penitentiary of Armin L. Kreutzer, 48 years old, former Milwaukee veterinarian, serving a sentence of one to fourteen years for manslaughter for the abortion death of Mrs. Anna Balis of Cudahy, Wis. He was sentenced by Judge Edward Shurtleff in the Waukegan court in May, 1933, and the sentence was upheld by the Supreme court. The petition to free Kreutzer, filed by Attorney A. L. Gettys, alleges that the Lake county court had no jurisdiction because Mrs. Balis died in a Milwaukee hospital.

POLICE OF RUSSIA JAIL GERMANS AS REBEL PLOTTERS

Mass Arrests Reported in Moscow, Leningrad.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Nov. 12.—Relations between Germany and Russia have been seriously affected by mass arrests of Germans and their scheduled trial, which is being prepared by Commissar of Interior Jeshov. He recently succeeded G. G. Yagoda as head of the organization which comprises the former OGPU [secret police].

Mass arrests were made among the German colonies of Leningrad and Moscow. The prisoners are charged with plotting with the Gestapo [German secret police] for the overthrow of the soviet government. Most of the prisoners, according to reliable information, are persons of German parentage who have lived in Russia all their lives and were born either in old St. Petersburg or the former Baltic provinces.

Unable to Intervene.

Frantic relatives of these soviet citizens have been informed by the German diplomatic representatives in Moscow and Leningrad of Germany's inability to intervene in their behalf, although preparations are being made to protect German citizens who are reported to be under arrest on serious charges.

News of the mass arrests confirmed the disquieting news received by relatives living in Baltic states. The Leningrad German colony numbers more than 20,000 members. There are more than 8,000 Germans in the Moscow colony.

The craving of soviet citizens of German nationality for news of developments in Germany under the Nazi régime led to discovery of the alleged plot by the GPU. Their friends and relatives abroad began to smuggle them Nazi literature and travelers of German nationality proved willing helpers. The first successes encouraged visitors who began to carry increasingly large quantities of Nazi literature, most anti-Semitic pamphlets.

Suppress Anti-Semitism.

This was considered an extremely serious offense by the bolsheviks, who suppress anti-Semitism in Russia with unusual severity. Since the advent of Naziism in Germany the soviet press never once has mentioned that the Nazi party is anti-Semitic or that Jews are persecuted in Germany.

Renewed persecutions of Germans in Russia, which began when the soviet government inaugurated its policy of extermination against German peasant colonies along the Volga ten years ago, will develop an added strain to Russo-German relations, according to German official circles who are making daily reports to Berlin.

German diplomats express intense concern for the fate of German citizens who are now undergoing the GPU third degree which seldom fails to produce complete confessions. Examinations of prisoners are chiefly being conducted in the notorious Lubianka prison in Moscow and the Gorokavaija prison in Leningrad.

The soviet government has intensified its radio war against Germany. German speakers broadcast from the Moscow comintern [Communist Internationale] station each night. Their voices tremble with rage over what they call the latest Nazi plot against the soviet government. The speakers promise their "comrades" in Germany they soon will be saved from persecution of their Nazi oppressors. The soviet press campaign against Germany also is reaching new heights of invective in inciting public feeling for the approaching trial.

German Pastor Jailed.

MOSCOW, Nov. 12.—(AP)—A Russian born German Lutheran clergyman was one of a dozen persons jailed Wednesday in an alleged anti-soviet plot, reliable sources said tonight. The pastor, the Rev. Mr. Streck, was to have performed a wedding for George Minor, American vice consul, and Mildred Wright, both of Charleston, W. Va.

The pastor suddenly became "unavailable," and responsible sources said he was in jail.

The German embassy said nothing had been heard from Streck for several days. The German officials said they were powerless to act since the pastor was a native Russian, although of German parentage.

Press War on Religion.

Meanwhile firmer measures against religion were approved at a communist party conference at Yaroslavl, north of Moscow.

The conferees heard allegations that peasants, under the influence of priests, caused a loss of 35 per cent of Russia's crops for 1936 because of their attendance at church.

The conference decided to increase anti-religious propaganda, to organize councils of militant "godless" persons in all districts and to open anti-religious schools immediately to educate youths.

FIRE VICTIMS

Two employés of the Chicago Cork Works company, 2600 North Pulaski road, were severely burned yesterday when they attempted to rescue "Corky," a pet fox terrier, from a fire among the cork bales in the storage yard of the plant. The smoke and flames, however, prevented them from reaching the dog which was tied on a leash and the animal was suffocated. The workers are Kenneth Karnuth, 18 years old, 3022 Knox avenue, and Elmer Kipple, 21 years old, of Forest Park. The dog was the pet of the employés. The smoke also forced some 200 women workers to leave the nearby factory building. Company officials estimated the damage at $25,000.

LANDON CONFERS WITH HAMILTON ON G. O. P. FUTURE

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, defeated Republican presidential nominee, and John Hamilton, national chairman met today—the first time since election—to lay groundwork for their party's future.

They met in a hotel lobby and shook hands heartily. Hamilton came from Chicago by airplane and Landon by train from Topeka.

Before they retired to a hotel room to confer Hamilton discussed plans to retain a working organization in party headquarters at Washington, adding: "We need that."

"This last campaign has demonstrated that you can't build an effective organization in just four months," Landon said. "That's about what we're going to discuss."

The national chairman pointed to "three things" the Republican party can do.

"First, we must see that the Republican point of view is fairly presented.

"Second, we must keep contact with Republican office holders, particularly those in congress.

"Third, we must keep in contact with field workers."

LIBERTY LEAGUE WILL CONTINUE, SHOUSE ASSERTS

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Jouett Shouse, president of the American Liberty league, said today leaders of the league had no intention of disbanding or restricting their activities.

Shouse said the opening of the next congress would find the league as active as it was at the last session.

"It is true," he said, "that we have reduced our staf in Washington, but the reduction was made because there was no need for a large staf when congress was not in session. We started cutting the staf during the summer."

Shouse was here to attend a monthly meeting of the Liberty league board—the first meeting since the election.

The league, as an organization, took no active part in the campaign, but many of its leaders gave their individual support to Gov. Alf M. Landon. Among these were Alfred E. Smith and John W. Davis, former Democratic candidates for President, and members of the du Pont family.

A. B. CORBETT IS GIVEN FIVE YEARS FOR BOND FRAUD

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Judge Albert L. Reeves imposed the maximum sentence of five years today on Amos B. Corbett, Chicago, convicted Tuesday by a federal jury of mail fraud charges. Sentence will be served in Leavenworth federal prison.

Corbett's attorney filed notice of appeal. A request for bond pending the appeal was denied.

Corbett, former president of the Kaw Oil and Gas company, was accused of having caused coupons from forged Omaha municipal bonds sent through the mails to the Omaha city treasurer for collection.

Judge Reeves, in imposing sentence, said:

"I see no reason to extend leniency. It is common knowledge that these forged bonds were being circulated in Kansas City by gangsters, cut-throats, and murderers. The persons who handled the bonds were of the worst element."

Lake County Bar Votes Free Legal Aid to Needy

The board of governors of the Lake County Bar association, at a meeting in Waukegan last night, voted to give free legal assistance to qualified poor people seeking advice. This aid has heretofore been given by the state's attorney's office. The burden has become too great recently for that office, it was explained. The bar association also took steps, according to President Minard E. Hulse, to end ambulance chasing in Lake county by certain Cook county lawyers. Disbarment of one of the lawyers is to be sought.

Dancer Objects to Mate's Orders to Perform; Sues

Mrs. Evelyn Yvette Davis, 22 years old, 616 Rush street, a dancer, sued in the Superior court yesterday to divorce her husband, Robert, of Louisville, Ky., on a charge of cruelty. Mrs. Davis, who is appearing in a Chicago theater, alleged that her husband compelled her to dance in "undignified places" and charged that during a quarrel last Oct. 11 he bit her fing

CHURCHILL FLAYS BALDWIN; CALLS DEFENSE FEEBLE

Points to Vast Size of the German Army.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A wordy duel was fought between Winston Churchill and Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin on the floor of the house of commons tonight in the final stage of the two days' debate on the government's rearmament schemes.

Churchill flayed the government as "undecided, irresolute, and impotent," and demanded a parliamentary inquiry into the defense situation.

The Conservative leader seized on German rearmament to belabor Baldwin and his cabinet. He said his warnings of two years ago were substantiated, adding that the prime minister was forced to admit he had been misinformed by his advisers. He said the Germany army today comprised 39 divisions of well equipped and highly mechanized troops.

Says Army Lacks Weapons.

Alleging that Great Britain's air program is greatly behind schedule and that the army lacks almost every weapon needed for the latest form of warfare, Churchill said that "during 1937 the German army will become much more numerous than the French, and the German air force will continue to improve the long lead it has over us."

Germany, he said, has 1,500 first line planes comprising 130 or 140 squadrons including auxiliaries. He contrasted this with Britain's home defense force of 80 squadrons including 16 auxiliaries.

Churchill's arraignment brought a vigorous retort from Baldwin. The prime minister said Britain's rearmament program is well launched and generally is working satisfactorily.

Describes Plans for War.

Baldwin gave an account of the preparations for a concerted scheme of national defense. The war organization is much more effective than in 1914, he said.

Schemes for distribution of man power have been worked out and a partial solution reached on the problem of food supplies, Baldwin added. He said a rationing plan and methods of increasing agricultural production in wartime have been decided upon.

Baldwin wound up his argument with the assurance the government will speed up rearmament.

"There can be no peace in Europe unless every country knows we are prepared for war," he said.

The debate on rearmament was based on an opposition amendment criticizing the cabinet's reply to an address from the throne for ignoring recommendations of the royal commission that the government should control the munitions industry. The amendment was defeated by a vote of 337 to 131.

NEW ENVOY SEES U. S. TRADE WITH POLES IMPROVED

Count Potocki Speaks at Luncheon Here.

Continued betterment of trade between the United States and Poland was predicted yesterday by Count George Potocki, the new Polish ambassador to Washington, at a luncheon in the Palmer house sponsored by the foreign commerce committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce. C. L. Rice, president of the association, and Mayor Kelly welcomed the distinguished guest and said Chicago should benefit from the trade.

Ship Line Called Factor.

"The recent establishment of a direct motorship line between the two nations augurs well for better trade," said Count Potocki. "All we need is the assurance that the trend toward liberalism in economics, with lowering of artificial barriers, will become general.

"Economic prosperity and world peace go hand in hand. The essential foundation for both is flourishing international trade conceived in terms of mutual advantage."

Asked later what products figured chiefly in the increased Polish exports to the United States, the count replied smilingly: "Ham, canned ham."

Tours the City.

In the morning the ambassador continued his tour of city points of interest which he began shortly after his arrival here on Wednesday. He visited Chinatown in the vicinity of Wentworth avenue and 22d street, the colored district on the south side, the Maxwell street market district, and the county hospital. He was much impressed by the medical care given to persons unable to pay, he said. He went to the Field museum in the afternoon.

BRITAIN PLANS STORK DERBY FOR NEXT WAR

Wants Babies to Insure Nation's Defenses.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Following the lead of Premier Mussolini in Italy and Reichsfuehrer Hitler in Germany, Great Britain is preparing a big propaganda drive to increase its birth rate to insure "maintenance of the nation's defense forces."

Signs of concern over the falling birth rate have been increasingly evident here for months past. Now, it is said, the cabinet is considering an appeal to childless couples and those with only one or two children to consider the national interest and make propagation a matter of patriotism.

Warned by Biologists.

Biologists and statisticians told the government long ago that unless the birth rate is substantially increased there will be a sharp drop in British population in about 10 years.

Some members of the cabinet are reported to be in favor of increasing income tax exemptions for those with large families. This is considered to be impossible by most ministers because of the disastrous effect it might have on the budget at a time when Britain is spending every available penny for arms and relief.

Frequent articles have been published during the past year telling of the disasters that may be expected unless the birth rate is increased. Prof. D. V. Glass of the London school of economics and Dr. Alfred Salter, member of parliament, both were quoted recently as predicting that Britain's population will drop within a century from the present 48 millions to only 6 millions. Prof. Glass predicted a drop to 36 millions within 40 years.

4 Babies Considered Minimum.

Four children for each married couple is considered the minimum. Otherwise, Prof. Glass said, "a vast industrial depression will follow. The economic fabric of the nation will collapse in ruins. The population will dwindle to a mere 6 million sterile old men and women."

Cotton manufacturers already are complaining of the shortage of child labor. Shipbuilders say it is impossible to get apprentices. Australia is issuing an appeal to boys and girls to emigrate there for farm and domestic work.

Oxford and Cambridge universities saw the first effects of the war slump of births this year when the smallest classes since the war were matriculated.

Remedy Is Suggested.

For the problem as a whole—the problem of having enough men to man Britain's factories and guns—Dr. Salter suggested "immediate and drastic improvement in housing conditions and greater stability in industry and international relations."

But those reforms will take too long and cost too much, and the cabinet is racking its brains to find some way of boosting the birth rate at the earliest possible moment to make sure that the future will not find Britain a nation of old men and women unable to carry on the race or defend the country.

Free Gas Masks for Britain.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Britain "very shortly" will be producing free gas masks for civilians at a rate of two million monthly, Geoffrey Lloyd, undersecretary of the home office, told the house of commons today.

"Substantial stocks of the component parts of civilian respirators have already been produced, and they are expected to be on large-scale assembly by next March," he said.

The masks, he said, will be issued free "in event of an emergency."

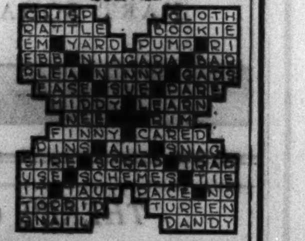
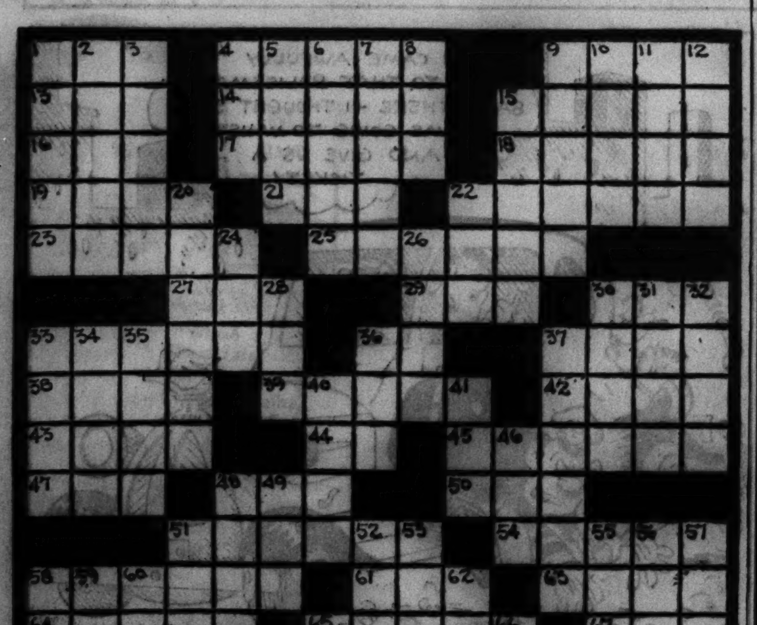
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





FIGHT LAUNCHED TO END PAROLE BOARD SECRECY

Kelly's Spokesman Plans Bill for Legislature.

State Representative Thomas Sinnett of Rock Island, Roy Best, warden of the Colorado state prison at Canyon City, and Charles H. Schweppe, president of the board of trustees of St. Luke's hospital.

The Rev. Mr. Bradley declared his personal opinion is that full publicity should be given to all actions of the parole board and that he will vote to that effect if the commission ballots on the matter preparatory to making its recommendations.

The investigating commission was appointed by Gov. Horner last February as the result of aroused public sentiment throughout the state following the murder at the Stateville penitentiary of Richard Loeb, one of the slayers of Bobby Franks. In its inquiries the commission heard many stories of laxity and favoritism in prison administration in several of the penal institutions of the state.

This material has been recorded and will be used by the commission in the preparation of its report. A general outline of the report was discussed by the members yesterday and it is expected to be ready for submission to the governor not later than January.

Bishop Schlarman declared that the commission's report "will not be a whitewash."

"This will be an honest report," he said.

GETS PROBATION IN DRIVE AGAINST MEDICAL QUACKS

Norman F. Allemeier, 40 years old, 6859 Wentworth avenue, was fined $250 and given a year's probation on a sixty day jail sentence yesterday by Judge Albert E. Isley of Newton, sitting in the County court here, on a charge of practicing medicine without a license.

After his lawyer pleaded for leniency on the ground that Allemeier's friends have offered to help finance him in completing medical courses, Judge Isley ordered an investigation into the defendant's record and continued a motion for a new trial until Thursday.

Allemeier was one of twelve persons arrested in a drive against quacks, and the seventh convicted.

Jones Defends Parole of Six State Convicts

In response to a telegram from THE TRIBUNE on Wednesday, W. C. Jones, chairman of the state board of pardons and paroles, sent a statement yesterday from his Springfield office explaining why the board granted freedom to six convicts. The statement gave summaries of the cases and revealed the bases of the parole board's decisions at its secret sessions.

The six convicts, whose parole Jones was requested to explain, are David Carlson, a gunman, who was serving his third prison term for the robbery of a Winnetka home; Louis Vine and two brothers, Edward and Fred Sass, leaders of gangs of automobile thieves, and Walter Labushevicz and Fred Bessenhofer, members of a band of six gunmen who had kidnaped and assaulted many of their victims.

Threat to Kill Victim.

Carlson and two other bandits broke into the home of Henry C. Bartholomay, 620 Spruce street, Winnetka, in July, 1928, and tied up Bartholomay and his wife and child while they ransacked the house for jewelry. Bartholomay said Carlson threatened to kill him if he was ever released. Carlson was sentenced to one year to life, but was paroled Oct. 31 without Bartholomay learning of it.

Discussing this case, Chairman Jones told of Carlson's long criminal record and of the ex-convict's unsuccessful applications for parole in 1929 and 1932. Another application was refused in January, 1935.

"The records indicate," Jones said, "that this prisoner's conduct was such he earned all the good time possible and his name automatically appeared on the out list and was presented to the present board. A new mental health report was obtained and it was favorable.

General Health Poor.

"It was pointed out he had adjusted himself in the outside world for ten years after his release from Joliet on his former term and that further delinquency was not very probable. It was reported his general health had been poor. The report of the sociologist and actuary showed his family to be destitute and that a daughter was in the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium. It was also reported he had an offer of a job in Chicago which would enable him to care for his family and afford medical aid for himself.

"In accordance with the practice of many years to recognize settings given prisoners by previous boards, the out list was approved by the present board. He was released on parole only after the division of supervision of parolees, which now has jurisdiction over this parolee, had investigated the home conditions and had approved of his sponsor and employer."

Two of the other paroled convicts, Walter Labushevicz and Fred Bessenhofer, both 20 years old, were released from Pontiac reformatory, where they were serving one year to life sentences for robbery. Labushevicz was paroled in August and Bessenhofer in April after they had served little more than a year of their terms.

"Labushevicz and Bessenhofer are first offenders," Mr. Jones said, "whose entire criminal career was crowded into one night. Bessenhofer's brothers, Frank and George, and their associate, Robert Beebee, were engaged in many more crimes and some of them were marked by violence. Frank and George and Beebee, convicted at the same time, are still in prison.

"There was a decided difference between the crimes and criminal careers of Fred Bessenhofer and Labushevicz and their associates. No one has contended Bessenhofer participated in any case in which violence was used.

Prospects for Future.

"He is a cripple and appeared before the subcommittee of the parole board walking with crutches. He had an excellent conduct record in Pontiac and learned to make various novelty articles. It is reported in addition to working for his sponsor now he expects to manufacture these novelties and attempt to sell them.

"Labushevicz attended commercial school while incarcerated. At the time of his parole hearing, his former employer wrote a letter stating the boy had been a steady worker and he was willing to reëmploy him. No one protested the release of these prisoners at the parole hearings."

Vines and the Sass brothers were sentenced early last year to one to twenty years in the penitentiary as leaders of automobile theft rings. Vines was paroled Aug. 1, Fred Sass on July 21, and Edward on June 16.

No Protests at Hearings.

"In the case of Fred Sass," Jones said, "no protests were made at the parole hearing by the trial judge or the state's attorney. The complaining witness, in response to her notice, wrote a letter to the board stating: "I leave it entirely up to you. If you think he is eligible for parole, it is perfectly all right with me.' It was reported employment was awaiting him at the time of his hearing. His conduct record in prison was good.

"Edward Sass is a first offender. No protests were made against his parole. The board took all these things into consideration and it was believed the brothers' chances of making a satisfactory adjustment on the outside were good.

"Vines had no previous criminal record. The trial judge and state's attorney said they recognized his willingness to aid the state at his trial and that of three of his associates, who pleaded guilty are in Joliet.

"The state's attorney and trial judge said they had no objection to parole for him. Letters from former employés attested to his good character and his conduct record in prison was favorable."

In concluding, Mr. Jones said: "None of the orders entered in these cases were the result of conclusions hastily arrived at, but were entered only after careful consideration of all matters that in any way bear upon the question of public welfare as well as that of the prisoner."

In Chicago yesterday, John Landesco, criminologist and member of the parole board, joined the chairman in a similar defense of the board's actions. In the cases of Labushevicz and Bessenhofer, Landesco said he recommended parole and the board concurred.

PAROLED CONVICT AND PAL POINTED OUT AS ROBBERS

Nicholas Barta, 29 years old, a paroled convict, and George Green, 19, both of 920 Wilson avenue, were held for a series of showups yesterday after they were identified by a taxicab driver they had robbed earlier in the day.

The cab driver is Henry Bock, 1926 Larrabee street, who told the police that the men took $6 from him in an alley near Wilson and Hazel avenues.

Police records show that Barta was sentenced by Judge John Prystalski in the Criminal court in February, 1933, to serve one to ten years in the Pontiac reformatory for larceny. He was paroled on Aug. 31, 1935, to Saul Plast, 4943 Sheridan road, listed on the record as a manager of hotel properties.

Relief in Proviso Township Halts Tomorrow; No Funds

All relief will be halted in Proviso township tomorrow afternoon because of lack of funds, it was announced yesterday by John G. Carson of Melrose Park, township supervisor, who under recent relief legislation is responsible for relief in his district. There are 429 families, comprised of about 1,500 persons, on Proviso relief rolls. Voters of the township refused on three occasions to approve a levy of 30 cents per $100 of assessed property valuation for relief purposes. As a result, the township was no longer eligible for a share of the monthly $3,000,000 state relief funds.

LITERARY DIGEST REJECTS ALIBIS FOR POLL RESULT

Doesn't Know; Says Even Roosevelt Was Off.

New York, Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Admitting that its miscalculation of the presidential election has it "guessing" along with almost every one else, the Literary Digest explained in a statement today the methods used in conducting its national poll and the premises upon which those methods were based.

The release indicated that one possible reason for the wide error of its poll was that many persons who supported Gov. Alf M. Landon in the poll apparently didn't vote for him in the election. Chicago was one of the cities in which this situation was stressed by the magazine.

Concerning some of the suggested explanations for its error which have poured in, the Digest said that such reasons as "the poll didn't reach the lower strata," "too many Republicans were sampled," and "the poll was too big," explain nothing and merely add to the multiplicity of confusion and words.

Will Back President.

As for the immediate future, the Digest said, it feels that in truth "the nation has spoken," and that, while it does not editorialize, its editors and its readers, as American citizens, will stand back of the President.

In answer to the question of whether the Digest will conduct another poll, it said:

"Should the Democratic party have quit in 1924, when it reached a modern low ebb in power and confidence, instead of going on to the greatest triumph in its history? Should the Republican party have quit in 1912, when it carried only two states? Should the University of Minnesota, with the greatest record in modern football, give up the sport because it finally lost one game, after a string of 21 victories?"

As to whether the magazine will change its methods in another poll, the reply was: "We'll cross that bridge when we come to it."

Conducted as Usual.

"We conducted our poll as we always have done, reported what we found, and have no alibis," the statement said. "We drew no special satisfaction from our figures, and we drew no conclusions from them. The result was disappointing only in the sense that it threw our figures out the window and left us without even the satisfaction of knowing why."

It pointed out that after its successes in the 1920, 1924, 1928, and 1932 polls, newspapers and individuals heaped on the magazine such phrases as "uncannily accurate" and "amazingly right," and that Jim Farley said "no sane person could escape the implication of sampling so fairly and correctly conducted."

"Well, this year we used precisely the same method that had scored four bull's-eyes in four previous tries," The Digest said, "and we were far from correct. Why? We ask that question in all sincerity, because we want to know.

Discusses One of Alibis.

"One of the most often heard of the 'obvious reasons' runs something like this: 'This election was different; party lines were obliterated. For the first time in more than a century all the 'have-nots' were on one side. The Digest, polling names from telephone books and lists of automobile owners, simply did not reach the lower strata.'

"Well, in the first place, the 'have-nots' did not reëlect Mr. Roosevelt. That they contributed to his astonishing plurality no one can doubt. But the fact remains that a majority of farmers, doctors, grocers, and candlestick makers also voted for the President.

"Besides we did reach these so-called 'have-not' strata. In the city of Chicago, for example, we polled every third registered voter. In Scranton, Pa., we polled every other registered voter, and in Allentown, Pa., and other cities we polled every registered voter."

Results Off Even Then.

Even in the cities where every voter was polled the Digest didn't get the right answer and were as badly off there as on the national total. In Allentown samplers returned ballots showing a division of 53.32 per cent to 44.67 per cent in favor of Gov. Landon, but in the election it was 56.93 per cent for Roosevelt and 41.17 per cent for Landon.

"In Chicago," the statement continued, "the 100,929 voters who returned ballots to us showed a division of 48.63 per cent to 47.56 per cent in favor of Mr. Landon. The 1,672,175 who voted in the actual election gave the President 65.24 per cent to 32.26 per cent for the Republican candidate.

"What happened? Why did only one in five voters in Chicago to whom The Digest sent ballots take the trouble to reply? And why was there a preponderance of Republicans in the one-fifth that did reply? Your guess is as good as ours."

"There is a spot of comfort for us," The Digest said, "in the knowledge that even the President was pretty badly off on his electoral total, and that he 'laughed it off' in his genial way. His last guess was 360 votes to Mr. Landon's 171 and on June 5 he estimated his margin at 315 to 216."

Always More Republicans.

The magazine said it always has got too big a sampling of Republican voters; even in 1932 when it overestimated the Roosevelt popular vote by three-quarters of one per cent. In 1928 it overestimated the Republican vote in Chicago by 5 per cent.

"We wondered then, as we had wondered before and have wondered since," the release said, "why we were getting better coöperation from Republicans in what we have always regarded as a public service than we were getting from Democrats. Do Republicans live nearer mail boxes? Do Democrats generally disapprove of straw polls? We don't know that answer.

"This year The Digest sent out 10 million ballots without knowing, of course, what proportion went to persons who voted for Roosevelt or Hoover in 1932 because the poll is conducted with the strictest secrecy.

Ballots to Roosevelt Friends.

"However, since the basis of the 1936 mailing list was the 1932 mailing list, and since the overwhelming majority of those who responded to our poll in 1932 voted for Mr. Roosevelt," the release said, "it seems altogether reasonable to assume that the majority of our ballots this year went to people who had voted for Mr. Roosevelt in 1932."

It pointed out that The Digest couldn't send letters to indifferent Democrats prodding them into action, since they didn't know which were which. The magazine invited any one to tell it how to get voters to respond proportionately and still keep the poll secret.

SEES OPPOSITION TO ROOSEVELT IN DEMOCRAT PARTY

Rival Blocs in Congress, Says A.P. Manager.

President Roosevelt will not have much Republican opposition in the next congress, but he may meet considerable resistance from within his own party. This forecast was made by Byron Price, head of the Washington bureau of the Associated Press, yesterday in an address before a meeting of managing editors of Associated Press newspapers in the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Rivalry in politics is not ended, Price said, in spite of the election landslide. Already, he asserted, blocs are developing in the Democratic party, looking toward leadership of the party in 1940, "when Roosevelt presumably will vacate."

Sees Prolonged Conflict.

John Evans, chief of the Associated Press foreign service, discussed the critical situation in Europe and the danger of another world war.

"Even if the Fascists capture Madrid, which now seems likely," he said, "the conflict in Spain will not be ended. That conflict is symbolic of the situation in all Europe. It seems possible that Russia and France might go to the aid of the present government of Spain. In that case what would Germany and Italy do?"

England's Position Weakened.

In the past, Evans said, the peace of Europe was maintained by Great Britain, which acted as an unofficial dictator. Since the conquest of Ethiopia by Italy, when Great Britain misjudged Mussolini's power and intentions, England has lost face, Evans declared, and may no longer be able to maintain the balance of power.

The editors attended a banquet last night at which all speechmaking was informal. The business sessions of the meeting will close today.

Waukegan Policeman Sues Farmer for Huge Damages

Leonard Duncan, a Waukegan motorcycle policeman filed suit yesterday in the Circuit court in Waukegan for $25,000 damages from John Wilcox of Antioch, a farmer. Duncan was seriously injured on Oct. 19 in a collision between his motorcycle and Wilcox's car in Waukegan. Wilcox is 87 years old.

ROCKEFELLER JR. LAUDS FARLEY'S VICTORY SPEECH

Democratic Chief Calls Letter Inspiration.

New York, Nov. 12.—[Special.]—James A. Farley's radio address after midnight of election day was, in the opinion of John D. Rockefeller Jr., one of the "most statesmanlike utterances made on either side during the entire campaign."

Rockefeller, who contributed to Gov. Alf M. Landon's campaign, made this known in a letter to Farley, written as "one citizen to another," and made public today at national Democratic headquarters.

One Citizen to Another.

The letter, dated Nov. 7, follows:

"As one citizen to another I want to give myself the satisfaction of telling you that I think the radio talk which you made after midnight on election night, as reported in the Sun, was one of the most statesmanlike utterances made on either side during the entire campaign.

"Such words as these: 'We may look forward to four years of uninterrupted effort to accomplish the completion of economic recovery, of industrial welfare, and of permanent establishment of real liberty in the United States,' and 'no American need have any fear of the future'; 'Franklin D. Roosevelt's mission is to see that all of us have a square deal,' and, 'I know that all who hear these words will join me in the hope the scars of this great political battle will soon be healed.'

Inspires Confidence.

"Such words as these, I say, coming from you, will go a long way toward inspiring confidence and bringing about the coöperation of all citizens, irrespective of party, in dealing with the many problems so vital to our national life that confront us as a people. Your statement exemplifies the finest kind of sportsmanship. I congratulate you on it."

Farley replied:

"Your letter of Nov 7, addressed to me in Washington, has just come to my attention this morning. I do not know of any letter I have received since election that gave me greater pleasure than yours. It was very kind and generous of you to write me and I am indeed grateful.

Seeks Permission to Publish.

"I called your office this morning in the hope I might secure your permission to make your letter public before leaving on the Normandie this afternoon, because I feel that your letter would have a helpful effect on the country. I am going to have my secretary keep in touch with your office during my absence.

"When I return from my vacation I hope to have the pleasure of talking to you on the telephone and personally expressing my thanks to you."

Refuses Plastic Surgeon's Plea to Halt License Quiz

Judge Walter T. Stanton in the Superior court yesterday refused to grant an injunction sought by Dr. Jean Paul Fernel, 677 North Michigan avenue, a plastic surgeon, to restrain the state department of education and registration from proceeding with a license revocation hearing against him. The ruling was made on the recommendation of Master in Chancery Samuel C. Horwitz, who conducted hearings on Dr. Fernel's petition.

BEAUTY SLAIN IN KENTUCKY; GENERAL HELD

Arrest Stops Inquest as He Refuses Testimony.

life last year after Gov. Ruby Laffoon pardoned him without trial on indictments for criminal contempt of court growing out of his leading National Guardsmen into Harlan county at election time. He has been living on his farm near here several months.

Stormy Political Career.

Denhardt, who was divorced three years ago by his wife, the former Elizabeth Glaze of Scottsville, had a stormy political career. After his retirement from the office of adjutant general he was shot and critically wounded at Bowling Green in a fight with a political opponent.

The Harlan county grand jury indicted him in 1935 after he had led troops into the county to supervise the primary election in violation of a temporary order issued by Circuit Judge James M. Gilbert.

He led another military expedition into the same county to investigate labor conditions in the coal fields there and was in frequent conflict with Sherif Theodore Middleton, outspoken critic of Denhardt and the Laffoon administration. As adjutant general he also supervised an investigation in Clay county, where National Guardsmen and state police went to probe an alleged automobile theft ring. Denhardt recommended impeachment of several Clay county officials.

Gen. Denhardt was taken from the courtroom on the second floor to Judge Morgan's office downstairs, where Sherif Harrod read the warant.

Dr. McCormack said Denhardt had given him his version of the events leading up to the widow's death several days ago. Denhardt said he and Mrs. Taylor had gone for a ride in an effort to ease Mrs. Taylor's headache.

Here's General's Story.

According to the story told Dr. McCormack by Gen. Denhardt they stopped on the highway because the battery failed. He said he had telephoned for another battery, and while they were waiting for it Mrs. Taylor decided to walk down the road to look for the glove. Dr. McCormack said Denhardt told him she must have taken the gun from its usual place in the compartment of the rear seat. The general said he believed she had committed suicide because of the opposition of her two daughters to their forthcoming marriage, which had been set for ten days later.

Before Mrs. Taylor disappeared George R. Baker, a farmer, who happened by, said he assisted Denhardt in pushing the auto into the driveway of Baker's home. Meanwhile J. B. Hundley, La Grange barber, drove up in his car and offered to drive to La Grange and get a mechanic and a battery for Denhardt's machine.

Farmer Hears Two Shots.

Shortly before Hundley's return with C. E. Shaver, mechanic, Baker said he heard a shot fired while he was in his house. He started to investigate, and as he walked from his home to Denhardt's car he heard a second shot, he said. Baker said he found Denhardt standing at the rear of the machine and that he commented on the second shot. He said Denhardt explained the absence of Mrs. Taylor by saying that she had gone up the road to "look for a glove."

As the two men discussed the shots Hundley and Shaver appeared. The four men walked up the road, Baker said, but did not find Mrs. Taylor, and returned to the parked car to obtain flashlights. On their second trip up the road Hundley stumbled upon the lifeless form of Mrs. Taylor. She had been shot through the heart and Gen. Denhardt's gun was lying near by.

Both Families Approve.

A sister of Denhardt said that both families had approved of the match with the exception of the two daughters, 22 and 17 years old. She also suggested that distress over this situation had caused Mrs. Taylor to end her life.

After the inquest and preliminary hearing today, Denhardt snapped:

"If they had let me testify I'd have told them who killed her."

As important a witness as Denhardt, Sergt. John I. Messmer, chief of Louisville's crime laboratory, who was called in by the coroner to conduct a scientific investigation and make a paraffin test of the hands of Mrs. Taylor and Denhardt and perform ballistics tests on the revolver, was not called as a witness, although he was in the room.

Widow of Slain Policeman at Rites

Shot in Tavern

Funeral services for Policeman Michael Toth, 32 years old, 2042 West 50th place, who was fatally wounded by two gunmen Sunday, were held yesterday at St. Cyril Catholic church, 50th street and Hermitage avenue. Burial was held at Resurrection cemetery.

Policeman Toth was shot by the gunmen when he and Policeman Thomas Bourke attempted to arrest them in a tavern at 4830 South Wood street. Informed over the department radio that there was a disturbance in the place, the policemen entered the tavern not knowing they were to encounter two men with guns.

The two assailants fled after shooting Toth and disarming Bourke. Mrs. Margaret Toth, the policeman's widow, who gave a pint of blood in a transfusion several hours after the shooting in an effort to save her husband's life, attended the funeral yesterday with her son Robert, 2½ years old. She is also the mother of Kenneth, two months old.

2 Gunmen Beat and Rob Business Agent of $300

Joseph Crispino, 36 years old, 3044 Marquette road, a business agent for the United Garment Workers of America, was robbed of $300 yesterday by two gunmen who forced their way into his automobile when he stopped for a trafic light at Ashland avenue and Taylor street. They beat Crispino over the head with a pistol, took a brief case containing the money, collections of union dues, and escaped.

WALLY DINED BY QUEEN AS FEUD ROCKS PALACE

Courtiers Clash Over King's Friendship.

old man, and were he to die suddenly on the eve of the coronation the ceremony might well be postponed.

"This factor might account for a slightly higher rate than usual, but certainly does not explain the present rate nor the special rate of eight per cent, which on this occasion, for the first time, is being quoted against postponement for causes other than the death of a member of the royal family, the king's illness, or war.

"There are, therefore, excluded all but one of other than the most remote reasons for the postponement, and that one remaining possibility is abdication.

Branded as Suckers.

"The idea behind the rate is that the king will insist on marrying Mrs. Simpson and that the opposition of the bishops to such non-conformity and of the Conservative party generally will force him from the throne.

"The rate, of course, does not mean there is a 12 to 1 chance of the king's abdication before the next year or even, in that contingency, that the brokers think these are the odds, but only that there are rather more suckers about than was generally supposed.

"In any case, there is yet no evidence at all to support the premise of the American press and the city gamblers that there is an affection between the king and Mrs. Simpson of the kind they suppose, or that either party has yet contemplated marriage with the other.

New Guard and Old Guard.

"Almost since the king's accession, there have been two parties around the palace. One, representing the newer type of courtier of which Sir John Aird is typical, is on the inside: the other, the old guard, over whom towers the substantial figure of Lord Derby, is on the outside furiously counter attacking.

"The old guard disapprove most strongly of the new court, and, although Derby himself is far too astute a politician to stoop to such methods, there is no doubt a certain old palace set, without his approval, has definitly set afloat various rumors in connection with the king and Mrs. Simpson, hoping thus to bring to their side the most valuable factors in any such attack, the two archbishops.

"Along this line the old guard has had certain success, and some ten days ago the archbishops had in fact an audience with the king in which, the old guard freely rumored, Mrs. Simpson was discussed.

Lunches with Queen.

"However, these attempts to discredit the king's friendship for Mrs. Simpson were dispelled when she lunched last week with the queen.

"The old guard can only report one local success. At Aberdeen a well-fostered rumor about the king's failure, when at Balmoral, to attend some local function due in some inexplicable way to Mrs. Simpson's influence, resulted in the chalking of streets in one district at least with personal attacks on the king.

"Actually, it is now abundantly clear that the king's friendship, with the assistance of the American and foreign press, has been grossly exploited by persons who occupied, in the last reign, a position in which they could influence the throne, and who are greatly disappointed that they cannot do the same at the present time."

KING EDWARD BEGINS INSPECTION TOUR OF BRITISH HOME FLEET

PORTLAND, England, Nov. 12.—(AP)—King Edward VIII. opened his inspection tour of Britain's home fleet today by asking rapid fire questions about the food and general comfort of lower deck jack tars. Clad in the uniform of an admiral of the fleet, with a heavy gray coat to withstand the buffeting of wind lashed rain, the monarch began his two day visit at 9:15 a. m.

He visited five battleships, the Nelson, proud flagship of the fleet; the cruiser squadron flagship, Orion; the the Courageous, the Royal Oak, and the Cairo. He chatted informally on the quarterdeck with each commanding officer.

The royal salute of 21 guns barked out across the leaden gray waters of the harbor as Edward set forth in the high speed "barge" of Admiral Sir William Fisher, commander in chief of the Portsmouth station. His visit lasted nearly three hours before he returned to the Nelson for lunch.

Tonight Edward met 1,800 officers and men, under completely informal circumstances, at an entertainment aboard the aircraft carrier Courageous.

HELD ON RAPE CHARGE.

William Vollman, 19 years old, 6812 Drexel avenue, was held to the grand jury yesterday on a charge of statutory rape by Judge Edward S. Scheffler in Felony court.

STATE PUSHING WOMAN HUNT IN VALLETTE CASE

Assistant State's Attorney Mal Coghlan said yesterday he is still looking for Mrs. Carmella Ruth Freed for questioning into the murder of Audrey Vallette, blonde party girl, who was shot to death last July 3 in her apartment at 1211 North La Salle street.

Mrs. Freed, wife of Eddie Freed, former night club manager, has been identified from pictures as the woman who fled from the apartment building shortly before Miss Vallette's body was found. In Miss Vallette's diary police found the name of Freed as a favorite friend.

TELL EACH OTHER
THE SECRET OF THE ALL VEGETABLE CORRECTIVE

FOR many years older folks have been telling each other about the wonderful all-vegetable corrective called Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets). From one person to another has passed the news of this purely vegetable laxative. It means so much to people past middle life to have a laxative that thoroughly clears their bowels of accumulated wastes. It means fewer aches and pains—more happy days. And Nature's Remedy is so kind to the system. Non-habit forming. Get a box at any drugstore—25 tablets for 25c.

How Wise Mothers end one major cause of children's clothes wearing out too quickly

I'M SIMPLY SICK THE WAY MY CHILDREN'S CLOTHES WEAR OUT. BETWEEN THEIR HARD PLAY AND MY HARD RUBBING TO GET THEM CLEAN—THEIR CLOTHES DON'T LAST ANY TIME AT ALL
WELL, I'LL GIVE YOU A TIP THAT WILL SAVE YOU A LOT OF MONEY. JUST USE AMERICAN FAMILY FLAKES THEIR 'DOUBLE SUDS' FLOAT OUT GRIMIEST DIRT WITHOUT HARD RUBBING, SCRUBBING OR BOILING

WHY Cheap Soap Chips Are False Economy

TODAY, thousands of women have discovered in American Family Flakes an amazingly simple, safe way to a whiter wash. A way that ends hard rubbing, so destructive to clothes. A way that does not depend on harmful alkali or strong chemicals to restore clothes to first-day whiteness.

Yet, miracle of miracles, every piece comes out perfectly clean—linens snowy white—colored fabrics bright and brilliant.

If you would enjoy this thrilling experience, discard your present soap in favor of American Family Flakes. Your reward will not only be a whiter wash in less time, and with less work—but your clothes will last much longer. This is why:

Actual tests prove that American Family Flakes contain more suds-making material than ordinary flakes, chips, or powders. Please consider that statement carefully.

These paper-thin flakes dissolve almost the instant they hit the water into rich, creamy, active "DOUBLE SUDS." And there is the secret of the amazing success of American Family Flakes.

For, instead of depending on hard rubbing, or harsh chemicals to get clothes white—the "DOUBLE SUDS" actually float out dirt with utter safety to fabrics.

You Can't Afford Cheap Soap Chips

For over ninety years American Family has been the largest selling brand of soap in and around Chicago. A single wash will prove American Family Flakes the simplest, quickest, safest way to a whiter wash.

The few extra pennies American Family Flakes cost will be returned to you many times over in the extra length of time your clothes last.

Try American Family Flakes and prove, beyond any shadow of doubt, that it is always cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes. And for dishwashing, you will find American Family Flakes unexcelled. And they leave your hands soft and smooth.

Cream of Tomato Soup

QUICK! BEEF STEW WITH DUMPLINGS

made with Hormel Vegetable-Beef Soup

Just melt 1 tablespoon butter, add 2 tablespoons Gold Medal flour, and blend. Add 1 can Hormel Vegetable-Beef Soup and a cup of leftover vegetables or meat; cook and stir until thickened. Mix the dumpling dough: 1 cup of Bisquick blended with 1/3 cup of milk. Drop the dough by teaspoonfuls into hot mixture; cover tightly and let steam 12 minutes. Serves four; for more generous servings, add another can of Hormel Vegetable-Beef Soup. It's quick . . . easy . . . thrifty . . . good!

QUICK! GREEN PEPPERS STUFFED

made with Hormel Vegetable Soup

Cut 3 large peppers in halves lengthwise (remove seeds and membrane), cover with boiling water; let stand. Now, melt 2 tablespoons butter, blend in 2 tablespoons flour, add 1 minced onion and 1 can Hormel Vegetable Soup (reserving 1/3 cup of soup broth); cook and stir until thick. Combine this with 2 cups soft bread crumbs and stuff the drained peppers. Top with 1/4 cup buttered crumbs. Place in baking dish; pour remaining broth around peppers. Bake in moderate oven, 375°F., about 15 minutes.

HERE you are—a new time-saver for the kitchen, a chance at a big thrill for you. It's speed-cooking—speed-cooking with soup! With Hormel Soup, really—for only Hormel makes soup so rich, so strong, so downright delicious it's worthy of the speed-cook's skill.

Taste any one of the many Hormel hits—the Onion Soup that so quickly became the talk of all New York, the Vegetable Soup that's so much better than even the best soups Mother used to make, the superb Cream of Mushroom, the delicate perfection that is Hormel Cream of Tomato. Yes, taste them, serve them all, often!

And then try them all in speed-cooking—in main dishes that you make a lot faster, that taste a lot better, because they're made with these superior soups.

BEAUTY IN HUMBLE THINGS

By CALEB

IN the early sixteenth century, Antonio Allegri (Correggio) ventured forth from the country territory of Modena in which he was known as an artist. Never had he had the opportunity of judging his talents against a recognized master's. He went to Bologna. Straightway he made his way to a church.

Head uncovered, he reverently entered. Through the softly lit interior he found his way until he stood before the great picture—St. Cecilia—by the master Raphael!

In wide-eyed awe he stared and studied. At last his lips parted and half in pride, half in relief, he cried: "I, too, am a painter!"

TIMES have changed. Every creative worker has immediate opportunity to compare his work with that of masters.

Nowadays, the humblest articles venture to be beautiful. Once art was purely art, and was confined to the fairly narrow category of things which art patrons deemed worthy of artistic talent.

Today, a fruit squeezer, an electric fan, a washing machine, a kitchen mixing bowl, an ash tray, or an ice-cream freezer may be given the benefits of the best available art talent in the country.

Because that talent has been applied to practical things is no evidence it is not the talent of a true artist. Slowly the world of merchandisers has come to believe in beauty for everyone and in every possible article.

We suspect that beauty in a saucepan may be more important than beauty in a priceless painting. The latter may be seen by only a few people. It can be lived with but little. A beautiful saucepan may be lived with in many homes, and contributes whatever its small share of artistic rightness may be, to many people at a small price.

We have attempted consistently for a long time to bring beauty into many humble things. Few persons, men or women, can wander through our ninth floor housewares section without acknowledging the arrival of real beauty in many unexpected places. Nowadays, the best designers of lowly items of merchandise can stand before pure art works and remark with some satisfaction—"I, too, am an artist."

CALIFORNIA'S BAY BRIDGE, WORLD'S LONGEST, OPENED

Notables at Dedication of Eight Mile Span.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Automobiles began rolling across the Trans-bay bridge at the rate of 200 a minute today after dedication of the $77,000,000 span amid pomp and enthusiasm.

Speakers termed the bridge, spanning 8¼ miles of salt water and tideland between San Francisco and Oakland, the acme of engineering achievement.

President Roosevelt pressed a button in Washington that lighted "go" signals and set a long stream of trafic in motion, while cannon boomed on 14 battleships, 250 airplanes soared overhead and two cities cheered.

Governor Severs Chain.

Gov. Frank Merriam used an acetylene torch to sever a golden link in a silver chain and shatter the last barrier to the bridge.

Former President Herbert Hoover, with Gov. Merriam at the dedicatory ceremony, said:

"The bridge stands as a monument to American genius in engineering accomplishment."

He added that the bridge represented a dream of two generations and was the product of 100 years of accumulated engineering and scientific knowledge.

President Roosevelt was represented by Charles Henderson, RFC official, who said there "is not a finer bridge in the world," or one more soundly financed.

Taxicab Takes Honor.

Gov. Merriam, Mr. Hoover, and other members of the governor's party made the first trip across in an official car.

Lawrence McDermid drove the first taxicab across the span at a cost of $1.30 tolls and 16 extra miles. Taking a passenger near the bridge, McDermid got caught in trafic and officers would not let him turn out of the line, so he had to cross to Oakland and return.

Ranked as the costliest in the world, the span crosses the longest stretch of navigable water ever bridged.

Six Lane Highway.

Twenty-four workmen perished in construction accidents and 1,157 were injured.

The structure contains sufficient steel and concrete to erect 35 buildings the size of the 28 story Los Angeles city hall.

Until 1938 trafic will be confined to a six lane highway for automobiles on the upper deck. On the lower deck are lanes for trucks and space for interurban railway tracks expected to be completed in two years.

Mayor Kelly Leaves City; Bound for Conference

Mayor Kelly left the city for the east last night. After a brief visit in New York he will leave for Washington, D. C., to attend the mayors' conference which opens in the capitol on Nov. 16. Mayor Kelly is vice president of the conference. While in Washington the mayor, accompanied by Mrs. Kelly, will call on President Roosevelt.

Committee Begins Grading Principal Exam Papers

Part of a committee of 67 college professors yesterday began grading examination papers written two months ago by 800 candidates for principalships in Chicago public schools. The grading is scheduled to be completed by Dec. 15, to be followed by character ratings and oral exams. The board has appropriated $8,000 to pay the committee for its work. According to Supt. William H. Johnson, the list of about 100 successful candidates will be announced early next spring.

Boy, 4, Dies of GunWound; Shooting Termed Accident

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death yesterday in the fatal shooting of Bowden De Forest, 4 years old, 1 Dickens avenue, Northfield, grandson of F. Bowden De Forest, chairman of the board of Hinckley & Schmitt, Inc. The boy died early in the day in the Evanston hospital of a bullet wound accidentally inflicted last Friday evening. He had been playing with a revolver belonging to his father, L. Bowden De Forest, and it was discharged as a maid tried to take it from him.

WHAT WENT WRONG with the PRESIDENTIAL POLLS?

The Literary Digest
NOVEMBER 14, 1936
Thirty
TEN CENTS
IS OUR FACE RED!

THE 1936 election was one of the most decisive landslides in the history of American politics—and for the first time The Literary Digest Presidential Poll failed to predict the results.

Now that the rifts of the campaign are healing in the characteristic American way, quickly and permanently—which is as it should be—let us pause and ask ourselves this question:

What went wrong with the several national "straw votes"?

None came as close to the right answer as did The Literary Digest Poll in the four previous elections.

"Why?"—is the question a host of people are asking us.

As far as The Literary Digest Poll is concerned one answer might be that no one can be right every time. Even the mightiest hitters sometimes strike out with the bases full.

We, too, missed this time—and we have no alibis. But we do want to emphasize these facts to the public.

The 1936 Literary Digest Poll was not "honeyfugled," "loaded," "rigged," "stacked," "weighted" or tampered with in our offices or anywhere else. From start to finish it was conducted with the same scrupulous impartiality that characterized our previous polls.

The sole function of The Literary Digest in making this Poll was to send out ballots by the same method that had proven successful in previous elections, and to record each and every vote that was returned. We did not make or influence the Poll totals—they were made by 2,376,523 voters in every state of the Union. We merely reported their indicated preference.

In 1936 we used the same sources of names which we used with such accurate results in previous polls. In some towns we polled every registered voter, in others one out of every three, to make sure of reaching voters in every class. Even in these towns actual election returns varied as much from our poll figures as did the national results. Again, why?

OUR EXPLANATION

In the November 14th issue of The Literary Digest, on sale today, we present a careful survey of all known facts and factors concerning the 1936 Digest Poll. Why did we receive so many ballots from 1932 Hoover voters? What happened in Chicago? Did we poll too many voters, or not enough? Will the Digest conduct another Poll? You'll find the answers all there. Don't miss it.

REPRESENTATIVES OF THE PEOPLE.

The United States Court of Appeals in Washington has ruled that, although the seizure of telegrams by the federal communications commission for the use of a congressional investigation was illegal, there is nothing the court can do to keep congress when once in possession of such material from using it.

Through the communications commission's control of the wires congress had the telegrams before the illegal process could be stopped by an injunction. The appeals court says that such being the fact the courts cannot enjoin congress, a separate and coördinate branch of the government under the constitution, from using the information it possesses in the course of legislative debate and action.

Judge Groner, speaking for the court, said that if a court could say to congress it could not use information in its possession the independence of the legislature would be destroyed and the constitutional separation of the powers of government invaded.

Repeatedly the courts have sustained the independence of congress. When it is within its powers, which are tremendous, the only remedy is political, and that is what the constitution intended. It is the assumption that congress will not do things detrimental to individual rights and the general welfare. It is assumed that if it attempts to do so the people will resent the acts. Every two years they have the opportunity to change the membership of the more numerous body and put in men who will not try to step outside their authority and injure the people.

What is assumed and what happens do not always take the same direction. Some people can be injured by congress and the people as a whole may not take much notice of it. Congress has its responsibilities and should be counted on for restraint. When it is doing its duty to the country it is guarding the general and the individual welfare and rights.

Congress can make a tax destructive and if it keeps within its authority the courts cannot stop it. Congress can become an enfeebled branch of the government only by its decision and determination. As the representative body of the people it is the most powerful branch of government and its powers and prerogatives are vastly more numerous than its limitations. Our system of government requires that all three branches act within their spheres and that each act with full knowledge and consideration of the responsibilities assigned to it.

MORE ABOUT JESSE OWENS.

Larry Snyder, track coach at Ohio State university, writes in the Saturday Evening Post the inside story of the treatment accorded Jesse Owens before, during, and after the Olympic games at Berlin. The general outlines were clear from a reading of the news dispatches at the time. Mr. Snyder supplies a few more details and they are not flattering to the American athletic authorities.

What Mr. Snyder says, in effect, is that the management of the American athletic contingent was far more interested in looking after its own comfort than in looking after the athletes. The men of the team were subjected to unnecessary nervous strains. Their living quarters were none too comfortable and the men were not sufficiently protected against sightseers. No adequate provision was made to permit the athletes to rest and relax between races. Transportation to and from the field was poorly organized. Much the same criticism is leveled against the eating arrangements.

The carelessness shown in these particulars is the more astonishing in view of the fact that the men in charge were for the most part men who had participated in athletics themselves. Yet they seem to have regarded their champions as machines rather than as young men under an extremely heavy nervous strain.

Every good track coach knows that all athletes —and sprinters and jumpers in particular—must be very carefully handled for important competition. They must be brought along slowly. So much depends on proper nervous, mental, and muscular condition that too much or too little training can be ruinous. The coördinations are so delicately adjusted that any irritation or nervous excitement may change victory to defeat.

All these considerations were lightly regarded during the games, if we may judge from Mr. Snyder's account; and after the Olympic games the behavior of the officials was even less considerate. Owens was in need of rest. He had put forth his best efforts and could not again do himself full justice without a period of relaxation. Instead of getting it he was encouraged to go barnstorming about Europe for the financial benefit of the Olympic fund, and on some of these trips, Mr. Snyder says, the athletes didn't get even proper food.

Mr. Snyder writes in good temper, but the indictment he makes deserves the most careful investigation with a view to avoiding similar happenings during and after the Olympic games at Tokio.

HOURGLASS STREETS.

Doubtless the hourglass was considered a masterpiece of ingenuity in its day. By joining the smaller ends of two funnels the master glass blower produced upper and lower receptacles connected by a narrow strait through which a given quantity of sand could pass in a single hour. Later the principle was applied to minute glasses and the handy little timer which brought an end to daily speculation with the breakfast eggs. Father Time adopted the hourglass as a symbol of his office.

Despite this previous acquaintance, the principles of a regulated flow are apparently forgotten when boulevards are planned. All of our main through streets are hourglasses. True, there is no indentation of the curb, but the hindrance consists of stop and go lights, a street car loading or discharging, a safety island, and two or three standing cars in front of the inevitable drug store. A little carelessness in parking and multiple lanes of motorized trafic must form a single file behind the street car before they can negotiate the crossing.

What can be done about it? First, if bottlenecks are inevitable every half mile or so, there is no merit in any street widening project. The money should be saved for a grade separation at the intersection, which, in the case of city streets, means double-decked highways. Any motorist can name a dozen streets that have been widened within the last few years, along which trafic continues to move in single file. Hundreds of trees were sacrificed and thousands of dollars were spent for two additional lanes that are practically useless. There is no point to increased speed in the intervals between the congestions that occur at crossings.

Second, and for more immediate relief, shoppers might show a little consideration for others when parking cars near intersections. As an example, a woman was unconcernedly sitting in a parked car opposite a safety island. A motorist, maneuvering his automobile behind a waiting street car, observed courteously but somewhat impatiently, "Why don't you move your car, lady? You are blocking everybody." Then came the reply, "It's too bad about them!" Most of us would deny that this is a fair sample of Chicago courtesy, but it is, nevertheless, a daily occurrence.

Is it necessary to stop opposite the safety island? How about driving around the corner? In each instance the distance to the store may be increased by a few steps, but is the American public so inconsiderate that it will not make this concession to the hundred motorists whose progress may be retarded even if the errand requires but a few minutes?

MARINE TERMINALS.

"It would be necessary to go to the east coast of equatorial Africa to find harbors so poorly equipped to load and discharge cargo vessels as are the American ports along the Atlantic, gulf, and Pacific seaboard." The quotation expresses one reason at least for the controversy between ship operators and 'longshore labor. On arrival of a vessel in a foreign port at least a half dozen electric winches lower unloading devices into the cargo holds to elevate all manner of merchandise and deliver the packages to ingenious shore conveyors. They are modern terminals, interesting to spectator and laborer alike. In striking contrast is the American adherence to the century-old system that relies on ships' winches, primitive slings, and hand trucks. "Tote dat barge, lift dat bale," fairly expresses the reliance on human muscle that persists not only on Ole Man Ribber but in New York harbor.

Transshipment is at once the bane of water carriage and the secret of its success. Where the problem has been scientifically assailed, as in the handling of bulk materials on the Great Lakes—coal, grain, stone, and ore—freight costs have been reduced to an almost unbelievably low level. Where the cargo is of a general nature, consisting of many different kinds and sizes of packages, however, the primitive net or rope is the best that American genius has been able to produce. A dock is merely a wharf, covered by a one story shed and served by a siding. Strangely enough, conveyors and electric trucks are frequently found serving the railway box cars.

An efficient water terminal is as necessary to the merchant marine as is the yard to a railway or tanks to a pipe line. These newer forms of transportation utilize gravity, belt or spiral conveyors, magnetism, and a hundred other gadgets developed by intensive research to replace the drudgery of the hand truck. The people of the United States have given bountifully to the merchant marine. They have provided lucrative mail contracts, a complete system of aids to navigation, the Panama canal at less than cost and protection from foreign competition in the intercoastal trades as well as services to Hawaii. A new subsidy bill will provide subventions for those vessels engaged in foreign trade.

The maritime commission should go beyond mere ship operation to insist that applicants for assistance forget the present antiquated methods and develop modern terminals in which to handle more efficient vessels.

Editorial of the Day

RE-ELECTION.

[Memphis Commercial-Appeal.]

As soon as the verdict of the people was rendered Gov. Landon came forward with the congratulations and promise of coöperation that the people expect from a good American, because a good American is always a good sport in politics. Equally prompt and hearty was his running mate, Col. Frank Knox. Both Landon and Knox reflect the spirit of the great majority so well after the election that it might seem amazing how they could have so misread that spirit before election day, if it were not for the fact that politics has a way of insulating the minds of candidates from all unfavorable currents of opinion during the progress of a campaign.

The nuge size of Mr. Roosevelt's popular and electoral majorities is made more significant because it is a second landslide, and as such, unique since Andrew Jackson's time. But ever since the Harding landslide of 1920 political tides have been running higher than they used to do. One of the reasons for that is the decline of party regularity. From a third to a half of all American voters nowadays are not real party men or women, and change sides by millions from one election to another.

Mr. Roosevelt is a statesman of the first rank. The record of his first administration has established that. He is one of the great popular leaders of modern times. His vote on Tuesday proved that. But Mr. Roosevelt is also a first class politician. His whole adult life proves that. And because he is a great politician Mr. Roosevelt knows that political landslides can slide back as well as forward. Therefore he should be and doubtless is aware that the election last Tuesday was an American reëlection of a President to a second term, not an Eighteenth Brumaire replacing our republic with a dictatorship.

I wish that I was young again,
  A prey to Love and Cupid;
For life was colorful and gay
  When I was young and stupid.
Now that I've grown into good sense,
  And reason clears my eyes,
I find it dull and boring
  To be compunct and wise.
And all my sense and knowledge
  Can hardly now repay
The joy that came from foolishness
  When I was dumb and gay!

IN LIEU OF SALVE.

May I be permitted to recall Aunt Sairy and Aunt Ann, sisters, spinsters of a certain age, who lived in Hometown when I was a boy? They were much alike and yet much different. Aunt Sairy believed in the efficacy of prayer for mundane ills, and Aunt Ann, not committed to any creed, used a popular ointment for her rheumatism. . . . At last a revivalist came to town and Aunt Ann, with much difficulty, was persuaded to attend a meeting. She liked it and attended five more. The night before the revival ended, as the two old ladies were preparing for bed (Aunt Sairy told about it later), Aunt Ann looked longingly at her ointment tin, opened it, replaced the cover, and said firmly: "Sairy, I've made up my mind. I'm goin' to quit usin' Trask's Magnetic Intment and jine the Baptists." I. P. H.

HUSKER.

How poor he is he comes to know
  When his wagon daily finds the road
And goes along the willow row—
  Noon comes; he has but half a load.

He planted with the faith they clutch
  Who long have wrestled rutted knolls,
But men who trust soil over-much
  Have dry rot find their souls.

Early the barred cock sent his call
  And drove the husker from his bed:
The horses stamped within their stall—
  The lean swine clamored to be fed.

How short the nights; how long the days;
  How scant the yellow hanging ears.
He seldom smiles; he never prays,
  Yet plows and plants and toils the years.

He curses all the stars; the skies
  And early frosts; the lack of rain;
But until brain and muscle dies
  He hopes and plants and trusts again.

ADEQUATE AND INCLUSIVE.

No more adequate and inclusive statement concerning the advantages of membership in a Woman's club could be written than "Why Join a Woman's Club?" by N. K. B. Perhaps club members have been selfish and lacking in zeal in spreading the gospel of club activities. What an impetus would be given the work of the Federated Woman's Clubs if all the sincere, intelligent, able women on the outside looking in were recruited to the ranks. If N. K. B. and many who feel as she does would call at the headquarters, Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, they would be given information about clubs in their own localities that would meet their needs financially, socially, and as a means of self-expression.

Would One Say Kittenish?

Sir: Please let us stick to our guns. If our ardent clubwomen would improve themselves before attempting to improve the community we would undoubtedly have a few wives and mothers worthy of the name. On the basis of the amount of improvement I deem necessary they would be so busy the rest of us might escape organized meddling for some time. Of course, I don't mean to be catty? H. D. S.

THREE BOOKS written since 1920 are "real pictures of the modern world," according to Hugh Walpole. We have read two of them, "Ulysses" and "The Magic Mountain." They are, indeed, powerful pictures, but we feel, and hope, that the whole modern world is not so gruesomely pathological as these works would make it seem. The human race is passionate in its silliness, but it's more absurd than morose, taking the whole jumble together.

HOW THE LUNG COLLAPSES.

We may recall from the physiology of our school days that the lungs lie in what is called the pleural sack. It is a double walled affair and may be likened to two rubber balloons, the smaller inside the larger. The space between the outer wall of the smaller and the inner wall of the larger represents the pleural cavity. In man this contains no air, hence when the chest expands [in breathing] air rushes in with no resistance. In other words the pressure of the atmosphere fills the lungs.

If we are in normal health there is but a small amount of thin secretion between these two layers. This keeps the membranes moist and glistening and prevents adhesions. Whenever a segment becomes inflamed, however, it will give off a large amount of fluid and occasionally the folds will adhere to one another. The rubbing together of the irritated surfaces, which will take place at every breath, is attended usually with severe pain [pleurisy]. This is the "stitch" in the side that is so often complained of.

Now and then we force air into the pleural space for the purpose of artificially collapsing the lung in order to compel it to rest. This plan, called pneumothorax, is used in combating tuberculosis and was suggested and put into operation by an Italian, Forlanini, and by John B. Murphy of Chicago. A needle is passed through the outer layer of the pleura, thus permitting air to enter the chest.

Sometimes such a condition comes on spontaneously in apparently healthy individuals; or again it may be the result of long standing tuberculosis in which an ulcerated area ruptures through the pleura. The onset is sudden and may follow straining at stool, a fall, or a blow. It has occurred also in association with asthma. There may be a distended bit of lung tissue with greatly ballooned-out air cells close to the pleura, and increased pressure may tear the latter.

How does the patient behave in such circumstances? If the rent is slight there will be some pain and shortness of breath, probably accompanied by coughing. If air persists in entering the space the pain and the collapse of the lung may continue frequently with alarming symptoms. The patient may become cyanotic [bluish about the face], restless, and anxious. A bit of blood tinged sputum may be expectorated.

As a rule little difficulty will be encountered in recovery if the patient's apprehension can be allayed and absolute rest enforced. The air will absorb, the rupture heal, and within a few weeks the lung again will be able to expand fully.

Ordinarily little treatment is needed save rest in bed for a few days. If the opening closes the lungs will reëxpand rapidly. If there is intense pain or breathlessness a narcotic may be required. In most cases the physician will strap the affected side promptly with fairly wide strips of adhesive to immobilize the chest wall. The patient is instructed to take light breaths and, if possible, to avoid coughing.

In those afflicted with tuberculosis the accident is more common. As a rule it is not serious unless the disease is in an advanced stage. What we understand as shock may be a complication. Again, while a perforation may heal, bacteria may have entered the field from diseased lungs resulting in abscess formation. This calls for a thorough evacuation of the pus and painstaking surgical care.

Those who have a tendency to pneumothorax—when we do not wish to bring it about—should be guarded against falls, blows, or injuries. In fact, those who attend emergency accident cases may find the lungs collapsed, thus adding to shock. Should it happen we must recognize the actual state of affairs promptly and an X-ray plate will give us the required evidence.

COLOR VISION.

H. E. writes: I have a friend who holds a rather responsible position, and not long ago he was told by the company physician that he was partially color blind. It appears that the employer has adopted the Ishihara color test instead of the Henderson skeins, and while his color vision test on the former appeared defective it was almost perfect with the latter.

Is there anything that your profession would recommend to overcome this obstacle, and would you have any suggestion as to what might have caused it, as he is absolutely sure that he had perfect color vision until very recently? Is it true that strong, glaring light, to which he is often exposed, might have contributed?

REPLY.

The Ishihara test is considered more reliable than that which is carried out with the colored wool skeins. If the individual does not react satisfactorily to the Ishihara test there is probably a real defect in color vision. As far as is known it does not come from exposure to bright lights, although it occasionally results from eye disease. My suggestion would be that the test be repeated by a skilled ophthalmologist in order to make certain that the condition is permanent.

TUMOR OF BRAIN.

M. L. B. writes:
1. What are the symptoms of tumor of the brain?
2. Is there any cure?

REPLY.

1. Headache, dizziness, vomiting, tenderness on pressure, disturbances of vision, paralysis, unsteadiness on the feet, and convulsions. Blindness and mental symptoms come on later owing to increased pressure within the skull.
2. Many types can be removed surgically without damage to the brain. A skilled neurologic surgeon, however, must be in charge. The X-ray is helpful in some cases.

TONSILS.

C. B. writes: What do you think of the method of removing tonsils by electricity? Is it a satisfactory way for a person, over 50, to get rid of them when they are giving trouble?

REPLY.

Tonsils should be removed by a skilled surgeon. The difficulty with so-called electric coagulation lies in the fact that pockets of bacteria may be sealed within the tissue and there constitute a focus of infection. If tiny tonsil tags remain they may be removed by the electrocautery. If the glands are diseased complete removal is the wisest procedure.

THE VETERANS AT WHITE PINES.

Oregon, Ill., Nov. 7.—In order to set right the action of my friends, the ex-service men enrollees, at the White Pines CCC camp as related in THE TRIBUNE'S story of Nov. 4, I request you to print these facts.

In the first place, 200 men did not "storm the polls," there being only 151 men there at present. Over 100 of these men voted at their homes, either in person or by absentee ballot. On registration day about thirty of them [including Capt. Starbuck, the C. O.], were reluctantly permitted to register. Tuesday these men in small groups went to the polling place, made out the necessary affidavits of residence, ballots were refused them by Supervisor Coffman, who was an election judge, whereupon they went back to the Pines park, and that was the end of this reputed "storming the polls."

Mr. Coffman's statement that he feared that Pine Creek township would have to take care of disbanded CCC men is without good foundation. Most of these men have their allotments on deposit at Hines and still possess their bonus money; many of them draw compensation for disability, all of them can [in case of need] obtain admission to a soldiers' home; and in all events Legion posts are always willing and ready to care for needy veterans. This fear of Mr. Coffman's is a very remote possibility.

Mr. Coffman is alleged to have stated, also, that once these men had established legal residence in the town they would vote at town elections and possibly upset the choice of the other electors of the town in the matter of town officials. The camp will probably be moved before the town election next spring, as the work at the Pines is about completed.

That being a resident of the state park does not make them residents of the township, as Mr. Coffman stated, is not held in other parts of the state. Some of these men now at the park voted by absentee ballot at their former residence, the soldiers' home in Quincy, which is also state property.

It is true that not only County Judge Zick and State's Attorney Crowell gave opinions that these thirty men who had registered should be allowed to vote, but also personal friends of Mr. Coffman urged him strongly to do so and thus avoid getting into trouble. In spite of all this friendly and official advice Mr. Coffman won out, stuck to his guns, and thirty men were disfranchised by his unsupported stand. These men are all residents of the state of Illinois, inasmuch as it is a rule that veterans in the CCC service are not assigned to camps outside of their state of residence. They certainly have earned their citizenship in time of war. Some, I hear, have received wounds in action, and have incurred other disabilities. They feel humiliated at being refused the franchise, and feel further humiliated by statements in the press that they "stormed the polls" and a "riot call brought sherif's deputies to the scene" to suppress a disturbance which existed only in the mind of Mr. Coffman.

In justice to these veterans, whose conduct was orderly in every manner, I request that you print this rather lengthy letter setting forth the facts.

THE COUGHLIN VOTE.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—The ten million votes that the third party was going to receive, as predicted by Coughlin, Lemke, Townsend, etc., dwindled down to approximately 5 per cent of their boastful prediction.

That shows the negligible influence of the rabble rouser radio priest and his ilk. I hope that this will be a lesson to other political fakers in the future that you cannot fool any appreciable number of the people of this country.

THE TWO PARTY SYSTEM.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Permit me to make a few commendatory remarks because of the valiant, meritorious manner in which you handled the political campaign.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

COINCIDENCES.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Permit me to direct your attention to the following interesting letter which appeared in your column Monday, Nov. 7 [election eve], 1932, and which you labeled "Coincidences."

> La Salle, Ill., Nov. 3.—In betting on the election watch your o's and 2's. Double o's in Coolidge, Hoover, and Roosevelt. Democratic victories 1892, 1912, 1932—20 years apart. We have o's and 2's in Roosevelt's birth —Jan. 30, 1882. He is at present 50 years old. He entered state senate 1910; reëlected 1912; has been in politics 22 years; will carry 42 states, and will serve 2 terms. M.

In the light of the outcome of the last two elections I wonder whether you would still call these coincidences. At any rate, remember that 1940 ends with an 0, and draw your own conclusions!

TO HELP MOTORMEN.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Winter is coming with its wet clinging snow, and any motorist knows full well the difficulty of trying to drive with a sticky snow forming on the windshield; yet street cars go along as ever with the motorman waiting until the red light shows before he will get out to brush the snow off his window. Each street car must carry at least fifty persons for each one carried by a private automobile. Why not have a windshield wiper installed on every street car and so save America from at least a portion of its avoidable accidents?

VICTOR C. BORN.

PROPOSAL.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—I do not believe our present form of government can survive under a one party system. Some action is necessary to forestall a dictatorship or a Fascist form of government if we are to remain as free men and women. The referendum and recall would act as a safety valve until something better comes along. At least it would keep our congressmen and senators from being pawns in the game of politics WISE.

ON THE USES OF GLOATING.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Yes, the Republicans said bad things about the Roosevelt administration, but how very much worse it is that they were true; for to be heedless of the truth is to invite trouble. Gloating won't stop it. O. L. VEIEN.

APPOINTING GUARDIAN.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I have named my husband as first beneficiary on my insurance policy and my 7 year old daughter as second beneficiary.

1. I was told I must appoint an administrator for my daughter.
2. What is the general procedure in appointing one?
3. Can I name more than one, according to choice? I would also like to make a will.
4. Is it necessary to have a lawyer's assistance, or [5] can I make a valid will by just filling in a regular will form and having it notarized? S. T.

1. If this information came from a lawyer, we are confident that he used the word "guardian" rather than "administrator."
2. The appointment of a legal guardian would require application to the Probate court and for this purpose an attorney should be employed.
3. Yes, but the court would not necessarily be bound by your choice.
4. Yes, but we advise the employment of an attorney.
5. Yes, but see 4.

WANTS TO BE CITIZEN.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—[Friend of the People.]—Would you inform me about this question? If a man who came to this country from a British territory in 1922, but only came for four years and did not return after the four years, applies for citizenship would it be granted to him, or would he be deported to the country from which he came? X.

It is suggested that the subject call at this office in order that all the facts in his case may be ascertained and his exact immigration status may be determined. If he entered the United States prior to July 1, 1924, and has not been absent therefrom since that time, it does not appear that he would be subject to deportation under the facts stated.

FINDS MINE GAS IS BREATHED OUT BY ELEPHANTS

Scientist Debunks Myth of Extreme Ages.

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The elephant veritably breathes out fire damp, a coal mine gas, and likes to gobble hay in great quantities, but doesn't digest it very well, a scientist reported tonight.

The presence of the breathed-out coal mine gas was described to the New York Academy of Medicine by Dr. Francis G. Benedict, director of the nutrition laboratory of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, at Boston.

Furthermore, Dr. Benedict said, it's not true that elephants live to extreme old ages. They don't do their love making on schedule, either, he added.

An Inefficient "Burner."

Dr. Benedict presented the elephant as an interesting laboratory for medical men. His topic was "The Physiological Case of the Circus Elephant."

There is one part of methane in an elephant's breath, he said, for every 100 parts of the common breathing exhaust gas, carbon dioxide. He attributed the formation of methane to intestinal fermentation in the elephant.

As a "hay burner ' he said the elephant is inefficient. It digests only about 44 per cent of the hay it eats, compared with digestive uses of 50 to 70 per cent by cows, steers, sheep, and horses. The circus elephant eats fully 150 pounds of hay daily.

50 Gallons of Water a Day.

Out of this main food the animal produces a volume of heat daily equal to that from the bodies of thirty men. This rates the elephant as an inferior heater compared with man, for the thirty average men would weigh 1,000 to 1,500 pounds less than the average elephant. The animal drinks about fifty gallons of water a day. He takes into his trunk about a gallon and a half at a time.

"The extreme ages attributed to elephants are not true," Dr. Benedict said. "The elephant has about the length of life of a man. An elephant 80 years old is an old animal. The average age of the circus elephant is about 33 years."

Irregular Mating Habits.

The sex life of elephants appears, he said, to be very irregular. The mating instinct is "not pronounced with most females," but is "more pronounced in males," said Dr. Benedict.

Standing up, an elephant breathes ten times a minute; lying quietly, four to five times. But his heart beats faster lying than standing, 35 times a minute compared with 28 standing.

Elephants will doze while standing but they like to lie down to sleep between 11 p. m. and 4 a. m., Dr. Benedict said.

SHOW CHICAGO 'AS COMMERCIAL SHIPPING CENTER

A vivid picture of Chicago's place in commercial shipping was furnished yesterday when the motorship Clevelander and one of the Federal Barge line's craft tied up in the Ogden slip, near the mouth of the Chicago river.

The Clevelander, which operated between Chicago and New York via the Great Lakes and the Erie canal, brought 1,080 tons of rubber and thirty-six tons of United States postcards for distribution to postoffices in the middle west.

On the barge was 1,100 tons of whisky from Peoria, which is to be transshipped to New York on the motorship Badger State. Nearby, anchored in the river, was one of the Norwegian Fjell line boats taking on an assorted cargo for transport across the Atlantic.

CHICAGO VISITOR

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Baron Marley [Dudley Leigh Aman], deputy speaker of the house of lords, and Labor whip in that body, arrived in Chicago yesterday to confer with members of the American Committee for the Settlement of Jews in Biro Bidjan, in Siberia, just north of the Manchurian frontier on the Amur river. At the Stevens hotel he heard the proposals and requests made by Jacob G. Crossberg, president of the Chicago division of the committee, and Mrs. Arthur Weinreb. Baron Marley is making a study of the social, economic, and political problems which have arisen in connection with the Biro Bidjan project.

ARABS BOYCOTT FIRST HOLY LAND INQUIRY SESSION

JERUSALEM, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Count Quinto Mazzolini, Italian consul general, stalked from the first session of the royal British Palestine commission today because he was seated next to an empty chair reserved for the Ethiopian delegate.

The Ethiopian, Consul General Wolbe Gabriel, did not attend the session, but Mazzolini issued a statement that he considered the seating arrangement "a serious breach of respect which is intolerable."

Deplores Arab Boycott.

Opening the commission's inquiry into the recent disorders in Palestine, Lord Peel deplored the Arab boycott of the sessions.

"It would be most unfortunate," he said, "if without their [Arabs] assistance we would be compelled to make decisions."

Reaffirming its boycott decision the Arab high committee sent a statement to Peel charging the British government "adopted all possible means to 'Juda-ize' the Arab country."

Charge Promise Broken.

The Arab statement charged that the British had broken their wartime promise of Arab independence, and that the present immigration policies admitting Jews would mean "national Arab existence will be completely destroyed."

Sir Arthur Grenfell Wauchope, British high commissioner, formally opened the inquiry with a reception to nearly 200 Jews, church leaders, and members of the government. The investigation, focused on the bloody riots which have taken a toll of 314 Arabs, Jews, and Britons killed and economic loss estimated at $15,000,000, will start actively tomorrow when the commission will start a week's tour of Palestine's main trouble centers.

SAYS TUGWELL PROPOSES MORE HOUSING WORK

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—(AP)—A spokesman for the Resettlement administration said today that Dr. Rexford G. Tugwell, its director, would like to see unemployed workers put to building a "great number" of suburban housing developments for low income families.

This assertion was made as President Roosevelt agreed to accompany Tugwell tomorrow afternoon on an inspection of resettlement's $9,000,000 relief-built housing demonstration at nearby Greenbelt, Md.

Possible significance of the presidential inspection was seen because he lately has been busy with Harry L. Hopkins on the relief program for next year, and he stressed federal aid for housing during the election campaign.

Greenbelt, the partially finished community Mr. Roosevelt will visit tomorrow, is one of three large suburban housing demonstrations undertaken by Tugwell's organization under the present work relief program.

Hail Brandeis as Only Jew Who Belongs to 2 Peoples

JERUSALEM, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Louis D. Brandeis, justice of the United States Supreme court, was hailed here tonight on the eve of his 80th birthday as "perhaps the only Jew who belongs to the histories of two peoples, the Americans and the Jews." Leaders of Palestine Jewry met in the Jewish Agency building to pay tribute to the justice.

NAZIS OF DANZIG PROTEST POLISH 'POISONOUS' ACTS

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The Nazi controlled Danzig senate lodged a formal protest today with Dr. Casimir Papee, Polish envoy to Danzig, against what it described as the "poisonous atmosphere" threatening Danzig-Polish relations.

The protest, appealing to Warsaw for suppressive action, specifically cited "the Gdynia frontier demonstration on Nov. 8, hostile attacks in the Polish press, and destruction of party emblems by Poles." The Nov. 8 demonstration saw a crowd of angry Poles mass on the border, shouting: "Give us arms and we will restore order in Danzig!"

Danzig police today raided shops and newspaper stands, confiscating copies of the Gazetta Polska and the Illustrowani Kurjer Codzienny for alleged "hostile and untrue reports of incidents in which Poles were attacked."

He Likes Everything About Taxis but Meters; Jailed

Several weeks ago Edward Wagner, 43 years old, 2728 Warren boulevard, was arrested for failure to pay a $14 taxi bill. He was discharged when he promised to reimburse the driver. Yesterday Wagner appeared before Judge Erwin J. Hasten in Town Hall court for failure to pay $23.65 in cab fare to R. W. Nelson, 1837 Roscoe street. "This seems to be a habit with you," said Judge Hasten as he ordered Wagner sent to the Bridewell to work out a $35 fine.

FINED ON WIFE'S CHARGE.

John Doherty, 34 years old, 1243 Wilson avenue, a WPA worker, was fined $25 by Municipal Judge Erwin J. Hasten yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct brought by his wife, who charged that he bought liquor while she and their two children went hungry.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS; DIES.

STEEL JOINS SAN FRANCISCO WITH OAKLAND

THIS DAY marks a great day not only in the history of San Francisco, the Bay communities, and the entire West, but also of the whole world.

For, in the opinion of experts, it marks the completion of an engineering epic that will stand unsurpassed for the next thousand years. Not that improved steels and future engineering will not be able to build a bigger bridge. But the simple fact is that there remains in the world today no larger body of unspanned water where traffic is apt to justify the cost of building such a bridge.

And so, on an historic occasion like this, it is fitting for United States Steel to publish some of the facts about this great steel monument to man's ingenuity.

The San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge was started on July 9, 1933, and is finished on scheduled time. It is the world's largest bridge—8¼ miles, with a length over water of 4½ miles. It is the world's costliest bridge—$77,600,000. It required more material than any other bridge in history—200,000 tons of steel; 1,000,000 cubic yards of concrete; 200,000 gallons of paint. It required more supporting piers—51 in all, the smallest of them as big as a three-story house, on 100-foot piles. Some of these piers had to go deeper to reach bed rock than ever before—a maximum of 242 feet below water. For variety of engineering problems encountered, the bridge has no equal—the deep water, mud and quicksand bottom, tides, wind, tunneling through rock, the huge cantilever structure, the giant suspension span.

The towers over which the suspension cables are hung range in height from 470 feet to 515 feet above water. They are built of several thicknesses of 1⅛-inch steel plates riveted together. Each tower contains about 5000 tons of steel and 110,000 field rivets. The legs of the towers are built hollow, with steel ladders inside for use of riveters, painters and inspectors.

The two cables stretching over the towers and supporting the bridge each contain 17,464 wires about as thick as a lead pencil. They are 28¾ inches thick and weigh a ton for every foot. If the wire in these cables were strung out in a single line, it would reach nearly three times around the earth. This wire has a tensile strength of 231,000 lbs. per square inch; and with the bridge in use, each cable will exert an average pull of 40,000,000 lbs. on the anchorages.

The cantilever section of the East Bay crossing, with its 1400-ft. span and 510-ft. anchor arms, is in itself the highest, longest and heaviest cantilever structure in the country and the third longest in the world.

Maximum clearance between bridge and water is 216 feet. Traffic will flow over the completed bridge along two decks, each 60 feet wide, one above the other. The upper deck has six lanes for automobiles. The lower provides three lanes for trucks and buses in addition to two electric railway tracks. Twenty-four million cars a year can cross the top deck and 6,000,000 trucks and buses the lower one without congestion. Loads up to 40-ton trucks and 70-ton interurban cars are provided for, as the bridge will carry 7000 lbs. live load per linear foot.

The pride that Californians have in this great achievement is shared by United States Steel, and justifiably so. For the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge is more than a steel bridge. It is virtually a United States Steel Bridge.

The general contract for the work was placed with Columbia Steel Company, Pacific Coast subsidiary of United States Steel. The major job of fabricating and erecting the superstructure, including spinning the cables, was done by American Bridge Company, another United States Steel subsidiary.

Other United States Steel subsidiaries and the part they played in the bridge are: Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation—plain steel shapes and plates; American Steel & Wire Company—cable wire and suspender wire ropes; in addition, various materials and supplies from Cyclone Fence Company; Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company; National Tube Company; Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Company; Lorain Steel Company (now a part of Carnegie-Illinois)—all of United States Steel.

NYE COMMITTEE MAPS PROGRAM FOR ARMS RULE

Other Groups Working on Neutrality Bills.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—With administration leaders in both the senate and house working on neutrality legislation to supplant the existing law when it expires on May 1, Chairman Gerald P. Nye and other members of the senate munitions committee are counting upon the radical strength of the new congress in their hopes of putting over a drastic program to include:

1. Legislation to nationalize all munitions industries.

2. "Anti-war profits" legislation limiting personal incomes, in time of war, to $10,000, and corporation profits to 6 per cent.

3. A constitutional amendment authorizing the conscription of capital, manufacturing facilities, and labor in time of war.

4. A constitutional amendment providing for a national referendum before engaging in war with a foreign country.

Court's Radicals Aid.

These are the major recommendations of the radical majority of the senate munitions committee, and Senator Nye said today that he was embodying the proposals in three bills and two constitutional amendments to be introduced immediately after the opening of the 75th congress. Nye is encouraged in his hopes of success by the large representation of radicals in the new congress, saying that he believed that "a strong bloc of liberals in both houses" would support his program.

Whatever success the senate munitions committee may have with its program of socializing the munitions industries, conscripting labor and capital in time of war and "taxing the profits out of war," the subject of neutrality legislation will be among the first and most important to occupy the attention of the next congress because of threatening conditions in Europe and the fact that the present act expires on May 1.

House Action Planned.

Representative Sam D. McReynolds [Dem., Tenn.], chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, said today that he was planning to introduce new neutrality legislation immediately after the opening of congress. At the request of President Roosevelt, McReynolds declared, he is studying a report by Charles D. Warren, assistant attorney general under President Woodrow Wilson, who was in charge of neutrality questions during the world war.

McReynolds expressed doubt that a neutrality program could be drafted until the results of the forthcoming inter-American "peace" conference at Buenos Aires could be appraised. He had reference to the clause in the existing law excluding from its application American republics engaged in war with a non-American country.

The Latin American republics were excluded from the application of the present neutrality act because it was thought that their inclusion might be construed as a modification of the Monroe Doctrin, but this question is to be reconsidered at the Buenos Aires conference, which President Roosevelt will open and Secretary of State Hull will attend.

See Roosevelt Measures.

Whatever conclusions Mr. McReynolds may form as the result of his studies the neutrality legislation he introduces in the house will be what the President wants, just as the legislation introduced in the senate by Chairman Key Pittman of the foreign relations committee will be what the President wants. This is the source of apprehension on the part of the senate isolationists, such as Arthur H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.], William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho], Hiram Johnson [Radical, Cal.], and George W. Norris [Radical, Neb.].

The President has favored permissive legislation, which would permit him to use his discretion in the proclamation of embargoes on shipments of munitions, and even to discriminate between belligerents, as when he sought to lend assistance to England in the application of sanctions against Italy.

But the senate isolationists demand rigidly mandatory legislation and hope to strengthen the existing law in this respect when it is continued. The present law provides that the President "shall" proclaim an embargo on the shipment of arms, ammunition and implements of war to belligerents "as soon as such fact [the existence of war] shall come to his knowledge."

INDUSTRY, LABOR CALLED TO JOINT PARLEY DEC. 10

Legislative Program to Be Considered.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—George L. Berry in his position as federal industrial coördinator today issued a call to all representatives of industry and labor to meet with the council for industrial progress, which will hold its third session here Dec. 10 and 11.

The summons was a follow up to Berry's action of yesterday, when he announced that the Labor Nonpartisan league, of which he is director with John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers of America, will maintain its political setup pending the "political realignment" of the major parties which the league believes inevitable.

Stabilizing Is Aim.

Berry's federal job calls upon him to attempt to bring employer and employé together. He said that the paramount business of next month's conference will be for "formulation of a program of industrial legislation looking toward long time stabilization of recovery, creation of employment opportunity, and improvement of competitive and labor conditions in industry."

He expressed a hope that industry as well as labor would be well represented at the conference.

Covers Wide Subject.

"The problems which will come before us cover the operations of raw materials producers, the great manufacturing corporations and finally reach through distributive processes to the corner grocery and the crossroads general store," he remarked. "They affect the traditional property rights of the owners of America's biggest industrial plants and the littlest of the little business men. The individual rights of millions of workers are directly involved.

"I believe that practical considerations and sound business judgment will influence industry ownership and management to welcome this opportunity to assist in directing the course of a movement in which they are so much concerned."

All Are Welcome.

Industrialists who previously have remained aloof from the industry council and those who have criticized its operations severely will be welcomed in "friendly spirit" at the conference, Berry declared.

The conference will hear reports from committees dealing with national industrial policy, maximum work week, general wage and child labor, fair trade practices, internal and external competition, anti-trust laws, financial aid to small enterprise, and government competition with private enterprise. All these committees are expected to recommend legislative or administrative action by the government in connection with their findings.

Propose to Fight Lewis.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 12.—(AP)—A proposal for a concerted drive by all craft unions to combat John L. Lewis' rebel committee for industrial organization came today from leaders of the American Federation of Labor's building trades department.

This move in the battle between the federation's craft union leaders and the ten Lewis unions followed a report that eight of the federation's 170 executive council members still wanted to make peace with Lewis.

Nine wanted to expel the rebels at the federation's general convention here next week, it was said in usually well informed quarters after a council member had made a survey of the sentiment of his fellow members.

15 Saved from Death as Sewer Tunnel Caves In

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Fifteen sewer tunnel workers, working 150 feet underground, narrowly escaped death today when tons of quicksand and rocks broke into their tunnel. Warned by the roar of the slipping earth and rock, the workers fled toward the shaft 320 feet away which leads to ground level. A few minutes before the muck reached the shaft the men were hauled to safety. The slide left a hole 50 feet wide and 60 feet deep over the spot, with two houses almost toppling into the pit.

CITY LAUNCHES NEW CAMPAIGN AGAINST SMOKE

Violators Face Court Summons.

Chief Smoke Inspector Frank A. Chambers announced the opening of a new campaign against violators of the city smoke abatement ordinances yesterday. Repeated offenders, he said, would be hailed into court.

"There is little excuse for most of the violations," Chambers declared. "Engineers, janitors, and householders will save time, health, and money by following our instructions for handling all types of furnaces. Our bulletins are available to everybody."

Classes for Janitors.

As part of the campaign janitors will be summoned to the smoke inspection office for class instructions in furnace firing. The classes, held in coöperation with the Flat Janitors' union, will open Dec. 1.

The chief smoke violators now are flats and residences, the city's records indicate. In 1910 the railroads were charged with 45 per cent of all violations reported, and flats and homes with 2.8 per cent. In the last year the railroads were charged with 4½ per cent of the violations and flats and homes with 63 per cent.

Follow Up 421 Complaints.

Last month 421 complaints were investigated by nine engineers working under Chambers. They filed 369 reports of smoking chimneys. Of this number 233 involved buildings, 129 locomotives and roundhouses, and seven boats. In the same month 162 nuisances were abated. These included 33 new smoke stacks, 14 new sets of equipment, 93 plans with improved methods of smoke control, and 22 changes of boilers.

The chief inspector said at least $7,000,000 a year is wasted in Chicago through careless or inefficient methods of firing. The health hazard, he added, is incalculable. During the year ending last April, according to the department's records, 163,000 tons of solid matter was deposited on the city from belching smokestacks.

CONVICTED HOEPPELS SEEK NEW HEARING IN WEST POINT DEAL

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Representative John H. Hoeppel of California and his son, Charles, today filed a petition in the Supreme court for a rehearing of their appeal from conviction on charges of conspiracy to sell a West Point appointment.

The two men are under sentence of four months to one year.

The Supreme court recently affirmed the conviction of the Hoeppels. In filing the petition for rehearing, counsel for the Hoeppels contended it was in violation of their constitutional right to try them before a jury on which federal employés served.

FALLS DOWN STAIRWAY; DIES.

U. S. MAY LUMP ALL SEA STRIKES IN ONE INQUIRY

Admiral to Withdraw in Coast Parley.

New York, Nov. 12.—[Special.]—A new and broad investigation of the maritime situation on the east and gulf coasts, with the possibility that it might be consolidated with the inquiry now under way on the Pacific coast, was announced today by H. A. Wiley, chairman of the maritime commission in Washington.

Wiley's statement disclosed that Rear Admiral Harry G. Hamlet, who has been conducting the commission's inquiry into maritime conditions on the west coast, would withdraw from strike settlement negotiations there and return to Washington.

The statement said that on Admiral Hamlet's return the commission would discuss the advisability of consolidating its various inquiries.

Seamen Win Concession.

The striking seamen won a victory today when the American Range Lines, Inc., made a tentative separate agreement with the strategy committee. Joseph Curran, committee chairman, announced the company agreed to the strikers' demands for parity with Pacific coast contractural conditions.

Meanwhile, in New York shipowners rejected a proposal for negotiations in the seamen's strike here after strike leaders had announced adhesion of union mates, pilots, engineers, and radio operators.

At the same time officials of the International Mercantile Marine, which controls the Panama-Pacific line, announced the cancellation of the scheduled sailing of the liner Pennsylvania for the Pacific coast on Saturday.

Charge U. S. Aids Owners.

At the International Seamen's union headquarters it was announced that three delegations of striking seamen, numbering about 150 in all, had called on union officials this morning and offered to go back to work. A new meeting of strikers at the Manhattan lyceum tonight was expected to ratify naming of representatives of three other unions to the strike strategy committee, including the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association, the American Radio Telegraphers' association, and locals 88 and 90 of the Master Mates and Pilots' association.

In a statement pledging coöperatio~ in the walkout, Hoyt S. Haddock, president of the radio men, charged that the department of commerce was "offering every assistance to the shipowners in the breaking of regulations by permitting them to sail their ships with incompetent crews."

The major disturbance in the gulf walkout today was reported from Houston, where strikers defied police orders against picketing. Some 185 pickets were arrested yesterday, and strike leaders said they would continue to send out pickets until all 700 strikers in port were taken into custody.

West Coast Still Tied Up.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Immediate opening of peace negotiations in the maritime strike that has throttled Pacific coast marine commerce for two weeks was forecast today by Assistant Labor Secretary Edward F. McGrady.

Five hundred members of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipyard Workers of America voted last night on striking for higher wages and union recognition in San Pedro, Cal. A similar strike is under way at the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation here.

COURT WILL UPSET SOCIAL SECURITY ACT, TOWNSEND PREDICTS

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, co-founder of the pension plan bearing his name, told 5,000 adherents today the federal social security act "will, in all probability, be declared unconstitutional."

"I have that on the word of an eminent authority on the constitution," Dr. Townsend said.

He said he planned to offer a new bill before congress.

"It will be called the public welfare act," he said, "and in its vital points, it will not differ from those we already have written. But it will contain a few changes.

"One will eliminate that clause which rules out a person with an income of more than $2,400 a year, or those who are property owners.

"That's obviously unconstitutional. Besides . . . we can't encourage men, in their youth, to build incomes and acquire property, only to say to them later that they must give it up to be eligible for our support."

Indiana Convict Flees from Farm to Chicago

Chicago police were asked last night to search for Robert E. Manlon, who was reported to have walked away from the prison farm of the Indiana state penitentiary at Michigan City yesterday. According to prison officials, Manlon hired a taxicab in Michigan City, was driven to State and Congress streets here, paid his fare, and was quickly lost in the crowds. The taxi driver reported the incident after driving back to Michigan City. Manlon was said to have been serving a term for forgery.

DESCRIBE NEW TREATMENT FOR EARLY SYPHILIS

N. U. Medical School Staf Tells of Tests.

Discovery of a new and apparently successful clinical treatment of early syphilis was reported yesterday by the Northwestern university medical school.

The treatment was developed by Drs. Clarence A. Neymann, Theodore K. Lawless, and S. L. Osborne, all of the school of medicine. The method, which, according to a university announcement, points to "an early and speedy eradication of the disease," successfully combines the ancient use of heat with modern chemotherapy.

Recover in Six Weeks.

A complete report of their findings was published in the Journal of the American Medical association. In this, the physicians traced their work, from their initial experiments with "artificial fever"—developed by Dr. Neymann in 1929—through the complete recovery of seven syphilitic patients after six weeks' treatment.

Each of the seven patients was given an average of five sessions of "fever," during which his temperature was kept at 105.8 degrees for two hours. Every fever session was followed by a large injection of neoarsphenamine and a small dose of bismuth salicylate.

"In every case," according to the medical report, "all symptoms of the disease disappeared shortly after the combined therapy was instituted. The seven patients have remained free from all clinical and serologic symptoms for periods ranging from five to eighteen months."

Unsuccessful Without Drugs.

Seven other patients who were treated with artificial fever alone developed further clinical or serologic signs of syphilis, in contrast to those treated with both heat and drugs.

"It is probable," continues the report of the tests, "that the syphilitic virus can be eradicated from all parts of the human body by the simultaneous use of high fever, arsphenamine, and bismuth compound. There is no demonstrable evidence of injury to heart, liver, or kidney function provided they are produced by penetrating heat, that is, electro-magnetic induction."

CELANESE PLANT CLOSES AS 9,000 VOTE TO STRIKE

Cumberland, Md., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Officials of the Celanese Corporation of America, which employs 9,000 persons, announced tonight, "We are closing as soon as possible." The announcement came shortly after the United Textile Workers of America called a strike at the plant.

Charles D. Walton, plant manager, said that full closing would require three days, due to material now being processed.

The strike call was effective with the 11 p. m. shift. Walton said he did not know how many persons reported to work, but said there had been no trouble.

Walton did not say how long the plant would remain closed. He said he did not know how many of the corporation's employés were members of the union. He did say that the plant, up to 11 p. m., was working the shifts "normal" for this time of the year.

Gov. Harry W. Nice said he had done "everything within my power to avert" a strike. He said he had telegraphed both sides earlier in the day asking them not to abandon negotiations.

"My only concern, since this strike cannot apparently be averted, is that there must be no destruction of property or injury to persons," Nice said. "Law and order must be maintained."

INDUSTRY, LABOR CALLED TO JOINT PARLEY DEC. 10

Legislative Program to Be Considered.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—George L. Berry in his position as federal industrial coördinator today issued a call to all representatives of industry and labor to meet with the council for industrial progress, which will hold its third session here Dec. 10 and 11.

The summons was a follow up to Berry's action of yesterday, when he announced that the Labor Nonpartisan league, of which he is director with John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers of America, will maintain its political setup pending the "political realignment" of the major parties which the league believes inevitable.

Stabilizing Is Aim.

Berry's federal job calls upon him to attempt to bring employer and employé together. He said that the paramount business of next month's conference will be for "formulation of a program of industrial legislation looking toward long time stabilization of recovery, creation of employment opportunity, and improvement of competitive and labor conditions in industry."

He expressed a hope that industry as well as labor would be well represented at the conference.

Covers Wide Subject.

"The problems which will come before us cover the operations of raw materials producers, the great manufacturing corporations and finally reach through distributive processes to the corner grocery and the crossroads general store," he remarked. "They affect the traditional property rights of the owners of America's biggest industrial plants and the littlest of the little business men. The individual rights of millions of workers are directly involved.

"I believe that practical considerations and sound business judgment will influence industry ownership and management to welcome this opportunity to assist in directing the course of a movement in which they are so much concerned."

All Are Welcome.

Industrialists who previously have remained aloof from the industry council and those who have criticized its operations severely will be welcomed in "friendly spirit" at the conference, Berry declared.

The conference will hear reports from committees dealing with national industrial policy, maximum work week, general wage and child labor, fair trade practices, internal and external competition, anti-trust laws, financial aid to small enterprise, and government competition with private enterprise. All these committees are expected to recommend legislative or administrative action by the government in connection with their findings.

Propose to Fight Lewis.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 12.—(AP)—A proposal for a concerted drive by all craft unions to combat John L. Lewis' rebel committee for industrial organization came today from leaders of the American Federation of Labor's building trades department.

This move in the battle between the federation's craft union leaders and the ten Lewis unions followed a report that eight of the federation's 170 executive council members still wanted to make peace with Lewis.

Nine wanted to expel the rebels at the federation's general convention here next week, it was said in usually well informed quarters after a council member had made a survey of the sentiment of his fellow members.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Fifteen sewer tunnel workers, working 150 feet underground, narrowly escaped death today when tons of quicksand and rocks broke into their tunnel. Warned by the roar of the slipping earth and rock, the workers fled toward the shaft 320 feet away which leads to ground level. A few minutes before the muck reached the shaft the men were hauled to safety. The slide left a hole 50 feet wide and 60 feet deep over the spot, with two houses almost toppling into the pit.

CITY LAUNCHES NEW CAMPAIGN AGAINST SMOKE

Violators Face Court Summons.

Chief Smoke Inspector Frank A. Chambers announced the opening of a new campaign against violators of the city smoke abatement ordinances yesterday. Repeated offenders, he said, would be hailed into court.

"There is little excuse for most of the violations," Chambers declared. "Engineers, janitors, and householders will save time, health, and money by following our instructions for handling all types of furnaces. Our bulletins are available to everybody."

Classes for Janitors.

As part of the campaign janitors will be summoned to the smoke inspection office for class instructions in furnace firing. The classes, held in coöperation with the Flat Janitors' union, will open Dec. 1.

The chief smoke violators now are flats and residences, the city's records indicate. In 1910 the railroads were charged with 45 per cent of all violations reported, and flats and homes with 2.8 per cent. In the last year the railroads were charged with 4½ per cent of the violations and flats and homes with 63 per cent.

Follow Up 421 Complaints.

Last month 421 complaints were investigated by nine engineers working under Chambers. They filed 369 reports of smoking chimneys. Of this number 233 involved buildings, 129 locomotives and roundhouses, and seven boats. In the same month 162 nuisances were abated. These included 33 new smoke stacks, 14 new sets of equipment, 93 plans with improved methods of smoke control, and 22 changes of boilers.

The chief inspector said at least $7,000,000 a year is wasted in Chicago through careless or inefficient methods of firing. The health hazard, he added, is incalculable. During the year ending last April, according to the department's records, 163,000 tons of solid matter was deposited on the city from belching smokestacks.

SEES 4 MILLION LESS ON RELIEF AS YEAR'S MARK

Hopkins Predicting Drop to 15 Million.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins this afternoon predicted there will be four million fewer persons on federal, state and county relief rolls next Jan. 1 than there were on Jan. 1, 1936.

Hopkins estimated that there will be 3,750,000 cases or 15,000,000 individuals on federal and local relief rolls next Jan. 1, as compared to 4,756,000 cases or 19,024,000 persons on the rolls last Jan. 1.

The estimate would bring a 40 per cent decline in relief rolls from the peak of Jan. 1, 1935, when there were 5,316,000 relief cases or 21,264,000 individuals on relief. On the Hopkins estimate the New Deal will enter the new year with 6 million fewer persons on relief than at the 1935 peak.

Cites Employment Gains.

Hopkins attributed the decline to recovery and increased employment under the New Deal. He estimated that relief rolls have dropped 28 per cent since the first of the year and will continue to decline through the first of the year and beyond despite the usual seasonal uptrend in winter months.

The prediction was made in the face of a report showing that the federal share of the relief load increased by 10 per cent in the first two weeks of October. The number of persons employed under the works program was 3,498,012 on Oct. 15, an increase of 39,020 in the first two weeks of the month.

Hopkins insisted this increase did not alter his prediction because it was due to drouth relief and would fall away shortly. Asked if the drouth relief increase should not have been reflected in rolls earlier, he said that its effect was felt all along.

Declines to Estimate Cost.

Hopkins declined to estimate how much of a drop could be expected in the cost to the federal government by the relief drop. He said that the WPA rolls would show a drop of about 550,000 persons, or 20 per cent, so that, allowing four to a family, about 2 million individuals would cease to rely on the federal government for their living.

Of the total cost Hopkins said, "if you reduce the rolls by X number of persons the cost should drop X number of dollars." Asked how many "X dollars" he would seek of congress, he said, "I don't want to say now; we have definitly passed the hump and will expend less money."

Asked how much the WPA will seek as a temporary appropriation from the next congress to replenish relief funds nearing exhaustion, he said he could not say. Told of President Roosevelt's estimate of 500 million dollars he still refused to make an estimate.

In Doubt on Spending Total.

Hopkins insisted that he does not know how much money is on hand and when it will be exhausted. He did know that the WPA spends about 180 million dollars a month.

Hopkins smiled jubilantly when asked to comment on the election. Speaking of the Republican attacks upon him he said "they combed the country in which we spent 6 billion dollars in the last three and a half years and all they found were a few political charges—there wasn't a single charge of graft in the whole bunch."

Asked facetiously if he planned to discharge any WPA state directors, for example in Maine or Vermont—the two Republican states—Hopkins said "if you follow that through you can say we carried 46 states."

"Didn't you?" he was asked.

U. S. COURT REFUSES INJUNCTION AGAINST SOCIAL SECURITY TAX

Boston, Mass., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Federal Judge George C. Sweeney refused a temporary injunction today against the Boston and Maine railroad to restrain the road from paying taxes under the social security act.

George P. Davis of Waltham, a Boston and Maine stockholder, sought the injunction.

Judge Sweeney also granted a petition of the United States attorney general's department for permission to intervene in the action, and announced the case would be heard on its merits "at a later date."

PRESS FREEDOM HALL OF FAME IS ESTABLISHED

Gallery Will Be Set Up at State University.

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—The Editors' Hall of Fame committee and the Illinois Press association voted today to establish a gallery of notable champions of freedom of the press. The new gallery will take rank as a section of the hall of fame at the University of Illinois, a project of nation-wide interest.

Hundreds of editors and newspaper men from all sections of the state arrived for the seventy-first annual press association and journalism conference at the state co-educational institution today. The annual event will continue through Saturday afternoon.

Name 12 for Admission.

The opening of the new gallery places beside Benjamin Franklin and Horace Greeley in the hall men like John Peter Zenger, Samuel Adams, Thomas Paine, and others who "tried the power of right against the power of might." Twelve men were chosen for admission to the hall in this section.

Brief notes on the men elected to the freedom of the press section of the editors' hall of fame are as follows:

John Milton, for writing the Areopagitica, the first reasoned exposition of the theory of freedom of expression, and the storehouse from which succeeding generations of philosophers, publicists, and journalists had drawn their inspiration in the continuous struggle for freedom of the press.

John Wilkes of England.

John Wilkes, 1727-'97, English reformer and publisher, editor of the North Briton, who established the principle that all government servants from the king down were subject to criticism, who established the illegality of general warrants, who attacked the archaic rules of sedition and obscene libel, and who succeeded in opening the doors of parliament to reporters.

Thomas Erskine, 1750-1823, probably the greatest advocate the English bar has ever seen, for his defense of persons tried under the stringent libel laws, for his brilliant speeches demanding the right for the jury to determine the defamatory implication of a libel, for his efforts in passing the libel act of 1792, for his defense of John Stockdale, bookseller of Thomas Paine, of Hardy, Home, Took, and Theowall, for his contribution in modernizing the law of libel.

James Franklin, Printer.

James Franklin, 1697-1735, printer and publisher of the fourth newspaper in the American colonies, the New England Courant, for criticising the colonial government and attempting to establish the principle of free and open criticism of government and government officials.

William Bradford, first printer in Pennsylvania and New York, for his efforts to establish the right of free and open religious discussion in Pennsylvania, a contest which resulted in his removal to New York.

Benjamin Harris, British and American newspaper editor, who was imprisoned, fined, and put into the pillory for his efforts to establish a political newspaper, the publisher of the first newspaper in the American colonies which was suppressed by the governor and his council for containing "reflections of a very high nature," and notable opponent of the colonial licensing laws.

Zenger Awarded Place.

John Peter Zenger, for his contest with the governor of New York for the right to criticise political officers, and the defendant in the famous trial in which Andrew Hamilton, Philadelphia lawyer, urged the jury to determine the defamatory nature of a publication.

Edward Cave, English news writer, who over a period of years fought for the right to report the proceedings and debates in parliament.

Thomas Jefferson, a sponsor of the National Gazette at Philadelphia, defender of the freedom of the press clause in the Virginia and Kentucky resolutions and in the bill of rights of the American constitution.

Samuel Adams, greatest editorial voice raised in New England prior to and during the American revolution, editor and political pamphleteer and great exponent of the right of free and untrammeled discussion of all subjects.

Among those previously elected to the editor's hall of fame are: Benjamin Franklin, Victor Lawson, former publisher of The Chicago Daily News; Joseph Medill, former publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE; Elijah Parish Lovejoy, martyred editor of southern Illinois, and Henry Jarvis Raymond, former editor of the New York Times.

PROTESTS DELAY BY RAIL LINES ON 103D ST. VIADUCT

Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, in a conference yesterday with two railroad officials, asked their intentions on carrying out a 1931 contract with the city to share cost of a viaduct over their tracks on East 103d street, opening a needed east and west thoroughfare.

G. D. Brooks, vice president of the Nickle Plate road, pleaded poverty, and A. M. Williams, president of the Chicago and Western Indiana railway, and of the Chicago Belt line, said he would give his answer next week. Commissioner Hewitt protested against further delay and asked the corporation counsel's office to examine the contract with a view of recovering land at 110th street which the city had turned over to the rail lines for use as switching yards as a part of the agreement.

The city faces loss of a $420,000 federal grant as part of its share of the cost of building the viaduct through failure of the railroads to live up to the contract. The federal deadline for the grant is Jan. 11, 1937.

William Stanley, Engineer, Accepts Cornell Chair

William E. Stanley, consulting sanitary and hydraulic engineer of Chicago, who has been associated with numerous sewage projects throughout the country for twenty years, has accepted appointment as professor of sanitary engineering at Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y. This was announced yesterday by H. W. Helmer, president of the Cornell club of Chicago. Mr. Stanley has been a junior partner in the firm of Greeley & Hansen since 1925.

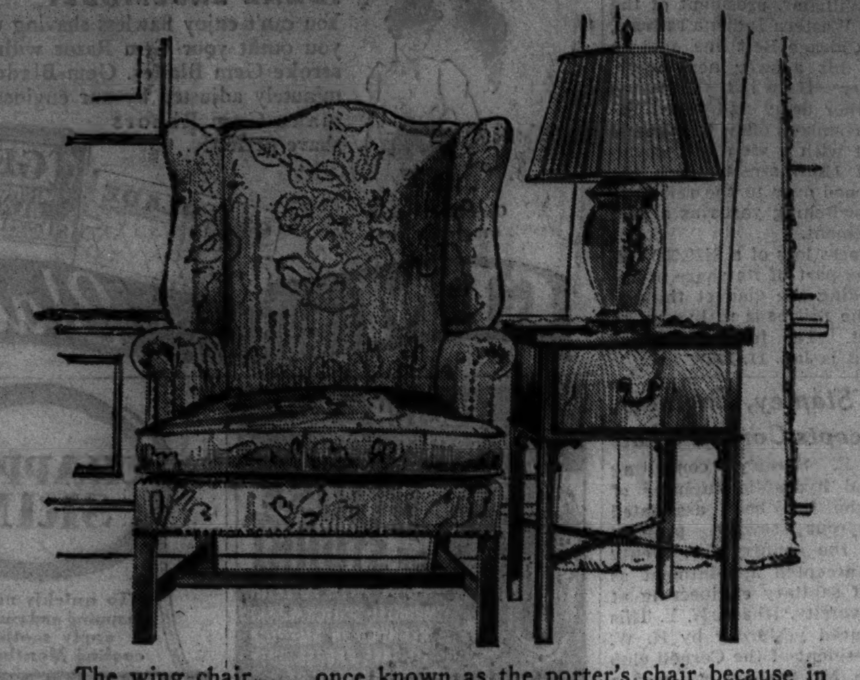
INVITING ENSEMBLES

Reflecting 18th Century Charm and Character Each Piece Chosen to Complement the Others of The Group in Beauty of Proportion and Arrangement



The wing chair . . . once known as the porter's chair because in the old palaces it sheltered the servant while he waited in the drafty halls to welcome guests . . . is covered in a colorful mohair-faced linen fabric. Both the commode, which is mahogany, and the chair are Chippendale in style. The lamp, English Staffordshire, is hexagon in shape, with a richly colored flower decoration on the creamy ground.

Chair, $55 Commode, $14.75 Lamp, $25

Graceful in design, this fan-back chair has a cover of lustrous damask enhanced by solid mahogany framework. Down and feather cushion. Selection of patterns in brown and green. The pie-crust edge table in solid walnut or mahogany. The lamp is a reproduction of Victorian ruby cased glass and is handsomely brass-mounted.

Chair, $59.75 Table, $14.75 Lamp, $17.50

The button-back barrel chair is always an asset to a room, in comfort as well as beauty; the cover of this one is damask, and is available in a selection of colors, with decorative fringe trimming on back, sides and cushions. The distinctive, swing-leg, drop-leaf table is all mahogany with a convenient little drawer. The lamp, 3-candle style, has the finish of old silver and the shade is antique red tole.

Chair, $59.50 Table, $16.50 Lamp, $25

English style lounge chair, large and roomy, yet proportioned with an eye to beauty. Covered in a mohair-pile fabric in choice of colors. Down and feather cushion and pad back. Table is all mahogany. Lenox china lamp, deep rust in color, with delicate Dresden flower decoration.

Chair, $59.50 Table, $16.50 Lamp, $27.50

N. Y. JOBLESS TAX LAW FATE RESTS IN HIGHEST COURT

Clashing Views Given in Closing Arguments.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Clashing views on the constitutionality of the New York unemployment insurance act were presented to the United States Supreme court today as arguments were closed and the case went to conference for decision.

Defending the legislation which taxes employers to aid those out of work, Henry Epstein, New York solicitor general, contended it was a function of the state to prescribe for social ills.

Continuing an assault begun yesterday, Frederick H. Wood, New York attorney, asserted unemployment was not the fault of the employers but grew out of a variety of national and world conditions that affect supply and demand.

Sees Unemployment Rise.

Another opposing lawyer, James McCormick Mitchell of Buffalo, argued the legislation would increase unemployment because employers would tend to reduce their force to keep from paying taxes into the jobless fund.

A decision on validity of the act, which embodies New Deal principles and is supplementary to the federal social security law, is possible on Dec. 7. The ruling, Epstein said, will affect unemployment insurance acts in 14 other states.

Under the legislation a tax is assessed on the pay rolls of employers of four or more persons. The rate is 1 per cent for the first year, 2 the second year, and 3 thereafter.

Epstein defended the law against a challenge by the Associated Industries of New York, Inc., and by two Syracuse firms, E. C. Stearns & Co. and W. H. H. Chamberlin, Inc.

Cites Government's Duty.

"The science of government is to the ills of society what the science of medicine is to the ills of the body," he said.

"States are the scientific laboratories out of which must come the prescriptions which will cure, prevent, or palliate industrial evils. Unemployment is one of the evils resulting from a maladjustment of forces at work in our economic system. Unemployment insurance has been devised by New York state to aid in meeting this problem."

Replying to contentions of his opponents that the act would not reduce unemployment, Epstein argued the system would "maintain consistency of purchasing power within a community by building up resources in periods of employment to offset the loss of wages in periods of depression."

TWO YOUTHS HELD AS BURGLARS.

Charles Zatterstrom, 2939 Fifth avenue, and Arthur Albertani of 3144 Walnut street, both 17 years old, were held to the grand jury in bonds totaling $22,000 yesterday by Judge Stephen Adamowski in Boys' court on charges of burglary.

BEG YOUR PARDON

By a proofreading error the definition of a light year, the distance traveled by light in a year, was given yesterday in THE TRIBUNE as "approximately six million miles." It should have been approximately six trillion, or six million million miles.

ADMITS CRIME TO PRESIDENT; ASKS HIS HELP

Stamp Expert Vanishes After Odd Coup.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—An Indianapolis stamp collector who ran afoul of the law and took a long shot at correcting his mistake by placing his fate and business affairs in the hands of the President of the United States was sought today by postal authorities.

He is Fulton Vernon Smith, charged in an indictment with using the mails to defraud in a stamp selling scheme. But Smith, once a collector reputable enough to have some philatelical dealings with President Roosevelt, is somewhere in China, postal authorities believe.

Listed among the nation's better stamp collectors, Smith became hard pressed financially and advertised rare stamp issues which he did not have, at bargain prices, payment to be in advance of delivery. Postal authorities say he collected $1,000.

Decides to Confess.

Then he decided to make a clean breast of it to President Roosevelt in the hope the chief executive, because stamp collecting also is his hobby, might come to the rescue.

So he wrote a letter and several documents to the President, including a promissory note, a paper giving the President his power of attorney and an affidavit making the President cobeneficiary with Mrs. Smith in his life insurance.

In his letter to the President Smith admitted he had used the mails to defraud. He asked the President to send him enough money to repay his victims, and said he would wait a specified number of days for an answer, the note and life insurance to serve as security.

Uses Fictitious Address.

All these things Smith placed in an envelope. To assure they would get into the right hands and not be tossed aside by a White House clerk, Smith addressed the envelope to a fictitious person at a fictitious address in California. On the envelope he wrote the return address of Miss Margaret Lehand, private secretary to the President, through whom he had conducted stamp dealings with Mr. Roosevelt.

He waited in Indianapolis for his reply. The letter went to California and finally was "returned" to the White House to Miss Lehand, who turned it over to postal inspectors.

By the time the inspectors got to Smith's home he was gone, and the next they knew he was in Buenos Aires. Then letters came from him postmarked in China.

ORDERS ARREST OF NINE DRIVERS.

Judge Gibson E. Gorman in License court yesterday issued warrants for the arrest of nine motorists who failed to appear in court to answer charges of neglecting to obtain safety stickers for the cars.

3 HURT IN CRASH ON WAY TO FIRE IN LAKE FOREST

Hit Auto of F. W. Fairman Jr. and a Post.

Three persons, one a volunteer fireman, were slightly injured late last night while responding to a fire alarm in Lake Forest. They were Thomas Atteridge, 50 years old, 114 North Washington circle, Lake Forest, the fireman; Rita, 16, his daughter, and Robert Lundeen, 16, a friend. They were treated at Alice Home hospital.

The fire, starting supposedly from burning leaves, attacked an unused two story frame garage in the rear of the home of Richard Bentley, 1421 North Lake road. For a time it threatened the four car garage and chauffeur residence of Donald R. McLennan, 1345 North Lake road. Damage to the Bentley place was not estimated.

Volunteer Fireman Atteridge was home when he heard the alarm. He started for the scene with his daughter and Lundeen. In front of 999 North Lake street their car sidewiped the parked automobile of Fred W. Fairman Jr., 153 Lake avenue, Glencoe, and swerved into a post. Fairman and his wife were talking at the time with C. H. Morse Jr., 45 Stonegate road, Lake Forest, and a young woman. All had been to a party. The Morse car was also parked. Police said the two parked cars blocked the road.

Woman Dies of Injuries.

Mrs. Mary Wawrzosek, 62 years old, 2256 North Long avenue, a widow, died at St. Mary's hospital last evening from injuries incurred on Oct. 25, when she was struck by the car of a hit and run motorist at Grand and Lockwood avenues.

Hubert Welter, 40 years old, 718 Wesley avenue, Evanston, a greenhouse employé, died in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, last night of a skull fracture suffered last Monday when he was jolted off the rear of a truck in Niles Center.

Charles Schuetz, 64 years old, 411 State road, Arlington Heights, died yesterday in the Palatine hospital of injuries incurred Sept. 25 when he was struck by an automobile while walking near his home.

Child's Leg Fractured.

Carolina Hernandez, 5 years old, 1439 Roosevelt road, suffered a fractured right leg when she was struck last night by an automobile driven by Michael Lutfy, 1324 South Fairfield avenue, at Roosevelt road and Laflin street. She was taken to the County hospital.

Miss Veronica Ducey, 18 years old, 1160 East 54th street, daughter of Policeman Thomas Ducey of the Hyde Park station, incurred minor injuries yesterday when she was struck by an automobile under the Illinois Central railroad viaduct on 53d street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 875 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 661 were killed in Chicago. In the same period 16,827 were injured in trafic accidents within the city.

EX-CONVICT GETS SIX MONTHS AS DRUNKEN DRIVER

Senez Sentenced After Wild Truck Ride.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Clyde Pennock, false pretenses, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell; Lee Carter, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Epstein.

Milton Greer, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary; Nolan Kelly, William Golden, Leonard Cummings, and Deleon Edwards, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life each in the penitentiary; Harrison Hunt, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Robert C. O'Connell.

Harry Senez, 38 years old, 1854 West Adams street, an ex-convict, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Eugene L. McGarry in Safety court to serve six months in the county jail on charges of driving while intoxicated and reckless driving. He was arrested Tuesday night after he had driven his truck against a fire alarm box in front of his home, sidewiped a parked car, and then crashed into the rear of another car at Damen avenue near Jackson boulevard.

Police records showed that Senez served sentences in Joliet penitentiary for robbery and receiving stolen property. At the time of his arrest Tuesday, police said he was so intoxicated that he soon fell asleep when he was put in a cell.

Three other motorists were given 30 days jail terms by Judge McGarry who has asserted that ten day sentences do not seem effective in stopping reckless and drunken driving. They are Roosevelt Hamtdon, 25 years old, 321 East 45th street, colored, reckless driving; John C. Nicholas, 26 years old, 2666 Lincoln avenue, driving while intoxicated, and Al C. Rasch, 59 years old, 6546 Minerva avenue, reckless driving.

Charges of driving while intoxicated against Clifford Klimas, 41 years old, 1517 West 113th place, were continued until Nov. 24 pending investigation into the statement of Klimas that he paid $5 to the arresting policeman to drop the charge. Judge McGarry expressed disbelief of Klimas' statement but ordered a complete investigation.

Boy's Dream Saves 16 in Gas Filled Apartment

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 12.—(AP)—A 5 year old boy's scream when he dreamed he was being "chased by a big black bear" gave the warning early today which permitted 16 persons to escape from a smoke and gas filled four-family apartment building. Smoke and gas from an incinerator caused the situation.

DR. FITZ-PATRICK, NOTED SURGEON, SUCCUMBS AT 63

Heart Attack Kills Head of State Medical Board.

DR. GILBERT FITZ-PATRICK.

Dr. Gilbert Fitz-Patrick, chairman of the Illinois state board of medical examiners and noted obstetrical surgeon and also an authority on cancer control and military hygiene, died early yesterday of a heart ailment in his apartment at 181 Lake Shore drive. He was 63 years old.

His death came suddenly. Dr. Fitz-Patrick had attended the Armistice day ceremonies Wednesday at the city hall. There he complained of a slight illness. Refusing any aid he walked to his office at 185 North Wabash avenue, where he was given treatment and then taken to his apartment, where death followed.

Born in Washingtonville, O., Dr. Fitz-Patrick attended the Ohio Northern university at Ada. He was a graduate of the old Chicago Homeopathic Medical college and took postgraduate work in Dublin, Glasgow, London, and at the Sloane Maternity hospital in New York City.

Served Hospitals as Obstetrician.

Dr. Fitz-Patrick was attending obstetrician at Cook County, Henrotin, Passavant, and the Illinois Masonic hospitals. He was formerly head of the department of obstetrics at the Hahnemann Medical college.

During the world war he served as a colonel in the medical corps, being assigned as chief surgeon in the base hospital at Camp Gordon, Ga. It was during the war that he began his great interest in military hygiene. In 1927 he was a delegate of the Association of Military Surgeons to the Royal Institute of Public Health in Belgium and the following year was a delegate to the First International Congress of Public Health and Hygiene at Cairo, Egypt.

Dr. Fitz-Patrick was past president of the American Institute of Homeopathy and president of the Illinois section of the American Society for the Control of Cancer. He was a fellow and governor of the American College of Surgeons and a member of the Gorgas Memorial Institute of Tropical Medicine. He was president of the north side branch of the Chicago Medical society and a member of the national and state medical associations.

Urged Mental Tests in Schools.

Several years ago Dr. Fitz-Patrick advocated mental tests for all school children and the segregation from society of those found to be in a dangerous mental condition. He also had predicted that the study of medicine would lengthen man's expectancy of life to 100 years or more.

"You might as well fill an atomizer full of deadly germs and spread them through a room as to have a sneezer around," he once declared. He also warned of the danger of deadly sulphuric acid in smoke.

His widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Sanford Fitz-Patrick, and two brothers survives. Masonic funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the Scottish Rite cathedral at 935 North Dearborn street. Burial will be private.

FRANKLIN CUTCHEON, NOTED LAWYER DIES; DECORATED IN WAR

Locust Valley, N. Y., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Franklin W. M. Cutcheon, retired civic worker and lawyer, former secretary general of the American Red Cross, and special legal adviser to Gen. Pershing during the world war, died today at his home here. He was 72.

After practicing law for nearly forty years at St. Paul, Minn., and in New York, during which he gained nation-wide recognition, Mr. Cutcheon retired in 1924. At that time he was senior partner in the law firm of Cutcheon, Taylor, Bowie & Marsh.

In 1917 he was commissioned a captain in the quartermasters corps. He rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel. He was chairman of the board of contracts of the expeditionary forces and was decorated by five nations for his war service.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

Rush Corn Pickers.

Nov. 12, 1936.

THREE mechanical corn pickers have been working long hours at THE TRIBUNE'S Yorkville experimental farm this week as harvesters take advantage of sunshiny days to hurry the corn into the cribs. Six men, three teams, and four tractors have been kept busy at the corn picking job, harvesting about 30 to 35 acres a day.

Two of the pickers are of the single row type. The other, a new machine, picks two rows at a time. All the pickers are operated with tractors. Another tractor is used to run the elevator that hoists the corn into the crib as the ears are dumped from the wagons. Three men run the tractors that operate the pickers and three others haul the corn from the fields with teams.

How Device Is Made.

The new two row picker is mounted directly on the tractor which operates it. A pointed metal shield, closely resembling a locomotive fender, is attached to the front of the tractor.

This "cowcatcher" moves along between the two rows of corn that are being picked. It, together with two smaller shields located at either side and slightly to the rear of the big one, guide the stalks into the snapping rollers where the ears are snapped off and passed through elevators to the husking rollers at the rear of the machine.

There the husks are ripped off and the ears from each set of rollers are carried by another elevator to the wagon which is pulled directly back of the tractor by a drawbar hitch. The machinery is driven by a power takeoff from the tractor.

Single Mechanical Unit.

The farm manager says the new picker has several advantages over other types of mechanical pickers and also some drawbacks. It is easier to operate, since the picker and tractor form a single mechanical unit. There is no side draft from the wagon because its load is a straight pull on the tractor's drawbar.

There is no necessity for hand picking five rows of corn when laying off a new land in a field as this machine knocks down only the two rows that are being picked. Moreover, the new picker picks its own turn rows at the ends of the field. In using the other types of pickers the men hand pick eight rows at each end of the fields for turn rows.

Ties Up Tractor Entirely.

The chief objection to the new picker is that the tractor on which it is installed cannot be used for any purpose other than operating the picker. Although the machine is assembled in three sections so that it may easily be put on or taken off the tractor, the time and labor required to remove and reinstall it make it impractical to try to use the tractor for any odd jobs during the corn picking season.

So far the new picker has done satisfactory work. It has picked as much as 20 acres in a ten hour day.

Holder of Offices in Several Groups.

Howard E. Haynie, 42 years old, 3000 Sheridan road, who was elected president of the Chicago Real Estate board a week ago, died in the Presbyterian hospital of pneumonia yesterday after a brief illness.

HOWARD HAYNIE. [Moffett Photo.]

Born in Chicago, Mr. Haynie was graduated from the Evanston academy. He took an extension course of the University of Chicago, was graduated from the John Marshall Law school, and was admitted to the Illinois bar in 1924.

Served in U. S. Navy.

Mr. Haynie entered the real estate business as a salesman in 1915, soon afterward opening his own office on Lunt avenue. He served in the navy during the war, and upon his return became executive secretary of the president of the North Western railroad. He reëntered the real estate business in Florida several years later, and since 1928 had been a member of the real estate firm of Wirtz, Haynie & Ehrat, 3180 Sheridan road, of which he was vice president and general manager at the time of his death.

In the final year of his life Mr. Haynie was first vice president of the Chicago Real Estate board, first vice president and director of the Illinois Association of Real Estate Boards, chairman of the realty committee, and member of the membership committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce, and director of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. For the last two years he had been president of the Institute of Real Estate Management.

Installation Due Dec. 2.

He was to have been installed as president of the Chicago Real Estate board at its annual meeting on Dec. 2.

Mr. Haynie is survived by his widow, Jean, and two children, Howard Jr., 10 years old, and Nancy Ruth, 8 years old.

Funeral services wil be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel of Rosehill cemetery, where Mr. Haynie will be buried.

WARNS OF DANGERS IN OVEREXPLOITING SOY BEAN INDUSTRY

The dangers of overexploiting the uses of soy beans in industry and expecting the plant to become a panacea for all agricultural and industrial woes were pointed out yesterday by E. F. Johnson, chairman of the statistical committee of the National Soy Bean Processors' association.

Speaking before the Agricultural club of Chicago in the La Salle hotel, Johnson said he did not mean to disparage the value of the soy bean, but rather to warn that its experimental stage has not been passed in most instances and that excessive enthusiasm might harm the new industry.

Actual uses of the bean in many cases have not been proved in practice and stock feed is still the market for 85 per cent of the soy bean oil-meal, he said.

H. R. Davison, vice president of the Institute of American Meat Packers, discussed the problem in the packing industry arising from "soft" pork caused by feeding of soybeans.

He said the American consumers' discrimination against "soft" pork causes it to be worth from $2 to $3 less per hundredweight.

PLAN MEMORIAL SERVICE SUNDAY FOR LORADO TAFT

Public memorial services will be held at 4:30 p. m. Sunday in University chapel, University of Chicago, for Lorado Taft, distinguished sculptor, who died recently. Speakers will be Prof. Robert Hieronymous, Dudley Crafts Watson, Dr. Albert W. Palmer, and Dr. Charles W. Gilkey. The university choir will sing.

Meanwhile, it was learned yesterday that Mr. Taft's unfinished memorial to George Washington and two heretofore unsung financial backers of the revolution, Robert Morris and Haym Salomon, will be completed by Mr. Taft's associate, Leonard Crunelle.

Mr. Crunelle first became associated with Mr. Taft in 1891, and is noted for many outstanding sculptural works, among them the Lincoln statues at Dixon, Freeport, and Springfield, a Negro war memorial in Lincoln park, and the Gov. John M. Palmer statue in Springfield.

SIGNAL TOWER VETERAN ERRS; DIES OF SHOCK

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—His first major error in 20 years' service as signal tower watchman at the junction of the Grand Trunk and Pere Marquette railroads here today indirectly cost the life of Thomas H. McCurdy, 64.

McCurdy, panic stricken at seeing a local mixed Grand Trunk train approach from the east on the left hand track, operated the emergency derailer and the locomotive rolled over in the ditch.

Clarence Spillane, engineer, and Emory Hare, fireman, both of Battle Creek, jumped clear and were uninjured. McCurdy, clambering down from his tower, admitted the accident was his fault and then toppled over dead as the result of a heart attack. The train, it was explained, had taken the left hand track in order to shunt a car of beets onto a Pere Marquette siding.

Gen. Kilbourne's Daughter, Injured in Fall, Improves

Hope was expressed yesterday for the recovery of Mrs. Elizabeth Tracy, 26 years old, daughter of Maj. Gen. Charles E. Kilbourne, commandant of the Sixth corps area, who was seriously injured while riding at Fort Sheridan Wednesday when her horse fell on her. Although Mrs. Tracy incurred a brain concussion and other injuries, she recovered consciousness in the post hospital yesterday for the first time since the accident, and physicians told her parents that they were "much encouraged." Mrs. Tracy is the wife of Capt. Maxwell Tracy of Fort Monroe, Va.

CERMAK ESTATE WORTH $200,000; PLACED IN TRUST

Members of Family to Share Property.

The final accounting of the executors of the estate of Anton J. Cermak, Chicago mayor who died in Florida on March 6, 1933, after being shot by an assassin, is now being prepared and will be presented to Probate Judge O'Connell within the next two weeks. This was disclosed yesterday by Attorney Otto Kerner Jr., counsel for the executors.

The report will disclose that the residual estate—after payment of taxes, claims, and charitable bequests—will amount to approximately $200,000, the lawyer stated. This will consist of $15,000 in cash; 200 shares of Yellow Cab company stock, valued at $5,600; 100 shares of the Homan Building and Loan association, with a value of $10,000; Home Owners' Loan corporation bonds valued at $7,000; mortgages to the sum of $27,800; a judgment note for $1,823, and fifty parcels of real estate.

Division of Property.

Under the terms of Cermak's will all this property will be held in trust by the Lawndale National bank as trustee for the late mayor's three daughters and seven grandchildren. The estate will be divided into five equal shares. Each of the three daughters will receive one share and will be paid 5 per cent of the principal with accumulated interest annually until their shares are exhausted.

The remaining two shares will be held for the grandchildren. Each child will receive one-seventh of the entire two shares upon reaching the age of 21 years.

The real estate to be included in the trust is vacant land, according to Attorney Kerner, who is the husband of the youngest Cermak daughter, Mrs. Helen Kenlay Kerner. It was accepted by the heirs as Cermak's share in the partnership of Cermak & Serhant, real estate and insurance brokers, and will be held by the trustee until it can be sold advantageously.

Other Bequests Listed.

The former mayor's home at 2348 South Millard avenue and his summer home at Antioch, Ill., are not included in the trust. Both these properties were bequeathed outright to Mrs. Kerner. Mrs. Kerner, with her sisters, Mrs. Ella Jirka, wife of Dr. Francis Jirka, and Mrs. Lillian Graham, wife of State Senator Richey V. Graham, also were bequeathed equal shares in the building at 3347 West 26th street, where their father formerly conducted his business.

In probating the estate the executors have disbursed $216,000, of which $11,425 was in taxes to the state and $32,426 to the federal government in death taxes, court records show.

Robert P. Stewart Is Dead; Ex-Aid to Attorney General

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Robert P. Stewart, 53, former assistant United States attorney general, and formely United States attorney for South Dakota, died suddenly here today of a heart attack. He had in recent years been attached to the office of the Los Angeles county district attorney as chief deputy prosecutor. He was named assistant attorney general by President Wilson and retained the post under Harding and Coolidge. He represented the government in the Julian petroleum cases.

Coal Company President Dies of Infected Pimple

Alphonse E. Solecke, 31 years old, 8205 Escanaba avenue, president of the Southtown Coal and Coke company, died yesterday in the South Shore hospital of an infection which Dr. Paul Weimer said developed in a small pimple on his upper lip. Surviving are the widow, Louise, and a daughter, Nancy, 18 months old.

THOS. SULLIVAN WILLS $44,000 IN TRUST TO WIDOW

The will of Thomas F. Sullivan, leaving his $44,000 estate in trust to his widow, Emma, 5062 Kenmore avenue, was admitted to probate yesterday by Edward Luczak, assistant to the Probate judge. Mr. Sullivan, a pioneer north side grocer, died July 29 at the age of 80 years.

After the death of Mrs. Sullivan the principal will be divided in four shares, one to each of three living children and the fourth to the three children of a dead daughter.

The will of Alexander A. Ferguson, former dry goods clerk, who died Aug. 28 at the age of 70, leaving his $33,000 estate in trust to a cousin, Miss Bertha Cory of Denver, Colo., also was admitted to probate yesterday. On Miss Cory's death 10 per cent of the principal will go to the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children at 2211 North Oak Park avenue; 5 per cent to the Illinois Masonic hospital at 836 Wellington street, and the rest to two other cousins, Mary Chard of 228 North Laramie avenue, and Addie Fulton, 309 North West street, Waukegan.

The will of Mrs. Josephine M. Shepherd, also admitted to probate, leaves $40,000 to two daughters, Josephine and Mrs. John F. Cuneo, wife of the president of the Cuneo press. Mrs. Shepherd, who lived at 3300 Sheridan road, was the widow of Frederick R. Shepherd, railway supplies manufacturer. She died on Oct. 20.

Hold Services Tomorrow for the Rev. T. M. Kelly

Funeral services for the Rev. Thomas M. Kelly, 63 years old, will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in the chapel of the Little Sisters of the Poor home for the aged, of which he was chaplain, at 5148 Prairie avenue. RAISERS' STRIKE PARALYZES VAST TURKEY MARKET

Owners Refuse 12 Cent Price; Demand Quiz.

A quarter of a million turkeys—potential Thanksgiving dinners—strutted the Gonzales ranges while growers stubbornly refused a top price of 12 cents and demanded an investigation of a "uniform market" and alleged "price fixing." The average price for No. 1 birds last year was 25.13 cents a pound.

Seven leading raisers telegraphed Attorney General Homer S. Cummings and State Attorney William McCraw urging investigation of what they termed anti-trust law violations.

Authorities to Confer.

T. W. Steiner, chairman of the state farm grange executive commission, said:

"I think general conditions justify a much higher price for turkeys. While there are more turkeys this year, the buying power of the public is greater, and in fairness to raisers and consumers it might be well for the government to do some investigating."

Ed Walter, a raiser and signer of the telegrams, added:

Shipping Deadline Near.

Frank J. Bolner, executive of a local buying house, said birds intended for the vast eastern market must be on the way by Monday.

At Brady, another turkey center, a majority of raisers were withholding birds from the market. Brownwood, where 70 carloads are expected to be shipped east, reported similar conditions. Practically all turkeys at that town were being marketed through a coöperative marketing association which is advancing 10 cents a pound and offering to pay the balance when turkeys are sold in the north and east.

The United States department of agriculture has estimated the national production at about 20,000,000 birds this year.

Dr. Buswell of Wheaton Heads Presbyterian Group

DENIES HE MAILED EXTORTION NOTES TO AUNT OF COUNTESS

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Melvin A. Strickland, 27 year old Atlantic City mechanic, pleaded innocent today to charges of sending extortion letters to Mrs. Thomas Middleton, aunt of Countess Barbara Hutton Haugwitz-Reventlow.

United States Commissioner Marvin A. Spaulding continued Strickland in $10,000 bail pending action of the federal grand jury. The accused man was returned to Mercer county jail.

Admits Writing Threats.

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Frank Vitolo, acrobatic dancer and former vaudeville headliner, pleaded guilty in federal court today to an indictment charging him with sending threatening letters to Harry Sinclair, Mrs. George Horace Lorimer, and eight other persons in an attempt to extort money.

Judge Francis G. Caffey deferred sentence until Nov. 23 after instructing chief Probation Officer E. Fred Sweet to make a thorough investigation of Vitolo.

YVONNE DIONNE GETS PROPOSAL FROM BOBBY, 9

New York, Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Dr. Alan Roy Dafoe, here for a few days' vacation, said today that one of the Dionne quintuplets, whom he brought into the world, has received her first proposal.

"It came to Yvonne from an 8 year old boy in the state of Washington, who signed himself 'Bobby,'" Dr. Dafoe told reporters.

The proposal follows:

"Dear Yvonne:

"I have liked you very much since I seen your picture. I want to be the one to marry you when you are grown. I am 9 next month. I am going to keep my promise with you, so don't forget I asked you first. My name is Bobby. Not such a hot name, is it? I am going to be President when Mr. Roosevelt gets done with it, if I am older enough. Would you like to live in the White House? You can be the President when I am fighting wars.

"I don't guess your bigger enough to write yet, but when you get so let me know what you think of it and I won't give no other girl a chance to marry me but you. Don't tell the kids or they will tease us. I think you are prettier than your sisters. I have two sisters and they are not so hot looking. Two Booked After $1,700 Vanishes from Hotel Room

Zoologists to Open Chicago Academy of Science Talks

Dr. Orlando Park of the department of zoölogy at Northwestern university will give an illustrated lecture next Sunday on his experiences in the Barro Colorado Island laboratory in the Panama Canal Zone. He will speak at the Chicago Academy of Sciences, 2001 North Clark street. The lecture is the first of the annual fall series sponsored by the academy.

Open Safety Session Today; Women's Clubs Co-operate

A state-wide safety institute will be held today in the Hotel Sherman beginning at 10 o'clock. The Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs is coöperating with the institute, and Mrs. Frank G. Staely, chairman of the department of the American home of the federation, will preside.

SAYS CHARACTER IS FAMILY, NOT SCHOOL ISSUE

The idea that the school should primarily furnish leadership to the child is "all wrong," Dean George D. Stoddard of the graduate college at Iowa State university declared yesterday at the biennial conference of the National Council of Parent Education at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

"The family should furnish leadership to the child and the school should merely supplement this leadership," Dean Stoddard said. "The opposite notion is all wrong. The home must remain more important than the school in molding character."

Most "problem families" which resulted from the crash of 1929 were in the large income groups, he said. In many cases where incomes fell from $20,000 a year to $5,000 the parents went to pieces and children dropped out of school, while in lower income families the members met losses with greater resourcefulness and better teamwork, the dean declared.

Mayflower Descendants.

The Society of Mayflower Descendants in the State of Illinois has sent out invitations to its 40th annual banquet to be given Nov. 21 at the Blackstone hotel. Dr. Albert Britt, former president of Knox college, will speak.

JUNIOR LEAGUE RAISES $1,300 BY CLOTHES SALE

The Chicago Junior league held its annual fall second hand clothes sale at 1006 South Michigan avenue. The sale brought the usual crush of buyers for shoes, hats, gloves, hose, purses, and other accessories. The sale netted $1,300 for the Community Fund.

Some shoppers, wise in the ways of the Junior league sales, snatched armsful of dresses and coats from the racks and hurried to a corner to inspect at their leisure, guarded by three or four close friends. These helped to decide between themselves just how much of the merchandise they would keep while remaining disgruntled shoppers who had not been so quick on the take, crowded around, watching the pick of the garments and snatching those the group discarded.

Miss Bonnie-Jean Clark, chairman, and her committee had special pricers on hand to settle disputes between customers and salesgirls. No matter how carefully price tags are sewn or pinned to garments, they are torn off in the crush. The system of roving pricers worked well.

Frauen-Verein Party.

The Frauen-Verein of the German Old People's home will give a card party this afternoon at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Thousands Turn Out for West Side Event.

Thousands of west side residents lined up on Madison street last night to watch a parade celebrating the introduction of new streamlined street cars in Chicago. Six of the new cars, the first of 83 which will be placed in service on the Madison street line in the next few weeks, already are in the city.

Last night's celebration was sponsored by the West Side Trafic and Transportation association, an organization composed of more than twenty west side business and civic associations.

Parade Depicts History.

The line of march of the parade extended from the city limits to Canal street. It started at Madison street and Austin avenue shortly after 7:30 o'clock. Bands, floats, and decorated automobiles and trucks preceded a line of street cars depicting the history of street car transportation in Chicago.

Many Revolutionary Features.

The new cars embody many revolutionary features resulting from more than three years of research and experiment. Near noiselessness has been accomplished through the extensive use of rubber in wheels, springs, and body and by employing a new type of quiet gears. Passenger comfort has been emphasized. Modern ventilation and lighting, fast, smooth starting and stopping and rapid loading and unloading features have been incorporated in the new vehicles.

One of the new cars will be placed on exhibition at Adams and State streets today. All of the new cars will be used to equip the Madison street line in order to provide a complete test of the ability of new equipment to speed up schedules, according to officials of the surface lines.

The 83 cars will cost the surface lines approximately $1,250,000, or slightly more than $15,000 a unit. They will be paid for from the system's renewal and depreciation fund. This fund, which totals nearly 20 million dollars, is available to finance a major program of rehabilitation of equipment by the surface lines.

GROCERY ITEMS HEAD WEEK-END BARGAIN LISTS

Butter and Coffee Drop; Flour on Sale.

Food shoppers in Chicago and suburban stores will find most of the bargains for today and tomorrow confined to the staple grocery counters. While prices in other departments of the stores have gone up in the last week, many more than the usual number of staple items are being featured at sale prices.

Butter is on sale in many stores at 2½ cents a pound less than last week. A few stores are selling it at last week's prices and some have raised the price 1 cent a pound on all grades. Most stores have several kinds of cheese on sale.

Sale on Better Coffees.

The higher priced brands of coffee are on sale in practically all stores in the city and suburbs. Some brands are down as much as a nickel a pound. Many stores have marked down their price tags on 24½ pound sacks of flour, some having lowered the price of the advertised brands 10 to 14 cents a sack. Cake flour and the smaller packages of regular flour are on sale in some stores.

Most stores have sugar on sale. Some have reduced the price only on ten pound sacks and others have included five pound packages. Canned tomatoes and peaches are on sale in some stores and a few are featuring breakfast foods and canned meats.

Egg Trends Vary.

Low grades of eggs are on sale in many stores at 3 cents a dozen less than last week. The better grades of fresh eggs are higher and some establishments have raised the price 2 to 4 cents a dozen on all kinds.

Grapefruit is cheaper than last week, with prices considered unusually low for this season of the year. Florida oranges are cheaper.

Carrots and fresh tomatoes are higher than last week. Head lettuce, green onions, radishes, spinach, green beans, fresh peas, and sweet potatoes are higher in many stores.

Few Meat Bargains.

Butchers were able to find but few cuts of fresh meats for their week-end bargain counters. A few shops have pot roast of beef and pork spareribs at slightly lower prices than last week. Breakfast bacon is on sale in most stores.

Most kinds of fresh beef cuts are higher. Leg of lamb is up about 4 cents a pound and pork loin roasts 3 to 6 cents a pound.

Most kinds of live stock and wholesale cuts of fresh meats now are showing a downward price tendency at Union stockyards, following a distinct upward trend in practically all classes of both meats and live animals last week. Federal market reporters say that heavy receipts of poultry for the holiday markets are causing the drop in live stock and wholesale meat prices.

Beef Average Steady.

The better grades of beef steers reached a new top price for the season early in the week, selling at $12.10 a hundred pounds, but the average price for the week was about the same as last week. High quality cuts of wholesale beef sold about 50 cents a hundredweight higher than last week. Prices on other cuts were steady.

Farmers were paid 10 to 25 cents a hundred pounds less for live hogs, with pork cuts wholesaling 50 cents to $1 a hundred lower. Fat lambs sold about 75 cents a hundredweight lower and wholesale cuts of lamb went down 50 cents to $1 a hundred.

TRIBUNE RECIPES

APPLE CRISP.

4 cups sliced apples
1 teaspoon cinnamon
⅓ cup water
½ cup flour
½ cup sugar
4 tablespoons butter

Place apples in a greased baking dish, sprinkle with cinnamon and add the water. With a fork work the flour, butter, and sugar together until crumbly. Sprinkle the mixture over the apples and bake in a moderately hot oven for 30 minutes.

CHOCOLATE SEVEN MINUTE FROSTING.

2 unbeaten egg whites
1½ cups granulated sugar
1⅓ teaspoons light corn sirup
5 tablespoons water
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
¾ teaspoon vanilla extract

Combine egg whites, sugar, sirup, and water and place in top part of double boiler, beating with rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water, beat constantly with rotary egg beater and cook 7 minutes or until frosting will stand in peaks [which may take 8 or 10 minutes]. Lightly stir in chocolate and vanilla. Do not beat.

MACARONI SHRIMP SOUFFLE.

4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
4 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup cooked or canned shrimps

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. Drain, chill in cold water, then drain and measure 2 cups. Make a white sauce of butter, flour, and milk. Pour this over the beaten egg yolks, add seasoning, shredded shrimp, and drained macaroni. Fold in the beaten egg whites. Pour into a buttered baking dish, place in a pan of hot water, and bake 45 minutes in a slow oven, 325 degrees F. Serve immediately.

CARAMEL FROSTING FOR CAKES.

½ cup sugar
1½ cups brown sugar, firmly packed
1 cup milk
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter

Cook all but the butter together until a little forms a soft ball in cold water [232 degrees F.]. Add the butter and cool. Beat until thick enough to spread.

BAKED HAM WITH SPICY PINEAPPLE COATING.

Remove rind from partly baked ham. Score fat and dot with whole cloves. Rub with a mixture of 1 cup crushed pineapple, 1 cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons of sweet pickle juice, and 1 tablespoon ham drippings. Return to the oven to finish baking. Serve with hot pineapple fritters.

SUNDAY BREAKFAST EGGS.

3 slices bacon
6 eggs
6 small crackers, crushed coarsely
2 tablespoons grated cheese
2 tablespoons milk
Salt, pepper, paprika

Dice the bacon, place in a cold skillet, and fry over low heat until almost crisp. Separate the bits into six small piles. Slip an egg broken from shell over each mound of bacon. Combine the coarse cracker crums and grated cheese and sprinkle over the eggs. Moisten each service with a little milk, season and cover tightly. Cook over low heat until as firm as desired, then transfer carefully to a warm platter and serve at once.

BAKED BEAN SOUP.

3 cups cold baked beans
⅓ cup chopped celery
3 tablespoons minced onion
5 cups water
1½ cups puréed tomatoes
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons chili sauce
Salt, pepper

Combine the beans, celery, onion, and water and simmer slowly for 30 minutes. Sieve or not, as you like, and add the tomatoes. Melt the butter, add flour, and cook with a little water until thickened. Carefully stir into the soup, bring to a boil, and season to taste with remaining ingredients.

MACARONI SALAD IS EASILY MADE IF YOU LIKE IT

It seems that the reaction to macaroni salad is either one of great enthusiasm or extreme lack of interest—there are few inbetween stages of emotion about it. In case you belong to the group which thinks there's nothing much better than a well seasoned macaroni salad for luncheon or informal supper, these recipes will please:

MACARONI AND CHEESE SALAD.

2 cups cooked macaroni
1 cup finely cubed American cheese
½ cup chopped celery
¼ cup diced pimiento
¼ cup chopped sweet pickle
Mayonnaise
Salt and pepper to taste.

If the macaroni is of the long variety, cut it into one-half inch pieces. Season with salt and pepper, add the other ingredients, and toss with enough mayonnaise to moisten. Chill and serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

MOLDED MACARONI SALAD.

1 tablespoon granulated gelatin
¼ cup cold water
½ cup hot water
½ cup diced American cheese
¾ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1½ cups cooked macaroni
¼ cup diced celery
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon onion juice
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup whipping cream

Soften gelatin in cold water, dissolve in hot water, and combine with cheese. Cool slightly and add all ingredients except mayonnaise and cream. When mixture begins to stiffen, fold in the mayonnaise and stiffly beaten cream. Turn into large mold and chill until firm. Garnish with sliced stuffed olives and watercress

3 Needy Children Thank Mayor for Benefit Game

Three of the 65,000 children who are expected to benefit from the city championship high school football game in Soldiers' field on Nov. 28 visited Mayor Edward J. Kelly in his office yesterday and extended thanks in behalf of themselves and the others. They are Jack Shutts, 7 years old, 328 Warren avenue; Arlene Billow, 9, of 3453 Elaine place, and Sandy Nelson, 6, of 1305 Newport avenue. The game is sponsored by the mayor's Chicago's own Christmas benefit committee. The proceeds are to be used to buy shoes and clothing for underprivileged children.

MOTHER CONFESSES BABY 'CARRIED IN BY DOG' IS HER OWN SON

New Orleans, La., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Louis Crawford asknowledged tonight that "Moses," a boy baby she said a big brindle dog brought to her Piney Woods cabin Tuesday, was her own son.

The denouement came when Sherif Walter Galatas of St. Tammany parish said his deputy, Clarence Crawford, told him Mrs. Crawford "had broken down and confessed" after almost a day of questioning.

Earlier she had said the dog came through the woods to her home near Pearl River, La., 50 miles north of New Orleans, carrying the baby in his mouth in a swaddling cloth.

The "mystery" infant created wide interest and was brought to Charity hospital here under a court order and given the name "Moses" because, Mrs. Crawford said, the manner of his appearance was "a miracle."

O'BRIEN GIVES UP IN ALIMONY CASE; PAYS; RELEASED

Sought since Monday on a writ of attachment in connection with an alimony debt, Lawrence C. O'Brien, former state representative, surrendered in the Superior courtroom of Judge Walter P. Steffen yesterday. He paid $205 to his wife, Irene loftus O'Brien, and $110 of her $350 lawyer's fee, and was released. O'Brien denied having evaded process servers, explaining that he had been bedridden at 918 North Wells street.

"I've been nursing a busted knee—see," O'Brien said, starting to roll up his trouser leg. None of the principals seemed interested. so O'Brien dropped his pants cuff in some embarrassment.

O'Brien expressed surprise when his wife's attorney, Theodore Hardeen Jr., insisted upon his $350 fee, which, he said, the lawyer had previously agreed to waive. "Things have changed since then," Hardeen said. "We've had so much trouble finding you that I must insist on the full fee." The judge ruled that O'Brien should pay $110 of the fee or go to jail, and after numerous telephone calls to friends O'Brien's attorney raised the additional money and departed with his client.

GROSS DIVORCE PARLEYS FAIL; CASE TO GO ON

Attorneys for Henry R. Gross, wealthy manufacturer, and his wife, Elina, a former show girl, who are suing each other for divorce, told Judge John C. Lewe of the Superior court yesterday that plans for a settlement, which have been under way for several days, have fallen through. Judge Lewe ordered that testimony, which was interrupted by the settlement negotiations, be resumed next Monday.

Attorney Robert Cantwell Jr., counsel for Gross, announced at yesterday's session that the lump sum settlement of $12,500 which he offered previously will be reduced to $10,000 after tomorrow noon. Mrs. Gross had asked $40,000, a third interest in her husband's automobile accessory business, and $300 a month alimony.

"You can't threaten us like that," said W. T. Alden, attorney for Mrs. Gross.

"That's not a threat," Attorney Cantwell replied. "It's merely my client's wish."

Cantwell announced that he intends to call numerous socially prominent Chicagoans to testify for Gross.

MRS. JOHN FINLAY FILES A SECOND SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Jane Scriven Finlay, who now lives in Geneva, filed her second divorce suit there yesterday in Kane county Circuit court against John Jerome Finlay, 2150 Lincoln Park West, advertising executive. Mrs. Finlay's first bill was filed last spring in the Kane county court and later dismissed by Judge Frank W. Shepherd. In her suit filed yesterday Mrs. Finlay charges cruelty and seeks custody of their daughter, Barbara, 6 years old. Finlay has a suit for separate maintenance pending before Judge John C. Lewe in the Superior court here. His attorney, Robert Cantwell Jr., said last evening he would seek dismissal of the divorce bill in Kane county because of the separate maintenance proceedings pending here.

THOUSANDS CHANGING TO WONDER BREAD

as a result of amazing 1·2·3 store test in which Chicago women now vote 87% for Wonder Bread

PICTURE SHOWS TYPICAL SCENE IN CHICAGO STORE →

Grocer keeps score as women choose after seeing . . . feeling . . . and tasting the difference. No woman knows the brand name of any slice. Choice is simply on quality. It's interesting to note how the other slices are beginning to dry out and curl, while Wonder Bread stays fresh and tempting. Make this test yourself—put a slice of slo-baked Wonder Bread and a slice of any other kind out in the air. Your own eyes and fingers will tell you which stays fresh longer!

OUR last advertisement reported that 83% of the Chicago women who made the 1-2-3 test chose Wonder Bread in preference to all others. New figures jump this total to 87%! Out of 2103 women, 1770 have voted Wonder Bread best.

If you trust the judgment of Chicago women, do as thousands of them are doing today—change to Wonder Bread. Begin by making the 1-2-3 test right in your own home. Compare Wonder Bread with any other loaf you can buy or bake. See . . . feel . . . taste the difference. Let your own good taste tell you which bread to choose.

We believe Wonder Bread will win on all counts . . . because we slo-bake it from ingredients carefully selected to meet our own high standards. But we leave the verdict up to you. All we ask is this . . . make the test carefully, and remember that Wonder Bread is the loaf with the gay red, yellow and blue balloons on the wrapper.

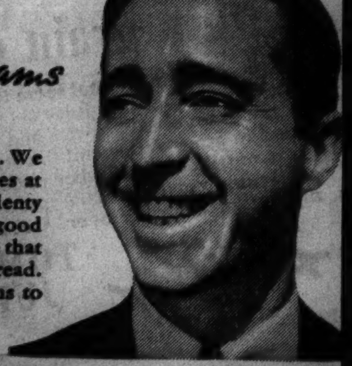
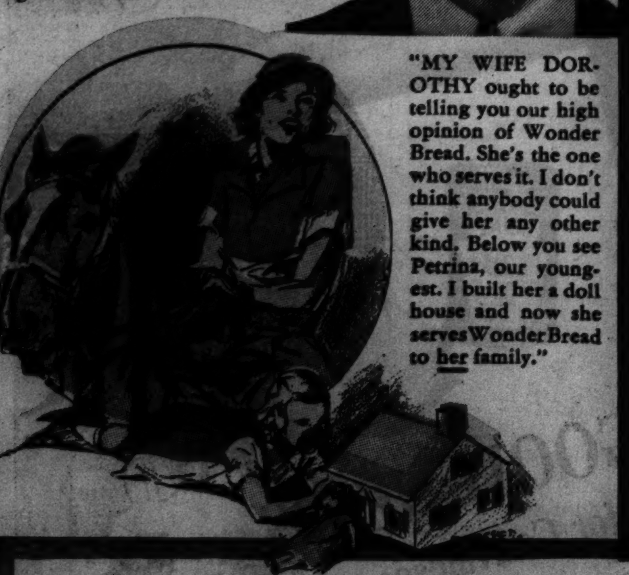
"MEET MY 100% WONDER BREAD FAMILY"

SAYS

Paul Williams



"We don't pamper ourselves. We live well. If we have any rules at all they are simply to get plenty of exercise and eat plenty of good nourishing food. In our case that includes plenty of Wonder Bread. We prefer its flavor. It seems to agree with us."



"MY WIFE DOROTHY ought to be telling you our high opinion of Wonder Bread. She's the one who serves it. I don't think anybody could give her any other kind. Below you see Petrina, our youngest. I built her a doll house and now she serves Wonder Bread to her family."

HERE'S THE FAMOUS 1·2·3 TEST!

1 See it!

Yes, you can actually see how well Wonder Bread compares with any other kind. Get a loaf of Wonder Bread. Get a loaf of any other. Take out a slice of each. Look them over carefully. See how white and smooth and fine the Wonder slice is. Look at the other slice . . . and trust your eyes.

2 Feel it!

Now run your fingers over the Wonder Bread slice. It doesn't crumble. This means it will spread easily. Note lack of holes, lumps, imperfections. Note the close-knit texture that keeps even thin jelly from running through. Compare the other bread with slo-baked Wonder Bread, and believe what your fingers tell you.

3 Taste it!

And just before you do, hold a slice of Wonder Bread close to your face, and breathe in through your nose and mouth. You'll get a full clean, wheaty fragrance . . . and you'll find that the flavor of Wonder Bread fulfills the promise of its tempting aroma.

LEMON-ORANGE PIE IS AN OLD FRIEND WITH A NEW NAME

LEMON ORANGE PIE.

1 cup sugar
4 tablespoons cornstarch
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks
1¼ cups water
1 orange, juice and pulp
1 lemon, juice and grated rind
2 tablespoons butter.

Mix sugar with cornstarch and salt. Add water gradually and cook until thick over hot water. Add beaten egg yolks, orange and lemon juice and the fruit rinds, and the butter. Cook for a few minutes longer. Cool slightly and pour into baked pastry shell. Cover with meringue made of the 2 egg whites, beaten until frothy, and 4 tablespoons sugar which are added gradually. Also add 1½ teaspoons lemon juice. Brown in 350 degree F. oven for about 10 to 12 minutes or until delicately tinged with gold.

If you're especially fond of the lemon-orange combination of flavors, here's a chiffon pie filling sure to be a favorite.

LEMON ORANGE CHIFFON PIE.

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
4 eggs
1 cup sugar
¼ cup orange juice
¼ cup lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1½ teaspoon grated lemond rind

Add half the sugar and the fruit juice and salt to the beaten egg yolks, and cook over boiling water until of custard consistency. Pour cold water in a bowl and sprinkle the gelatin on top. Add to the hot custard and stir until the gelatin is dissolved. Add the grated rind and cool. When the mixture begin to thicken, fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites to which the other half cup sugar has been added Fill graham cracker crust or baked pastry shell with the mixture and spread whipped cream over the top, if desired, just before serving.

PAGING HOODOOS! FRIDAY 13TH CLUB WILL DEFY THEM

All the age old superstitions will be defied tonight at the Friday the thirteenth banquet of the Anti-Superstition society to be held in room 1313 of the Blackstone hotel. Such hoodoo practices as walking under ladders, spilling salt on the table, breaking mirrors, and opening umbrellas indoors will be flaunted by the members. Speakers who will discuss superstitious beliefs in their work will be Capt. Thomas Callaghan, chief of the secret service here; Roscoe Turner, noted flyer, and Col. Henry Barrett Chamberlin, director of the crime commission. Chairman of the committee of thirteen of the society is Nathaniel Leverone.

MANDEL STORE AND STAF GIVES FUND $14,306

Leon Mandel, general chairman and vice president of Mandel Bros., yesterday turned over a check for $14,306 to the Community fund of Chicago. The check represented the contributions of the State street department store and its employés toward the fund's $3,400,000 goal.

Sixteen thousand employés of the Chicago Surface Lines joined in the campaign for 154 private welfare agencies with a total contribution of $63,000, T. J. Carney, vice chairman of the drive, reported. The subscription, which gives an average individual pledge of $3.93, is the largest by an employé group in the campaign. paign.

Another similiar contribution received yesterday was that of workers in Montgomery, Ward & Co., units in Chicago. A total of 5,951 employés contributed $24,682.

The total pledged in the campaign to date amounts to $2,141,385. Many important employé groups are expected to make their final reports within the next week.

"Land's Sake I've been making pickles this way for years"

● Give a slice of Heinz Fresh Cucumber Pickle to that dear old lady in the knitted shawl. Instantly she'll recognize the recipe as her own. Lush cucumbers, fresh from the vine; mellow old vinegar and rare Oriental spices—blended the "home" way.

That's the very formula Heinz follows. Old-fashioned?—yes! And America delights in it—always has! The fragrance, the cool, clear green color, the crisp succulence of Heinz Fresh Cucumber Pickle takes us back to childhood days—recaptures the teasing taste thrill Jefferson immortalized—the taste that America couldn't forget.

Serve Heinz Fresh Cucumber Pickle with canapés, as garnishment for meats or in place of green salads. Use as sandwich slices. Put a bowl on the table within everyone's reach. The cost of the big, family-sized jar is trifling.

TEN-MINUTE CRANBERRY SAUCE
(Stewed Cranberries)

1 pound or quart (4 cups) cranberries
2 cups water
1½ to 2 cups sugar

Method: Boil sugar and water together 5 minutes; add cranberries and boil without stirring (5 minutes is usually sufficient) until all the skins pop open. Remove from the fire when the popping stops, and allow the sauce to remain in vessel undisturbed until cool.

APPLE PIE IS PET DESSERT OF US AMERICANS

Cooking Editor Offers a Splendid Recipe.

BY MARY MEADE.

No surprise to anybody was the result of a poll conducted by a restaurant management magazine to determine America's most popular dessert. You don't even need three guesses. The first guess is right. Apple pie!

Yes, apple pie won in a walk-away from such fare as Boston cream pie, apple strudel, chocolate layer cake and ice cream, other contenders for the favor of those of us who eat in restaurants and hotel dining rooms. Ice cream was runner-up.

No fancy fripperies are wanted. Americans like apple pie that is apple pie, plain or deep dish, accompanied by a piece of cheese, or topped with a spoonful of ice cream. This is the kind of apple pie which sells ten to one at the county fair and which is snatched first from among the leftovers in the refrigerator at midnight—America's choice farewell to a meal.

Apple Pie.

6 to 8 sour apples
½ to ¾ cup sugar, white or brown
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
½ tablespoon butter
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind [optional]
2 teaspoons lemon juice [optional]

Line a pie plate with pastry. Pare and core the apples. Cut them into eights and place a row of the pieces around the pastry covered pie plate, ½ inch from the edge. Fill in the center with the apple pieces and pile remaining apples on top. Mix the other ingredients [except butter] and sprinkle over the apples. Place the butter in dots. Wet the edges of the undercrust and cover with the top crust, pressing the edges together. Bake in a 450 degree oven for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 degress [moderate] and continue baking until apples are tender.

Deep dish apple pie may be made with the same recipe, omitting the bottom crust and baking the pie in a deep baking dish. Cream, whipped cream, or ice cream usually is served with it.

If plain apple pie seems a bit too ordinary for your purposes, there is an apple tart dessert which has apple pie flavor plus color and an attractive shape. Apples prepared according to the following recipe are placed in individual baked pastry shells [use muffin tins] and garnished with whipped cream.

Apple Tarts.

6 sour apples
¾ cup sugar
2 cups water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
4 tablespoons orange juice
¼ cup red cinnamon candy
1 cup cream, whipped

Pare and core the apples. Combine sugar, water, and cinnamon candies in a sauce pan. Add the apples and simmer until tender, turning often, and being careful to keep the apples whole. Remove the apples from the sirup, add the fruit juices and boil the mixture to a thick sirup. Place each apple in a baked tart shell, cut side down, and pour 1 tablespoon of the thick sirup over it. Serve on dessert plate garnished with whipped cream. Ordinary pie pastry is used to make the shells.

HONEY DELIGHT CAKE IS TRIBUTE TO BEEKEEPERS

Mrs. A. B. of Lemont, Ill., submits this recipe in honor of the current State Beekeepers' convention:

HONEY DELIGHT CAKE.

½ cup butter
¾ cup light honey
¾ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
2 eggs, well beaten
3 cups cake flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup milk

Cream butter, honey, and sugar together until they are light and fluffy. Add the eggs and beat again until light. Sift the flour once before measuring, then add salt, soda, and baking powder and sift three times. Add alternately with the milk to the above, starting with the flour and ending up with the flour.

Bake in 3 nine inch layers for 25 minutes in a 350 degree F. oven. Frost between layers and on top and sides with butter frosting. Or to vary this recipe, add 1 teaspoon each of cloves, cinnamon, and nutmeg to the dry ingredients, sifting them three times with the flour. This makes a very delicious spice cake, and is best frosted with a boiled caramel icing.

Good Meat Buy This Week Is Pork Shoulder

Chicago housewives planning an economical dinner over the coming week-end will be interested in knowing that pork shoulder is recommended as one of the best meat buys by the committee of marketing information of the meat council of Chicago. In addition to pork shoulder most cuts of lamb, especially the forequarter cuts, such as lamb breast, lamb shoulder roast, and lamb shoulder chops, also are good buys, the meat council states. Some markets are featuring leg of lamb.

MANY BREADS OWE CREATION TO SOUR MILK

Supertender Crums Are Caused by Acidity.

Many a hot biscuit—gingerbread, doughnut, brown bread, and cake, for that matter—has been created because of soured milk. The super tenderness of the crum [caused by the acid in the sour milk] is a temptation to keep sour milk on hand as a regular food item.

In general, in substituting sour milk for sweet milk, add ½ teaspoon soda per cup of milk. For each ½ teaspoon soda used, reduce the baking powder 2 teaspoons. Sift the soda with the dry ingredients, and stir the batter slightly longer or the cake will be crumbly and too tender.

Recipes with Right Amounts.

In the folowing recipes, the amounts are already worked out for you. In the case of the Boston brown bread, additional soda is added to neutralize the acid in the molasses.

BOSTON BROWN BREAD.

½ cup corn meal
½ cup graham or whole wheat flour
½ cup white flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup raisins
1 cup sour milk
⅝ cup molasses
1 teaspoon soda

Mix the dry ingredients. Add raisins, sour milk, and molasses. Mix well. Pour into a greased pan and bake in a slow oven about 45 minutes. This bread may also be steamed, in which case fill well greased mold or baking powder can not more than 2-3 cup full. Cover closely with lids or waxed paper tied on tightly. Place on trivet in kettle containing boiling water, allowing water to come half way up around mold. Cover steamer and steam 2 hours, keeping water at boiling point, and adding more water as needed.

SOUR MILK BISCUITS.

2 cups bread flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1-3 cup butter, or margarine
1 cup sour milk

Sift flour, measure, and resift with other dry ingredients. Cut butter into flour with two knives until like coarse cornmeal. Add buttermilk and stir vigorously until dry ingredients are just dampened, then turn soft dough out on lightly floured board and knead for ½ minute. Roll out lightly to one-half inch thickness and cut with biscuit cutter. Place on baking sheet and bake in a hot oven [450 degrees F.] for 12 to 15 minutes.

Cup Cakes Quickly Frosted with Marshmallow Halves

Cup cakes may be quickly "frosted" with marshmallow halves. Just before removing the cup cakes from the oven place a halved marshmallow on top of each cake and let it melt slightly.

ARRIVES TO VISIT 40 GRANDCHILDREN SHE NEVER SAW; BIG DAY

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Anna M. Agnese, spry and robust at 82, arrived from Naples on her first trip to this country today and immediately plunged into the uproarious business of greeting 40 grandchildren she never had seen before.

Her five children, who left the old country years ago, also were almost strangers to her. They were such little bambinos when she saw them last she hardly recognized them today.

All in all, it was a tumultuous reunion when the Italian liner Rex docked.

Common Sense Government of Child Wisest

Youngster's Happiness Is Most Important.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

When you say "No" to the children do you mean it and stick to it in spite of teasing and arguing?

When you say "Yes" are you equally adamant, holding to your decision?

I see you nod your head emphatically. Good for you, we say, but don't carry it too far.

Sticking to your word is necessary. Consistency is something children understand. But even that may be carried too far.

You may change your mind, if you find it necessary, without losing control over the children. In fact if you do so when the situation requires it you gain in two ways—one, because you act like a human being not a commanding officer, the other, because you convince the children of your desire to be fair. And children have a fine sense of justice.

You must, as a rule, mean what you say, otherwise your children will have no firm ground underfoot. And if you shilly-shally back and forth between yes and no they are apt to develop those two awful habits—teasing and whining. But never breaking the rule you have made to keep your word will sometimes lead you astray and inflict hardships and disappointment upon your son or daughter.

The point is that you can change your mind and reverse your decision, once given, without being inconsistent or vacillating

Film 'Maytime' Has Difficult Scene for Eddy

But Tenor Takes Test in His Stride.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, every one of whose films together has been a "costume story," today were at work together on another costume picture, "Maytime."

Eddy was carrying out the freakiest assignment of his career as a headlined baritone. He had to lie on his back, his head dangling, as an ungentle group carried him about a room representing a basement in the Paris Latin quarter of 1865. He had to sing at the top of his voice against the combined cigar smoke of dozens of men and the pungent gusts from dozens of torches.

The din of the couples in the basement café would have dismayed a less lusty singer. But Eddy is a young man who believes he can outsing or outdo any collection of adverse circumstances. So he sang with his eyes watering while Miss MacDonald sat in the background amused and Director Robert Z. Leonard looked on with official severity.

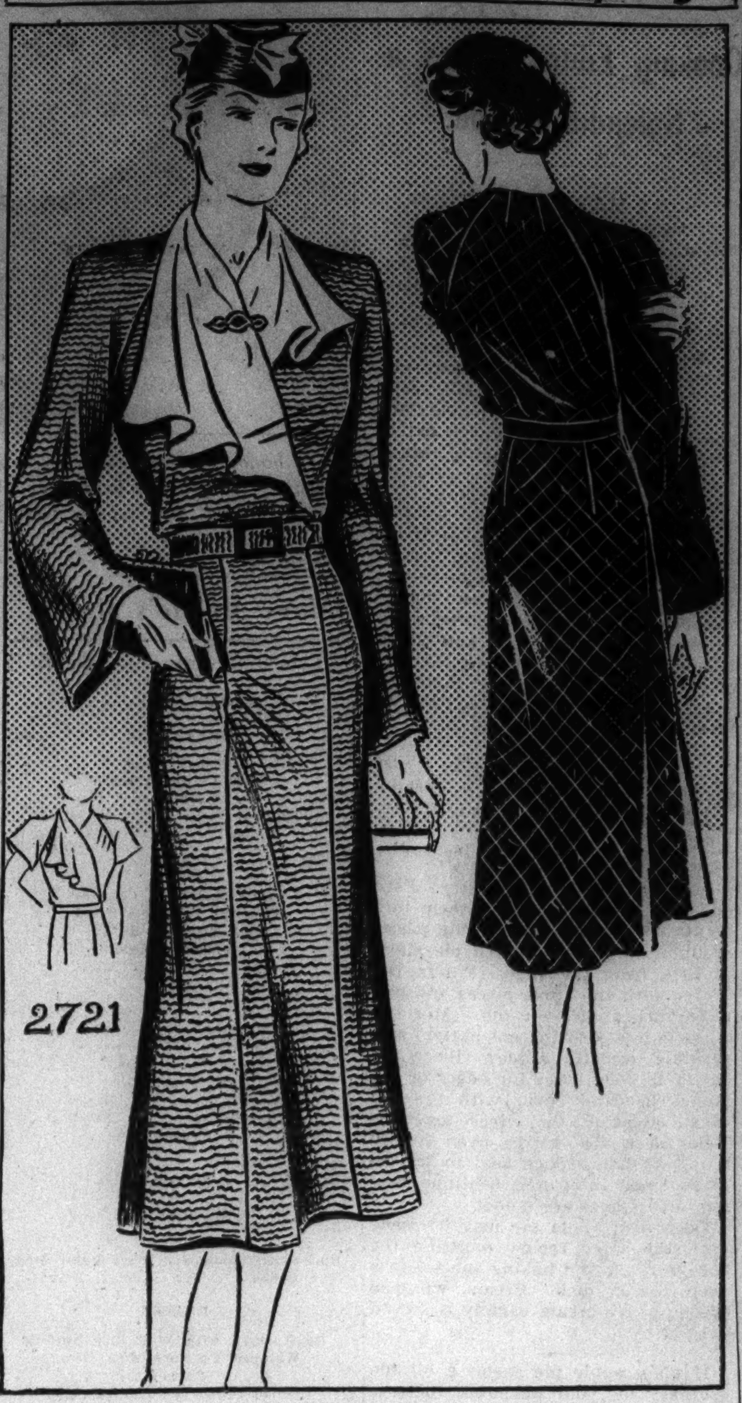
Eddy was supposed to be a young American singer voicing a novelty song about a fat prima donna. He did not know the strange lady in the back of the café was a famous prima donna. At the end of his song he had to do a back dive from a table into the arms of a group of singers and be carried toward Miss MacDonald's table.

"Hardest job I ever had to do," Eddy gasped when the shot had been made.

In "Maytime" he and Miss MacDonald are carried by the story through eighty different sets, none of them modern. A dozen musical numbers are recorded. Jeanette and Eddy sing the "Will You Remember?" song, generally known as the "Sweetheart's Song," from the original music of composer Sigmund Romberg which featured the operetta when it came out in 1917.

The only other song retained from the original stage presentation is "Jump Jim Crow," which this time is being rendered in his r-r-rolling style by Herman Bing. The other ten numbers are new songs written by Romberg and Herbert Stothart, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer music director.

Adheres to Sensible Styling



WOMAN'S DRESS.

Women with heavier than average figures display wisdom when they steer clear of fads in fashion and remain true to style principles designed especially for their types of silhouette problems. Of course they desire SOME new points of styling in order to keep in the trend of chic. The pattern illustrated today is designed especially for women with figure problems and good taste.

This dress has the always flattering surplice bodice, but it is enhanced by a generous and trickily pointed collar in a contrasting color and a harmonizing shade. The skirt hugs the figure because its seaming is cleverly designed. A simple belt serves at the waistline without drawing undue attention to it. The sleeves also follow a perfect principle of styling for the stout. They are cut in the raglan manner and hang full all the way to the wrist, where they are belled.

The original dress made from this pattern is attractive in dull black wool crêpe. The collar is of shiny black satin crêpe and is caught just below the becoming V neckline with a sparkling ornament. Another attractive suggestion is to use the dull surface of satin-back crêpe for the body of the dress and employ the shiny side of the collar. Fabrics with novelty weaves also are pretty and suitable and there are many interesting types available in the shops.

Style No. 2721 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, and 50 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material, with ¾ yard of 39 inch contrasting.

No Frock Can Be Lovely If Posture Is Bad

Self-Discipline Is the First Major Step.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

We must talk about posture, whether you become sick of the subject or not, because it's what makes the money that goes into clothes well spent or unwisely spent.

A certain woman was complaining about the money she puts into dresses and coats and suits and never achieves the appearance that a certain envied woman does, the latter picking up her clothes at a well known bargain rendezvous where one helps herself to dresses off racks. There is little difference in the weight of these two women, and no difference in years. The materials in the first woman's clothes are, beyond question, worth double that of the second. Finally, a friend wearied of the constant complaining of No. 1, told her frankly that the trouble was not in the place of dress purchase at all, but in the lack of manner with which she wore her things. "What's wrong with my style?" the befuddled one asked. "You haven't any!" said the adviser. "You'll never have any, either, until you learn to carry yourself better!"

If you're angry about that last dress now that you have it home and have to keep on wearing it, face yourself in it before a full length mirror and swear by the gods that you'll make it pay its way if you have to do over the whole carriage. Walk toward the mirror and see if your feet are facing straight ahead. See that you are walking on the broad part of the foot, not on the heels.

See if your shoulders and chest are bearing you up with an air. Take a profile view and see if you're bulging fore or aft. See how flat you can get yourself fore and aft, both at shoulderline in back and down below the waistline in back, too. See if the head is being held up as if there were something to live for and you're equal to it. Give yourself the mirror test every day for weeks, until you get that something that can put you in a bargain frock and make it and you look like a million. It's all in the posture.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

From the note book:

Bachelors beware! Suzanne Talbot, whose hats set feminine pulses to beating hard, has designed a dinner hat with a slit across the crown in front. Why? To show the curls that cluster in the middle of so many of the best dressed foreheads! The one we saw was of red velvet, worn with a dramatic gown that played up the coronation colors of red and blue. Two little curls popped out of the slot in sly fashion and the effect was devastating. Such self-conscious demureness is deadly.

Those who'll be trotting off to warmer climes, where they'll lounge picturesquely in slacks and pajamas [and never go near the water], should make a note to get hold of a sun visor of gilded raffia.

The Paris hair stylist who has been visiting here, showing his coiffure designs and his amazingly flattering hair ornaments, thought of this one. It's a knockout. Not for sale as yet, but we're betting that popular demand will bring it to the Palm Beach market.

The same stylist, by the way, admires gray and graying hair so much that he even fakes the effect, which should be comfort to those of us who're finding more silver strands every day. He uses a white paste to achieve some of his most dramatic effects. It makes the hair pliable and colors it as well.

But on the other hand, for those who can't take it when the first gray hairs make their disconcerting appearance, there is a hair crayon that loads of women will dive for. It's like a mascara stick, in natural hair colors, that covers up the gray streaks.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

Herewith is presented another portion of Mr. Culbertson's latest work on contract, "The Gold Book of Bidding and Play," which is being reproduced in this column in daily instalments.

OPENING BIDS OF TWO NO TRUMP.

The opening bids of two, three, four, or more in no trump serve to give a clear picture of a hand strong in honor tricks but with no distributional values to make a slam probable. The responder himself can bid a slam if he can supply the distributional values. The following schedule of requirements for opening no trump bids shows how the honor trick holding varies while the distributional information remains always the same, a 4-3-3-3 hand pattern.

HONOR TRICKS.	BID.
4, 4½, or 5 [With 8 or more honor cards, shade the honor tricks down to 3½.]	1 no trump
5½, 6, or 6½ [With 9 or 10 honor cards, may at times be shaded to 5 honor tricks.]	2 no trump
7, 7½, or 8 [With 8 sure winners, may be shaded to 6½ honor tricks.]	3 no trump
8½	4 no trump
More than 8½, with 11 or 12 sure tricks	5 or 6 no trump

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 spades	Pass	3 spades	Pass
4 no trump	Pass	5 hearts	Pass
6 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the jack of hearts and the declarer saw he would need extraordinary luck to fulfill his contract. The fact that declarer's lowest spade was higher than any of dummy's, limited the latter's entries to one, which probably would be insufficient in finessing against the club king.

Declarer won the opening lead with the king and rattled off six trumps. East had had to make an early decision as to discards. He could count declarer's trump length when West failed to follow. From the opening lead, and the queen in his own hand, he saw that declarer's heart holding could be no better than king-nothing. East then asked himself whether declarer would have opened with a two bid and subsequently bid six on such a distribution as: ♠ A K Q J 9 8 7 ♥ K x ♦ x x ♣ A Q. The answer was that he might have made the first bid, but that he certainly would not have gone to six without further investigation of partner's support. Therefore, declarer was either void of diamonds or had a singleton.

So East chucked his high diamonds on the second, third, and fourth lead of trumps, discarding hearts on the fifth and sixth lead. Declarer then led to dummy's heart ace and returned a club, finessing the queen. When it held, declarer cashed the last trump, intending to follow it with a diamond which he prayed East would have to win. Then a forced club return would permit another finesse, and victory. But East, due to his previous sound analysis, saw the play coming and got rid of his diamond ace as though it were a hot coal.

West thoughtfully had retained the diamond ten and two hearts, so the declarer's balloon was exploded.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: May a player bid one no trump when not having a single ace?

Answer: Yes, if holding at least four honor tricks, with 4-3-3-3 distribution.

Alice Coonley Will Be Bride in East Today

Chicagoans Will Attend Ceremony.

BY JUDITH CASS.

SEVERAL Chicagoans are in the Berkshires today for the wedding in St. Paul's Episcopal church in Stockbridge of a former Chicago girl, Miss Alice Lord Coonley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss L. Coonley of Folly farm, Great Barrington, Mass. Miss Coonley will become the bride of Milton P. Higgins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aldus C. Higgins of Worcester, Mass.

The church will be decorated with white madonna lilies and white chrysanthemums. The service will be read at noon. The Chicagoans present will be the bride's cousin, Mrs. John McLaren Simpson [Constance Hasler], who will be a bridesmaid; her mother, Mrs. Edward L. Hasler; Wyndham Hasler and his fiancée, Miss Cornelia Ranney; Mr. and Mrs. Edison Dick, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Douglas, Mrs. Hugh J. McBirney, and Miss Gwethalyn Jones.

The Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, canon of the Washington cathedral, and the Rev. Edmund Randolph Laine, rector of St. Paul's, will officiate. The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will wear a lovely gown of cream satin with a long train, long sleeves, and a high neck. Her tulle veil will be held to her head by a coronet of rose point lace and a cluster of orange blossoms. Her bridal bouquet will be of gardenias.

Bride's Attendants to Wear Empire Blue.

Miss Eleanor Kavanaugh Coonley, sister of the bride and maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Simpson and Miss Alice Riggs of Stockbridge, will wear empire pale blue and silver lamé with tight caps of brown tulle and silver wreaths. Miss Coonley will carry a small bouquet of blue and lavender anemones and the bridesmaids will carry pink camellias. Mrs. Coonley will wear a dark green velvet gown and hat and pale green orchids and the bridegroom's mother will wear burgundy with purple orchids.

Raymond Owen is the only Chicago man in the wedding party and he is one of seven ushers. Aldus Chapin, 6 years old, nephew of the bridegroom, will be a page. Following the ceremony there will be a small wedding breakfast at Folly farm.

The bride, who has visited in Lake Forest and Chicago many times since her family moved east some years ago, was graduated from Hathaway house, Milton academy, in Massachusetts, and then went to Vassar college. She was introduced to society in Chicago several seasons ago and was presented to the court of St. James's in 1929. Mr. Higgins attended Milton and Phillips Exeter academies and was graduated from Harvard in 1924. He and his bride will be at home after Jan. 1 at 22 Whitman road, Worcester.

Mary Ryerson Frost to Be Bride Nov. 28.

Some members of the Ryerson clan undoubtedly will be going to Boston late this month for the wedding of Miss Mary Ryerson Frost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKay Frost of Frost Field, Dover, and Austin Branch Osgood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dana Osgood of Hopedale and Mount Pleasant, S. C. The marriage, to take place on Nov. 28 at the home of the bride's parents, is to be a small, quiet one with only members of the two families and a few intimate friends present.

Tea Today Will Aid School Art Society.

Today after the symphony concert many of the audience will drive north to 810 North Michigan avenue to attend a private view of paintings, pastels, and water colors in the Quest Art galleries, arranged for the benefit of the Chicago Public School Art society.

Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, president of the society, will receive and among those assisting her and presiding at the tea tables will be Mrs. Robert R. McCormick, who has loaned a Cezanne, "The Bathers," for the exhibition. It is the only one of the 39

Pets—Chesterfieldian—Letter Writer—Stahlers.

THE audience at "Call It a Day" at the Grand distinctly heard a dog barking off stage at Monday night's opening. We learned that the barking was not off stage business for Terry, the dog that is talked about frequently by the players in Dodie Smith's enchanting comedy, but that never appears on the stage. It was Maxie, the Maltese terrier that belongs to Ruth Abbott, the Beatrice Gwynne of the cast, barking lustily about something or other.

There are four other pets traveling with the company. Gladys Cooper has a Welsh Corgi, a new breed of shepherd; John Williams has a wire haired, Viola Roache has a black Persian cat, and Jeanne Dante has a dachshund named Maedel that has the jitters at the very idea of going out front, preferring infinitly the obscurity of her mistress' dressing room.

Miss Dante, by the way, has never known what it is to have stage fright since, at the age of 5 weeks, Dr. Harvey Wiley and Dr. Royal S. Copeland adjudged her "the most perfect baby in the United States." Miss Dante plays the younger Hilton sister and is one of the main reasons why you hate to have it called a day.

A WOMAN back from New York encountered probably the world's most Chesterfieldian cop. She was on her way to the Frick museum and was not quite sure of the address, so she inquired of the corner policeman. He bowed, with down-to-the-belt grace, and said: "Madame, I regret exceedingly that I am unable to give you the desired information." Pausing impressively, he added, "But I assure you that no other stranger in the city will ever ask for it and not receive it."

ELAINE SIDLEY, daughter of W. D. Sidley and granddaughter of W. P. Sidley of Chicago, is only 10 years old, but already has won a reputation for letter writing that, if it increases with the years, may make her the Madame de Sevigné of her age. Writing from her father's ranch at Rollins, Wyo., to her grandfather in Chicago, Elaine says:

"Dear Grandaddy:

"I am sorry that I did not write you sooner. Well, anyway, thanks a lot for sending the doll and the Micky Mouse wrist watch. I hope you had a nice Halloween. I have noticed that in the country, like I am, Halloween isn't so hot because it is no fun going around damaging your own things. . . . Friday daddy, Mr. Smith [our tutor], Sam, Billy, and I went to the Wyoming Hereford ranch near Cheyenne to see some cattle auctioned off. We arrived at the ranch just as the auction was about to begin. First they auctioned off bulls, singly and together. After that came the cows, singly and together. We found out that they had auctioned off 56 head of cattle for 33,000 dollars. I forgot to tell you that they have 50,000 acres. We had a lot of fun there, but we were glad to get home and into bed, as it was 11:30 at night. Much love. ELAINE."

Public School Art Society to Have Tea Today

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The Chicago Public School Art society has a long record of forty-two years of service behind it. It was established to put pictures of esthetic and educational value into the public schools of Chicago.

At one time contemporary paintings by local artists were bought for the schools, more recently reproductions in color of modern work have largely supplanted the original paintings and more French names than American have been attached to them. The change has been in line with the trend of the times and many of the reproductions have been eminently suited to the purpose.

Mrs. Walter S. Brewster is president of the society and the shift in the policy of the organization has come about during her years of office. In character with the policy is the pleasant formality [which has risen by now to be practically an old custom] of having the first important exhibition in the Quest galleries each fall, an invited affair, with tickets and tea and all the proceeds to go to the Chicago Public School Art society.

The exhibition opens this afternoon in the Quest galleries, 810 North Michigan avenue, with a tea from 4 to 6 o'clock. Mr. Quest has arranged a sumptuous feast so far as paintings go. Here may be found many of the best of the moderns and each well represented.

An early Gauguin strikes an incongruous note, for it is distinctly in the mood of the Barbizon school. Gauguin had not yet felt the breath of Tahiti hot on his cheek when he painted this trite landscape. But he is easy to leave behind. The "Bathers," by Cézanne [lent by Mrs. R. R. McCormick], clears the atmosphere beautifully.

Mary Cassatt is represented by two unusually lovely paintings, one of a mother and child in a garden and the other the portrait of a young woman, impressionistic in treatment and most lovely. Renoir gives us a tender moment in the portrait of his tiny daughter.

Pissarro was never more himself nor never more delicate and lovely than in "Femme et Enfant dans les Champs." The "Canal du Loing," by Sisley, and "Paysage" by Vlaminck, are equally fascinating. They are sparkling and beautiful.

The "Faust," by Monticelli, is like a rich spread of jewels, and the several Degas studies of ballet dancers are as gay as one would have them. Lautrec shows two little circus episodes that are most amusing, and Derain has still life which is superb.

The exhibition will continue through November and is well worth seeing.

Give Brilliant Function for Polish Envoy

International Atmosphere at Casino Dinner.

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

The dinner given last night at the Casino for the Polish ambassador, Count George Potocki, and his charming South American born countess, was international in atmosphere. The decorations and music were Polish, the cocktails American, and the food and wines French. It was a beautiful party with the formality that one would expect at a dinner for a distinguished foreign diplomat, tempered by the informality and friendliness that characterize gatherings of smart and sophisticated Americans. The dinner was given by the Library of International Relations.

The dainty countess, who shows her Spanish ancestry in her gardenia white skin, shining black hair, and dark eyes, was exquisite in a simple gown of bleu violet satin with four perfect lavender orchids on one shoulder. She wore a short sable cape and a necklace, bracelets, and three hair clips of diamonds. Her gloves were black and almost elbow length, as were Mrs. Charles S. Dewey's, whose husband presided at the dinner. Mrs. Dewey's demure charm was accentuated by her period gown of black taffeta with touches of apple green on the full sleeves. She wore a Polish decoration, two white orchids, a handsome diamond brooch, and emerald earrings.

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Dewey and Count and Countess Potocka were the Polish Consul Waclaw Gawronski and Mme. Gawronska, Mrs. William B. Hale, president of the Friends of China, and Victor Elting, president of the library. Mme. Gawronska wore black lace and lavendar orchids and Mrs. Hale had chosen the same color combination, but her gown was of net embroidered delicately in crystal.

The ballroom of the Casino never looked lovelier and when the doors were thrown open and the guests entered from the Fountain room where cocktails had been served, every one applauded the picture presented. The red and white of the huge American and Polish flags that dominated the wall in back of the speaker's table were repeated in the white cloths and red center runners on each table and the carnations that decorated the tables. The huge flags are the ones that hung for four years outside the Deweys' residence in Warsaw when he was financial adviser to the Polish government.

Every guest had a red carnation at his place, but almost every woman at the dinner had orchids of one sort or another blooming on her shoulder, so only the men wore the spicy red flowers. The Countess Potocka might

Stock Concert Is Tribute to Gabrilowitsch

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Frederick Stock paid tribute to the late Ossip Gabrilowitsch last night when he dedicated a performance of his own transcription of Tschaikowsky's A Minor Trio to the memory of the distinguished pianist and conductor.

The two men were friends and, on several occasions, co-workers. Mr. Gabrilowitsch's appearances with the Chicago Symphony orchestra began long before he took the Detroit conductorship, continued long afterward. Among the topics of conversation between the two directors in their many meetings in this country and abroad was the desirability of an orchestral version of the Tschaikowsky Trio.

Mr. Stock began work on it last spring, toiled industriously during the summer, and finished the score on Sept. 12. Two days later Ossip Gabrilowitsch died. The closeness of the dates impressed the transcriber so deeply that he decided to make the first performance of this work the tribute of the Chicago Symphony orchestra to the man who is partly responsible for the form in which it now stands.

Ossip Gabrilowitsch was one of that band of American conductors who, although born and trained in Europe, dedicated their most productive years to the task of raising the musical level of their adopted country. They cheerfully underwent the hardships and discouragements that such an enterprise entails. Their triumph [and the "their" refers to Damrosch, Thomas, Stock, Gabrilowitsch, and many others] is in the simple but rather startling fact that the United States has now more first rate orchestras than any other country in the world—more first rate orchestras than Germany itself!

The number and quality of them is not yet, perhaps, an index to the degree of musical development of our people as a whole, but it is an excellent index to the number of opportunities now offered for musical experience of the highest type. The full fruit of the work of these men will come in time.

The Stock transcription is written by a musician who knows from long experience the capacities and the idioms of the orchestra. The scoring is done with an eye to effectiveness, certainly, but it preserves carefully the more important delicacies of the original work.

The persuasive art of Guiomar Novaes quite won the audience last night. Her performance of the Beethoven G Major piano concerto filled the entire second half of the program.

The strikingly handsome young Brazilian seems to enjoy the April beauty of this greatest of piano concertos. Its miraculous themes were warmly and lovingly projected. Her piano pleaded very sweetly with a stern and hostile orchestra during the dialog that constitutes the second movement.

The other program items were Brahms' "Tragic" overture and the "Pyanepsion" of Arthur Bliss. The latter work had never before been heard in Chicago.

It made a somewhat indefinite impression, although there can be no argument about the strength and competence of its scoring.

Smart Dresses Will Contrast Your Fur Coat

Shopper May Choose from Large Collections.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Daytime dresses of thin wool, bright metallics and heavy dull crêpes have burst into the spotlight for this month of fur shopping. They are superbly simple affairs depending upon distinctive color, fine detail, and the 1936 version of an all around foundation or basic dress, with which to play the game of mixing color and accessories.

One new color that goes with all the stunning mink coats, long, medium or the short finger tip length models, is a color called Chinese jade. It's really a soft version of the peacock blue tone, but it's a huge success with mink. Dresses of wool or dull crêpe in this luscious contrast color are perfect foils for all brown fur coats.

A soft pale French gray goes with brown, with black and with gray fur coats, the coats dark and the dresses of the light gray. Other good colors for contrast are all the luscious tones of beige, not the old tan without any depth, but a soft creamy caramel beige, flattering to practically every one.

Beige is a slick and subtle contrast with black fur coats. With these you can wear black suede footgear, black gloves and a small black and beige hat, or you can wear a black fur coat and black frock with beige stockings, beige gloves, a beige belt, and add the black bag and footgear and hat.

This same mixup is featured for brown also. Sage green is still another good contrast for brown, better with brown and gray than with the black coat.

Shop for these contrasts now, for the shops are full of the most interesting basic dresses, knowingly timed for all of November's fur coat and winter coat showings.

Fashion photograph . . . Flared swagger coat with belt. It can also be worn without a belt with the backline swinging free. Wide shoulder seams are accented with moderately full sleeves. The collar is flared and can be worn either up, framing the face, or down like a small boy's coat collar. The coat is available in a Chicago shop.

No Need to Be Tongue Tied If Introduced

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"What to say when meeting a new person" is a question frequently asked.

"I become so tongue-tied when introduced to a man that I act like a nitwit" is Cedie's way of expressing a common affliction.

Now, what would you say in order to get and keep the man chatting a few minutes longer? A hostess can do much in the way of promotion if, when introducing, she'll explain the one being introduced to the other. That is, if when introducing a Cedie, she tells her the man being presented just made the team, or he's just back from Europe or California, or that he is a neighbor or a cousin of some one Cedie perhaps knows.

The old style, the flapper period style, of the girl attacking the introduced man with a "Where have you been all my life?" is outmoded. She can't make remarks about his new suit or tie or the way his hair is groomed. If she tried the pre-'29 mode of insulting with a "You great big brute," she'd be thought due for commitment to an institution. She can't be too prissy, either, holding that the weather is beautiful or it isn't. Only when you can't think of anything else to say should the bromidic weather topic be raised.

You might begin by saying: "I saw an amusing thing today," or "I heard something that amused me!" If it's football season or baseball, the road is easy. All you've got to do is mention the subject and the men are off. Of course, if you know some one the man knows, and you've heard about the acquaintanceship in a roundabout way, you can use this as a wedge, saying you have heard of the person through So-and-so.

It's an art, this business of not letting the introduction flop right at your feet without a word to keep the interest moving. Like all arts, studying the masters is the perfect idea. Just make it your business to absorb the trick clever women have of holding interest.

SYNOPSIS.

Inspector Noel Irving of the Canadian Mounted dynamites the hideout of Frank Rocco, master criminal, not knowing two women were with him. Noel is discharged, disgraced, while Rocco becomes a glorified legend. A young stranger, who calls himself Jimmy, calls on Noel and asks him to be his partner in a secret enterprise and to help him outwit an unknown gang who are pursuing him. While they are talking Jimmy is shot dead. Noel sets out to clear his name and avenge Jimmy's murder. Noel flies to Fort McMurray in a plane which was Jimmy's. He learns Jimmy's headquarters were at Manitou. Noel meets Harla De Long, a research worker for the Indian bureau, and Jimmy's sister. He reluctantly agrees to fly her to Manitou. Harla recognizes the plane as Jimmy's and grows suspicious of Noel. Noel fears that Harla would be endangered if he told her the truth. On the trip they are attacked and forced down by a mysterious plane. They are picked up by a river steamer bound for Manitou. On board is Raphael Flood, whose advances Harla resents, and whom Noel suspects to be the gang's leader. In Manitou Noel sees Harla go into his cabin with a gun. She takes aim at the cot where she thinks he is sleeping, but is unable to fire. Noel is forced to tell her the truth. Tah-Gomaugh brings word of an outbreak of smallpox in a remote Indian village. Noel and Harla fly there with aid. The Indian preserve is forbidden to prospectors. Noel realizes Jimmy discovered gold on the forbidden territory and that Flood killed Jimmy to get the gold himself. Flood abducts Harla. Noel finds Flood's camp at the gold placer, where Harla is imprisoned. He manages to free her and get possession of Flood's machine gun. He has reason to believe that Flood is Rocco, whom Noel is supposed to have killed. He intends to capture him alive if possible. Harla refuses to leave Noel to fight it out alone. Together they stage a battle against the gang, and win.

INSTALMENT XLVII.
NO GALLANT DEATH.

At the name Rocco the man cried out and whirled toward Noel and grabbed blindly for the automatic in his pocket.

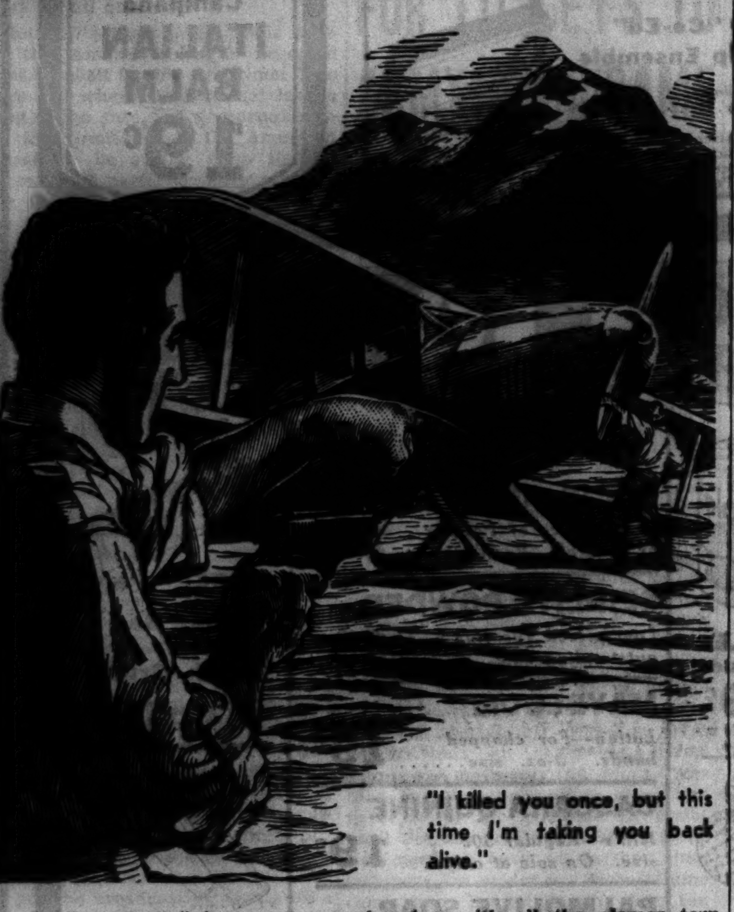
"Better drop your gun into the water," Noel advised. "I might have to shoot it out of your hand. And you're shaking so badly that you couldn't hit anything with it anyhow. Don't be so afraid, man. I wouldn't harm you for all the gold in that placer there. I killed you once, but this time I'm taking you back alive."

. . . .

In his Winnipeg apartment—the same apartment where Jimmy had come to him three months ago—Noel was glancing through a batch of evening papers and reading the press accounts of Flood's conviction that day.

Outside, a reddish October moon, encircled by the hunter's "eye of the buck," shone down upon the boulevard and the shrubbery plot from which those shadows had killed Jimmy and laughed and faded.

Those men had laughed a bit too soon, he mused, lifting his eyes to the bullet holes still in wall and ceiling. Confident and brazen they had been that night, but now they were dead, all of them but one—their notorious leader. And before the month was out, Flood too would die.



"I killed you once, but this time I'm taking you back alive."

No "gallant death," but a common hanging, with all the glamor torn away from him by the pitiless trial just ended.

"Poor devil," Noel muttered, thinking of his last visit to the jail that afternoon and of the broken cringing man who had alternately whined for mercy and cursed him.

Of the dozen press stories that he glanced at, not one had a word of pity or glorification or excuse for the convicted desperado. "Coward," "slinking killer," "mad dog"—those were a few of the phrases hurled at the master criminal who only last spring had been so glamorous a figure to the man in the street.

Thinking deeply, he laid the papers aside and moved across to the window and stood looking out, grateful that the long trial was over. He felt little personal triumph in bringing Flood to the gallows, and little elation in the public praise which had beaten upon himself for weeks. He was merely thankful that destiny had put into his hands a heavy weapon for good and that he had brought a sordid career to an end.

He realized that Harla would be getting out of the north before many days. It had been only seven weeks since she had said good-by to him at Manitou and returned to the Dinokui village. She had had scant time to make her cherished studies of them, but the big dark was coming on and she would have to leave.

He tried to imagine Harla's astonishment when she did return to Ottawa and found him there, heading a bureau of his own. She would be immensely glad, all right, of his new position—she was true enough a friend for that. But would she be more than a friend to him, there in Ottawa? Which way had the wind been blowing with her since that good-by at Manitou? To that raging question her two short friendly letters had given no hint at all.

With clear vision he had come to realize, in the past seven weeks, that it was one thing to give Harla De Long up, as he had done at Manitou, and an abysmally different thing to stop loving her and wanting her. What course was he to take toward her? Within a few days he was going to Ottawa, where she lived, and he would be there indefinitely, in the same city and social circles, always knowing that she was near him and that the touch of a phone would bring her voice to him.

Whether he stood any chance with her—there was the whole storm center of his uncertainty. He had little presumption or confidence.

One thing was certain—in the long weeks since Manitou her feelings toward him had taken definite shape, one way or other. When he saw her again and talked to her, he would know. . . .

Over at his desk the phone rang. He stepped across and lifted the receiver.

"Noel?"—it was Herm Spencer talking. "Say, Noel, there's a wild and woolly son of the Strong-Woods here with Eleanor and me. He says he's a friend of yours. Says he wants to see you."

"Why, uh, who is he, Herm?" Noel asked. Spencer's jesting tones made him think for a moment that Harla might be there.

"I'll let you talk to him," Herm said. "But come on over, then; we're waiting on you."

In a moment another man's voice came over the wire—a breezy voice which Noel had not heard since leaving the north, but which he would have recognized in a stadium crowd.

"Hullo, old timer! How're you, anyhow?"

"Good heavens—Strap! What in the world are you doing in Winnipeg?"

"Haven't done anything yet. Just blew in. But I aim to do plenty before I blow out. Taking a vacation from the old Bellank, and soaking up some sociability. How about dropping around here?"

"Why, yes, Strap. But what about Harla—didn't you bring her out of the north?"

"Sure I brought her, and I didn't crack her up in any mus'rat swamp either, like some people. We blew in together and came out here to the Spencers. Want to say hello to her?"

Noel gasped. All evening he had been thinking of Harla as down in the subarctic; and now, suddenly, here in Winnipeg.

Before he could answer Strap's question, he heard Harla take the phone. Afraid to presume on any friendship, he tried to be formal.

"How d'you do, Harla. I hope you had a pleasant trip out—"

That was as far as he got. "Noel!"—a little cry of joy from Harla. It punctured his formality like one of her deadly bullets. The warmth and eagerness of it unsteadied him. "It's so good to hear your voice again, Noel! Strap and I wanted to call you but we couldn't find your number, so we called the Spencers and they asked us out. Are you busy, Noel? Can you come now?"

"Yes—now," he managed.

As he waited for his taxi, outside, in the moon shadows of a maple, he tried to tell himself that just because a girl was glad to see him he was letting his imagination run wild. Of course Harla was glad, just as she would be glad to see any one with whom she had shared that week in the Grand Marais and that battle in the river valley.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Here it is Friday the 13th and a 4,000 word screed arrives from NBC concerning a century of progress in ten years of broadcasting, which is the network's way of once more calling attention to its 10th anniversary celebration. This observance has been in progress so long that we can hardly remember pre-anniversary celebration days. Actually it has been going on just six months and, according to the document on our desk, the real anniversary is Sunday, Nov. 15. On that day the whole business is to be wound up with a climactic broadcast which is modestly called "The World Salutes NBC." This little birthday party will run from 8 to 9 Sunday morning with the family of nations participating. Ominously enough, the guests will number just 13.

Sunday night from 7 to 8 Frank Black's orchestra will polish off the entire festivities. That will be all, and Monday will be blue indeed for listeners unless Columbia picks that day to announce a celebration culminating two years hence in its 10th anniversary!

Tonight is the night the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra goes to work for a group of national banks. Leopold Stokowsky will be on the podium at 10 p. m. when WBBM-CBS broadcasts the first concert. After three weeks he will be succeeded by Eugene Ormandy. Walter B. Pitkin [Life Begins at 40] will have something to say, too. Another group of banks is said to be considering sponsorship of the Saturday afternoon performances of the Metropolitan Opera. Meanwhile the Chicago Opera season is in full swing. But that doesn't mean much for radio listeners. It is true most of the performers are being interviewed from time to time on such subjects as how they keep slim or what are their favorite pets. But sing they will not.

Pardon us, the San Francisco Opera is on at midnight tonight over WENR.

Charlie Correll and Freeman Gosden are going back to their first love. Before they went on the air as Amos 'n' Andy—even before they were Sam 'n' Henry, they performed in minstrel shows. Now they plan to bring a minstrel show to radio. First production is scheduled for Friday, Dec. 4, on their regular broadcast period. There'll be singers and an orchestra, with Bill Hay as interlocutor. . . . The Weener Minstrels, with Gus Van, are opening today at the Oriental theater.

Hugh Studebaker's reading of Bill Cooper's poem to "The Unknown Soldier" on W-G-N Wednesday evening was a noble piece of work. If only the multitudinous rhapsodizers who are jostling each other on the airlanes nowadays might have been tuning in! There was a real lesson for them.

Kay Kyser is to take his whole band to St. Louis tonight to play for a private party. They'll hop back tomorrow morning to reherse for their sponsored Football Revue Saturday on which Elmer Layden will be interviewed.

Radio's most unlikely complication: That the "Voice of Experience" should encounter a problem he could not solve!

Love Apple.

BY NANCY CABOT.

It was not until the middle of the 19th century that love apples were considered edible. They first were brought into New England by sailors returning from West Indian trading, and they now are that most popular vegetable, the tomato. The "Love Apple" block originally was appliqued in red and yellow with green leaves against a white ground, and was known by several names, but the present one was most popular. The applique pattern is set together in an alternate arrangement with white blocks, and the completed coverlet measures 70 by 98 inches.

have felt that she was back in the conservatory in Poland of her husband's mother, for she is a noted orchid grower. No one grower, however, probably would have the variety seen last night, for never have we seen so many colors and kinds of orchids.

Seated with the Potockas were Mr. Dewey, Mr. Elting, the Gawronskas, Mrs. Frank Hibbard, president of the Casino, and Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis, wife of the senator. Mrs. Dewey presided at another table and the Deweys' daughter, Mrs. Edward B. Smith, was hostess at another one. Adlai E. Stevenson, as president of the Council on Foreign Relations; Robert Hall McCormick of the Alliance Française, Mrs. Hale, Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick, representing the Italy-America society; Samuel M. Rinaker, president of the English-Speaking Union; David Shillinglaw of the International Library, Mrs. Frank Hixon of the League of Women Voters, Robert Cabell, Mrs. Edward Everett of the Japan-America society, and James Stifler of International House at the University of Chicago were among others who presided at tables.

The young people at the Smiths' table were the junior Charles S. Deweys, the William B. Cudahys, the Robert Macdonalds, John M. Simpson, the Conway Olmsteds, and Dustin Grannis. Some of the others at the party, which numbered about 150, were Ira Nelson Morris, Lawrence M. Viles, the Howard F. Gillettes, the Arthur Meekers, Mrs. Donald M. Ryerson, Noble B. Judah, the Byron S. Harveys, the Bryan Reids, Miss Eloise ReQua, S. Douglas Flood Jr., the George Voevodskys, Miss Frances Whedon, the William A. Yagers, the British consul general, Lewis Bernays, and Mrs. Bernays, and the French consul general, Rene Weiller, and Mme. Weiller.

Also Mrs. Wilhelm L. Baum, the Walter S. Brewsters, the Chauncey B. Borlands, the John C. Pitchers, Mrs. Frederick T. Haskell, the Morris L. Johnstons, the Charles G. Kings, the Howard W. Fentons, Mrs. John Crerar, the Henry Bartholomays, Mrs. Joseph M. Patterson, Mrs. Townsend McKeever, the Silas H. Strawns, and the Edward A. Leights.

HAWKS BATTLE AMERICANS TO SCORELESS TIE

NIGHT BASEBALL APPROVED BY AMERICAN LEAGUE

ST. LOUIS CLUB TRANSFER ALSO RECEIVES O.K.

Grimm Drops In at Cub Headquarters.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The St. Louis Browns, for years the weak link in the American league chain, were placed in new hands here yesterday. The transfer, involving only the franchise and players, which had been under way for several weeks, became official when representatives of the purchasing syndicate appeared before the league magnates and furnished satisfactory answers for all questions.

Along with the new St. Louis backers the American league accepted night baseball for the first time. Two years ago when the National league voted to go into the nocturnal novelty in a limited way the American refused to be swung from its old course. But partly because of pressure from the St. Louis Cardinals, who use the Browns' park as home premises, lights will be installed and both clubs will do some of their next season's work after sundown.

Radio on Contract Basis.

After the St. Louis affair had been disposed of the magnates devoted an hour to the harnessing in a light way of baseball broadcasters. The league adopted a regular contract form under which the various stations must operate. The agreement, in addition to a restriction on what can be said over the air, reserves to each club the right to say who is to do the announcing.

The meeting also brought forth a decision from the Chicago White Sox to set a price on the broadcasting privileges at Comiskey park. This is in line with the prevailing practice at the five other league parks where broadcasting is permitted. The Sox officials will make no attempt to limit the number of stations.

Radio will be taken up again at the joint meeting of the two majors next month and it is possible that Commissioner K. M. Landis may urge further restrictions to satisfy the minor leagues. The National league also will put the broadcasting rights on a contract basis.

League Must O. K. Schedule.

Decision in connection with the night games will be reached next week at a meeting of the new Browns' owners, the bosses of the Cardinals and representatives of the Phil Ball estate, which retains possession of the ball park. It is probable that seven games, the same arrangement the National league has operated under since lights were installed at the Cincinnati park, will be scheduled for the Browns and Cardinals. This schedule, whatever it is, will have to be submitted to the American league for approval.

The syndicate which purchased the Browns for $325,000 in cash has been capitalized at $500,000, leaving a treasury balance of $175,000 for the development of the team. Eighteen names of syndicate members were revealed, but the plan is to spread the stock around St. Louis with the idea of stimulating interest. The presidency of the club will be taken by Donald L. Barnes. William O. DeWitt, for 19 years an official of the Cardinal organization, after severing his present connections, will become vice president and general manager of the Browns.

Rogers Hornsby, who holds a contract which has two years to run at $18,000 per season, will be retained as manager of the team.

Grimm Visits Headquarters.

Charley Grimm, Cub manager, returned to headquarters yesterday for the first time since the unhappy city series with the White Sox and after a conference with Owner P. K. Wrigley declared there was nothing to reveal.

"We just talked over possible trades that we think may be made during the winter meeting next month," said Grimm. "Our first effort, of course, will be directed toward the capturing of a good center fielder."

"You must be talking about Hank Leiber of the Giants and Wally Berger of the Bees," was the reply to this statement.

Go Ohead with Spring Dates.

With the Pacific Coast league set on April 3 opening, the Sox, Cubs, Pirates, and Browns officials will be able to go ahead on a spring training schedule which involves all four clubs. The Sox, Cubs, and Pirates can stay in California, if they wish, until April 2. It is definitly settled that the Cubs will play the Sox two games and the Pirates one at Los Angeles March 26, 27, and 28.

The Sox and Cubs also will play about four games between the coast

BROADWAY CRIES FOR TICKETS TO ARMY-IRISH GAME

Cadets Are Confident of Victory.

BY ARCH WARD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 12.—Broadway woke up this morning to find that the football season is here. For Broadway the football season is a one day affair. It's the day Army plays Notre Dame. Nothing else seems to matter.

For years Army and Notre Dame have provided New York with its one big football orgy. Even the growing stature of the Fordham-St. Mary's and Fordham-Purdue games hasn't dimmed its importance.

There usually is a touch of the spectacular and bizarre to the battles between the Cadets and the Irish which finds an eager receptivity among the metropolitans. More times than not, the fighting is close and fierce, with the outcome in doubt until the last precinct is heard from. You need go back no farther than last year for evidence. Notre Dame came from behind in the last ten seconds of play to tie the score 6 to 6.

There's Shortage of Seats.

To the surprise and indignation of many of the subway alumni the 1936 season will open and close without them. There aren't enough tickets to go around. Although Yankee stadium accommodates in the neighborhood of 80,000, West Point officials had to turn down 20,000 applications and the Notre Dame supply was exhausted five weeks ago.

Art Haley, ticket manager at Notre Dame, has been in China for the last four weeks to all persons desiring to see him about seats.

The 80,000 spectators will leave in excess of $300,000 at the gate. The cheapest seats are $4.40. Boxes sell at $6.60. Scalpers are asking and getting twice the face value.

The Army-Notre Dame has no counterpart in college football. It's a sellout at peak prices in good times or hard times. It makes no difference whether one or both teams have been defeated. Take the present situation, for example. Army, which chased Harvard right into the Charles river, 32 to 0, a month ago, was bumped off by Colgate, 14 to 7, two weeks later. Notre Dame, victorious in its first three contests, collapsed against Pittsburgh, came back stoutly against Ohio State, and then went down before the Navy. And still more than 125,000 are clamoring for the stadium's 80,000 seats.

Army Is Confident.

Army hasn't beaten Notre Dame since 1931 and has won only two of the last ten games. The series, which began in 1913, stands at 15 victories for Notre Dame, 5 for West Point, and there have been 2 ties. After today's workout, however, an air of confidence prevaded the Army camp. The entire reservation is vibrant with enthusiasm.

Lieut. Gar Davidson, West Point coach, said before taking his squad to Knollwood Country club in Westchester, where it will remain until game time, that his athletes are in the best shape of the season. Notre Dame to win must play much better football than it has showed so far this season, Davidson and his aides predict.

There has been almost a complete turnover in talent since the two teams lined up at Yankee stadium a year ago. Of the 22 starters Saturday only five answered the whistle in 1935. They are Wally Stromberg, Monk Meyer, and Leif Erickson of the Army and Lautar and Steinkemper of Notre Dame.

The Irish squad, which will arrive at Harmon in the morning and go to the Westchester Biltmore Country club for its final workout, will pay special attention this year to Meyer, the Army's 146 pound half back whose brilliant runs almost defeated Notre Dame last fall. Meyer is considered

LONGHORNS IN CONFERENCE

Texas Squad Faces Gophers with a Smile

BY FRENCH LANE.

University of Texas football players hopped off a train from the southwest at the Union station yesterday afternoon and hurried to Soldiers' field for a brief workout. Just why they were unanimously wreathed in smiles is a hard one to guess, for they have been fresh out of good news for quite some time.

In their last four games in the southwest they have been whipped. Their soundest spanking came last Saturday at the hands of Texas Christian by a score of 27 to 6.

Coach Chevigny to Quit.

Their coach, Jack Chevigny, who formerly was the late Knute Rockne's assistant at Notre Dame, announced just before the team left Austin on Tuesday that he would not seek the University of Texas job again after the present season ends.

Then to top it all off the team meets the powerful Gophers from Minnesota tomorrow afternoon at Minneapolis. They were en route to attend to that chore when they made their brief stopover in Chicago yesterday afternoon.

The train bringing the Texas team here was more than an hour late so Coach Chevigny, who is widely known in Chicago, had little time to explain the decision he has made to desert his football post in Texas.

SEE CROWD RECORD BROKEN.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—If a crowd of 40,000 turns out Saturday to watch the Minnesota football team play its final home game against the Longhorns of Texas, which seems more than likely, all attendance figures for a Gopher team will be established. The previous all time high was 325,000 established last year, and a 40,000 crowd Saturday in keeping with the present rate of ticket sales would lift the season's total past 330,000.

All home crowd records likewise would be broken. The figure for crowds at Memorial stadium would be increased to 250,000 which would be more than 30,000 above last year's figure of 217,000. And there is the Wisconsin game yet to be played, probably lifting the season's total to 366,000, a total of 40,000 over the previous high mark.

The Gophers ran through their final hard drill in preparation for the Texans, who arrive in Minneapolis tomorrow morning. The kickoff play, with which the Gophers have not scored once this year after doing it several times the previous two seasons, was especially emphasized. Fifteen players as follows close their home collegiate career with Saturday's contest:

HUNK ANDERSON OFFERED DODGER COACHING JOB

New York, Nov. 12.—[Special.]—It was reported today that Hunk Anderson, football coach at North Carolina State, will coach the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National pro league next season. Anderson in Raleigh, N. C., admitted he had received the offer, but declined to comment.

Paul Schissler, the present Dodger coach, said he had not been notified of any contemplated change. Schissler came to the Dodgers late in 1935. His team finished second in the eastern division last year but the directors of the club wrecked his team this year by firing most of his good players.

New York, Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Winston Guest, only ten goal player in indoor polo, gave up his position as president of the Indoor Polo Association of America tonight. Elbridge T. Gerry was elected his successor.

SIMMONS BLOCKS WAY BACK INTO FAVOR AT IOWA

Colored Star Gives Fine Exhibition in Drill.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 12—[Special.]—Welcomed back by his mates, who demanded no apology, Ozzie Simmons returned to the Iowa lineup tonight and blocked with a vengeance as the Hawkeyes prepared for Purdue Saturday.

Simmons gave a superb exhibition of blocking in a hard offensive scrimmage against the freshmen. Simmons and Coach Ossie Solem conducted themselves as if nothing had come between them. Solem spoke softly to Ozzie a couple of times, correcting his position on offensive plays, but no other words or looks were exchanged.

Arrives on Field Early.

Simmons, one of the first players on the field, preceded Solem by ten minutes, but neither paid more than passing attention to the other as the Iowa coach made his appearance.

Solem had drawn Simmons aside when he reported for practice Wednesday night, demanding that the colored boy apologize to him and to the squad for talking back to the coach during a showing of Minnesota game pictures at a meeting Monday.

Ordered off the field when he refused, Simmons later offered apologies to Solem when Prof. C. M. Updegraff, Iowa athletic board chairman, brought them together.

Teammates Elated.

Simmons' teammates made no secret of their satisfaction over the star's return.

"We're mighty glad to have him back," declared Scott Wagler, veteran half back. "We'll certainly need him against Purdue. He's one of the greatest football players the country has seen in years."

Wagler's statement was corroborated by other members of the squad, including Co-Capts. Hild and Osmaloski, and Klumpar, Walker, and others.

Hild spiked rumors that players have been jealous of the publicity Ozzie has received. "Ozzie is entitled to every bit of publicity he has had," he asserted, "and we don't begrudge it."

The possibility that Iowa may have two Simmonses in the back field in the dads' day and American Legion day game with Purdue here Saturday became likely today.

Line Is Excused.

Although the brothers were used in separate back field combinations, Don Simmons, Oz's older brother, a star for four years at a high school in Fort Worth, Tex., was being groomed by Solem for the full back post. Ozzie appeared at half back in another back field, with Wagler, Grange, and Bowlin.

The squad was put through a strenuous practice, despite the fact that Solem dismissed his regular line to rest it for Purdue. The secondary defense, with Ozzie in the lineup, stiffened against Boilermaker passes thrown by the freshmen.

Simmons reported tonight he is going ahead with plans to organize his own professional colored basketball team at the end of the football season to pay tuition expenses for his final semester at the university.

PURDUE SQUAD LEAVES.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Purdue's football squad left here this afternoon for Iowa City, where the Boilermakers will jump back into the Big Ten campaign against Iowa on Saturday.

The Boilermakers left with the feeling that Iowa's internal difficulties of the last week are apt to arouse the Hawkeyes to such a pitch that Purdue's problem of getting back on the victory trail will be made just that much more difficult.

Five Chicagoans Keep Bike Race Fans Awake at Stadium

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Five Chicago boys, collaborating with three other youngsters last night, continued to keep the six day bike race at Chicago Stadium from becoming purely a conditioning workout for the New York race which opens at Madison Square Garden on Nov. 29.

While the expected stars held stubbornly to their earlier stalling and sulking policy the aforesaid energetic octet made it a good show. They kept bearing down and caused the crowd to forget the gents who have been dogging it despite their plump salaries.

Alvaro Georgetti and Tino Reboli persisted in giving the customers a run for their dough and their efforts, which placed them in first place before midnight Wednesday. They managed to stay in first place, but were joined by Charley Yaccino and Hank Sima just before midnight. At 3 a. m. Yaccino and Sima held a lead on points.

Assist from Wisconsin.

Pressing the leaders at all times was the Chicago team of Jerry Rodman-Cecil Yates. Rodman-Yates were in third place, followed by Gerard Debaets and Bobby Thomas. Thomas is a Kenosha boy and always has given his best efforts to Chicago races.

Louis Cohen-Henry O'Brien, who have been living up to expectations, were fifth, followed by Ignat and Diot. Next came W. Peden and D. Peden, then the quintet that the fans charge are getting money under false pretenses.

The management of the race last night was said to favor tossing Gus Kilian and Heinz Vopel, erstwhile sensations, out of the race. Referee Frank Kramer, who made a big "suspension flourish" Wednesday, was reported to have subsided last night.

Germans Are Problem.

Kilian and Vopel started the race here with a record of nine straight victories including the last two races in Chicago. Here and elsewhere they became the idols of German sports minded folk. They were treated royally among bike fans several days after the race. Vopel is said to have accepted these receptions gracefully, but Kilian's satisfaction with himself was noted on many occasions. After all, some of his hosts said, there have been other great Germans who didn't ride to success on a bicycle.

Flies Bother Kilian.

Some of the lavish German hosts put the chill on when Kilian arrived in town. He immediately went into a pout, according to race attachés. He complained of flies in his bunk room and said the aroma of recently departed cows and cowboys of the rodeo nauseated him. Fumigating guns were rushed to his couch and presently there were neither flies nor cowboy echoes. Still Kilian remained a prima donna. The more agreeable Vopel was obliged to go along with his partner's determination to gum up the works.

The management of the show said last night that Kilian never will ride another Chicago race so long as it is conducted under present auspices.

1—Cohen, Letourner, Georgetti, Thomas.
2—W. Peden, Sima, Diot, Rodman.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 12.—The University of Michigan football team, now in the third year of its greatest depression, apparently will tie its 1934 record of one victory and seven defeats. That is an all time Michigan mark of inefficiency. To equal it, the Wolverines must lose to Northwestern Saturday and then take a trimming from Ohio State at the Buckeyes' homecoming in the final engagement of this campaign.

The boys should be able to lose two more games. But there were inveterate fans around this town today who are willing to play a hunch. They insist that the Wolverines have a chance to defeat Northwestern.

Michigan Victory Forgotten.

Of course, this optimism is extremely foolish. Only a scoring flurry of two touchdowns against Columbia university and a surprising goal line defense which turned back the New Yorkers five times, kept Michigan from going into the Northwestern game unvictorious. But that game has been forgotten since Michigan lost to Illinois by virtue of its errors, and then was overpowered last week by Pennsylvania. Consequently, Northwestern, victorious in five conference games, should be able to keep Michigan's record intact.

Detroit, which furnished support for Michigan athletics, manifestly has assented to continuation of the Wolverines' record of futility. Attendance at Saturday's game probably will not be more than 30,000 since Detroit admits defeat and Northwestern anticipates victory.

This surmise may be completely upset, however. Perhaps this is superfluous information, but Minnesota was an almost unanimous choice to defeat Northwestern. There were some who also freely predicted Iowa would whip Northwestern. To continue the analogy, there were opinions that Michigan could defeat Michigan State, and many even wagered Michigan would lick Illinois.

It Could Be Done.

The obvious answer, based on these incorrect suppositions, is to pick Michigan to defeat Northwestern. Then, with both playing to form, Michigan will lose to the Wildcats. Thus the records will be maintained intact.

It would not be a complete surprise if Michigan should nose out Northwestern. It could be done. These Wolverines are not the worst team in America. The new men have gained experience, and with a break in their extremely bad luck they might deftly rise to the occasion.

Michigan's impotence largely has been due to its difficult schedule. The conference teams which have beaten Michigan are all first division elevens with the exception of Illinois. And Illinois has lost only one Big Ten game. Michigan State and Pennsylvania, nonconference conquerors of the Wolverines, have lost one game each.

Record Might Have Been Different.

It is conceivable that Michigan, if it played Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Chicago, to the exclusion of other conference foes, would present an entirely different record. For instance, Minnesota whipped Michigan, 26 to 0, which is exactly half the score by which the Gophers humbled Iowa last week.

Michigan does not have a defeatist attitude nor is it apologetic. The players and coaches have worked harmoniously and diligently. Material is not the best obtainable. Many of the Referees—Odie Cleghorn and A. G. Smith.

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The Chicago Blackhawks, meeting the New York Americans for the second straight time since the season opened last Thursday, gained little satisfaction in battling to a scoreless tie tonight. A week ago in hocky's 1936-'37 debut in Chicago the teams played to a 1 to 1 deadlock. Tonight's game opened the National league season in New York.

More than 11,000 fans turned out to see the Americans play under new management, but were given little to cheer about since the teams adopted close checking tactics throughout except for a few moments in the third period and a short time in the overtime period. In the extra session the Blackhawks scored in four minutes, but the goal was ruled out when officials decided Doc Romnes had knocked Paul Thompson's pass into the cage with his arm.

Hawks Tie for Second Place.

The deadlock enabled the Americans to draw even for the leadership of the Canadian section with the Montreal Canadiens, who defeated the Maroons tonight. The Chicagoans advanced to the second rung of the American division with the New York Rangers.

Eddie Cantor faced the puck and the crowd gave the comedian a hand. Each team started its No. 1 line. Chapman and Schreiner almost sent the puck past Karakas during scrimmages. At the other end Thompson was robbed of a certain goal when Worters saved in spectacular fashion after the Hawk wing man had stick handled through the entire American team.

Play continued fast but was of a scrappy type when the teams changed lines. Karakas was given some busy moments by the American's new center, Lloyd Jackson, but Karakas turned the shots aside cleverly until his forwards and defense settled down.

Checking Is Close.

The checking became so close in the final minutes of the period the forwards seldom got past the blue lines and the goalies did little but pick pot shots from the air. The period ended on a slow note.

The fans howled loudly in the second period before play speeded up. Seibert then dashed wildly into American territory but his perfect pass out was missed by the Hawks perched near the Americans' cage.

Shields sped down center flanked by Wiseman and just when a goal seemed assured Levinsky made a flying dive to stop another Shields' pass at the Blackhawk goal mouth. At the other end Blair's snap shot just missed the top corner of the New York cage.

Oliver skated down center alone, tricked Burke, but was outguessed by Karakas who forced him to backhand one which the Chicago goalie tipped high into the air. Oliver and Shields combined a moment later to get within a few feet of Karakas, who saved Shields' low shot.

Gottselig drew the first penalty. He was sentenced for tripping Anderson, and Lamb also was penalized for roughing. Through the end of the period only long shots were propelled goalwards by the close checking players.

Open Up in Third Period.

Both sides opened up in the third period and the forwards provided thrills in their furious efforts to score. Karakas had the most difficult stops to make as the Americans sent four and five man waves into Blackhawk territory. Burke took a penalty for interference and the Americans turned on a power play that came within inches of bringing a goal when Wiseman and Anderson poured rubber at Karakas who made one save with the puck on the goal line.

The Blackhawks netted the rubber four minutes after the start of the overtime when Thompson and Romnes darted away from an American power play, but the referee ruled it no goal because Romnes had knocked in Thompson's high pass with his arm.

AGEING CANADIEN TRIO HELPS BEAT MAROONS, 2 TO 1

Gagnon, Joliat Score, and Morenz Gets Assist.

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 12.—(AP)—The old men of the Montreal Canadiens, brought back together this season, showed some of their old time form tonight as they gave the Flying Frenchmen a 2 to 1 victory over the Montreal Maroons in the season's first intra-city battle of the National Hockey league season.

More than 7,000 saw the Canadiens hang up their second victory of the season and the Maroons, weakened by the absence of Jerry Carson and Carl Voss, suffer their second straight setback. The victory sent the Canadiens into a tie with the New York Americans for the International division lead.

Johnny Gagnon, veteran right winger, and little Aurel Joliat, who is playing his fifteenth season with the Canadiens, shot the Canadiens' goals, while Howie Morenz, an absentee last year, furnished an assist on Joliat's winning tally. Jimmy Ward scored the Maroon goal in the opening period, less than three minutes after Gagnon had smashed his way through to beat Goalie Alex Connell.

Morenz paved the way for Joliat's winning goal eight minutes before the finish when he forced Connell to the ice to save his drive. The goalie couldn't get back in time to block Joliat's tap into the corner of the net.

Only two penalties were handed out. Lineup:

NEW PRINCETON MASCOT ORANGE AND BLACK CAT

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—An orange and black cat has been discovered by three Princeton university students who are keeping it in their rooms to use as a mascot against Yale's bulldog in the game between the Big Three rivals here Saturday.

The animal was discovered in the court of Holder hall following the Navy football game three weeks ago, and has been cared for by the three loyal sons of Nassau ever since. The cat is all black, but when seen in the daylight it has an orange sheen which gives the impression of the Princeton colors of orange and black.

Indoor Tennis School Opens at Armory Sunday

The tennis school, inaugurated by Bill Parkhill for the Chicago Tennis association last winter, will open Sunday for the indoor season at the 131st Infantry armory, 16th street and Michigan avenue. The school will be open every day at noon and continue until 8 p. m. It has the indorsement of the Chicago parks district and the board of education.

Chicago Teams Confident of Soccer Victory

The Sparta and Chicago Maccabee soccer teams, who face the Palestine Maccabees in the west side's international twin soccer bill at Sparta stadium Sunday, are confident of victory. Five of the Spartas were in the Illinois-All Star lineup when the Jewish champions won, 1 to 0, on a free kick. They are of the opinion that if the entire Sparta team had been in there that day they would have won.

Second Visit Here.

Sunday marks the second time the Palestine team has faced a regular eleven on its present tour. Most of its opponents have been pickup all-star teams. Thus the visitors will find themselves opposed by more team work than usual.

The Chicago Maccabees last season won the Peel cup, emblematic of the city championship. This year the Spartas are leading the local pro league with the Chicago Maccabees in second place.

The Spartas will depend largely upon these stars: Scott, Tomich, Mrnka, Fidler, and Monro. Fidler is a recent addition to the Spartas, coming here from Canada.

Former Hakoah Player.

The Chicago Maccabees are headed by Louis Fischer, a former Vienna Hakoah player, and, with such experienced stars as Davidson, Henney, and Cuthbert, believe they will be able to solve the foreigners' celebrated carpet game.

Interest in the games indicates that the west side field will see the largest attendance in its history. It is the first time in Chicago soccer history that a European team has played a double-header. This also marks the end of the Maccabees' world tour.

MUELLNER BACK; DE PAUL SQUAD AGAIN IS INTACT

Bill Muellner rejoined the De Paul university squad yesterday to give the Demons full strength for their remaining two games. Muellner had been hurt in the North Dakota game last Saturday.

Arkansas Tech will be met at Russellville on Monday and Texas Tech a week from tonight at Lubbock. Arkansas is a strong minor college team and should provide De Paul with a busy afternoon. Last Wednesday Arkansas walloped Monticello A. and M., 40 to 6.

Wanted: More Tickets for Army Game

the best offensive player the Cadets have had since Chris Cagle.

Army's whole attack revolves around Meyer. He is the spearhead of the air game, the lancehead of the rushing attack, the big decoy of Davidson's reverses. He ran wild against Harvard and Columbia, saw only brief service against Colgate, and is ready to break out again.

If Elmer Layden's boys devote too much time to watching Meyer, they may find Jack Ryan, Jim Schwenck, or Bob Kasper streaking down the field. Over zealous attention to Meyer last year enabled the Army to shake loose Grove, Grohs, and True for big gains.

West Point, which always scouts Notre Dame carefully, has paid more attention than ever this year to the Irish shortcomings and strong points. Davidson has been told that the Irish are vulnerable in the air, both on offense and defense, so you may be sure the Cadets will cut loose with forward passes at the earliest opportunity.

IRISH BACKS CRIPPLED.

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Notre Dame's football squad left here this afternoon for Rye, N. Y., where it will arrive tomorrow to await Saturday's game with Army. Thirty-three made the trip.

Coach Elmer Layden announced that it is doubtful whether Larry Danbom and Steve Miller, full backs, and Vic Wojcihovski, right half back, will be able to play.

Wojcihovski has started every game except the Ohio State contest, in which he appeared only to hold the ball for Danbom's place kick for the extra point. Danbom and Miller were both hurt in this game. Danbom started against Navy, but played only a few minutes when Ed Simonich, sophomore, replaced him. Miller has not seen action since the Buckeye contest.

The injured trio, all seniors, represent Not Dame's only experienced men for their respective positions. If Wojcihovski is unable to start, Jake Kovalcik, a sophomore, will appear at right half back. Simonich and Ben Binkowski, reserve full backs, are both sophomores. The squad:

King Edward's Golf Club Seeks an American Pro

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Sunningdale Golf club, of which King Edward VIII. for many years was a member and at which he played his most memorable matches, has decided to advertise for a new professional in United States newspapers in addition to British.

The post, until recently, was held by E. Sales and is reported to be worth £2,000 yearly and certainly is the most lucrative professional job in the country when the furnishing of members with clubs and balls is taken into account.

Hitherto no British club has considered the engaging of a professional from the United States and replies to the advertisments are awaited with interest.

PANTHERS WORK OUT HERE FOR NEBRASKA GAME

The University of Pittsburgh's football team paused in Chicago yesterday for a light limbering-up drill at Stagg field before proceeding to Lincoln, Neb., to meet Nebraska.

Dr. Jock Sutherland, the Panther head coach, said his squad was in good condition and ready for a terrific battle.

"We know we will be in a great battle," he said, "for we consider Nebraska to be the greatest team in the country."

The Panthers took their workout on Stagg field, the University of Chicago's home battle ground, running through formations, kicking and throwing the ball around without body contact work.

ST. BENEDICT'S, ST. MARY'S MEET HERE TOMORROW

St. Benedict's college and St. Mary's college football squads will leave tonight for Chicago, arriving in time for a brief workout in the 124th Field Artillery arena, 52d street and Cottage Grove avenue, scene of their game.

Natural rivals for many years, the two teams have been pointing toward tomorrow night's game all season.

Chicago fans will pay special attention to Leo Deutsch, captain and right end of St. Benedict's, who gained fame at St. Rita's, and upon Erwin Weiffenback, former Berwyn star, and now a triple threat half back on the St. Benedict's eleven.

and San Antonio, Tex., where the Sox will start touring with the Pirates and the Cubs with the Browns. The Cubs will start for their Catalina Island camp March 7 and the Sox advance squad will head for Pasadena, Cal., several days before that.

SYNDICATE MEMBERS LISTED

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Actual transfer of the St. Louis Browns from the estate of the late Phil DeC. Ball to the syndicate headed by Donald L. Barnes probably will be made Monday.

Prominent among Barnes' associates are representatives of St. Louis' shoe industry—Frank C. Rand, chairman of the board of International Shoe company; Andrew Johnson, vice president and treasurer of the company; W. N. Sitton, assistant treasurer; Howard Stephens, president of Johnson, Stephens & Shinkle Shoe company, and Bradford Shinkle, vice president and treasurer.

In addition to Barnes, other purchasers who are in the investment business are Talton T. Francis, Samuel C. McCluney, Herbert Waltke, and Walter C. Haeussler. Rhodes E. Cave, George C. Foster, Thomas S. McPheeters, Anthony A. Buford, and former United States Senator George H. Williams are attorneys interested in the transaction.

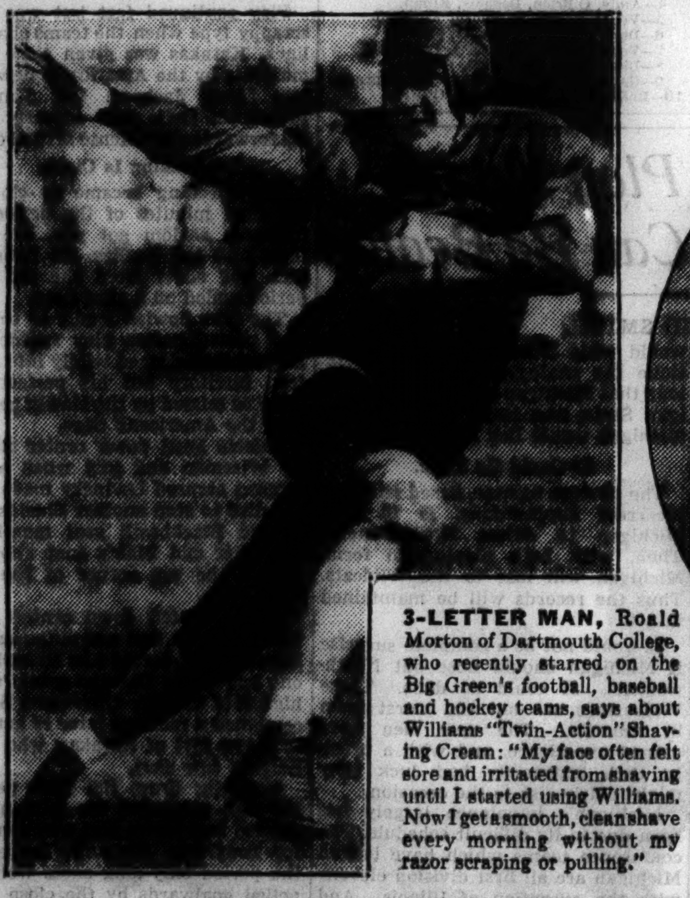
... say these wiry-bearded Athletes



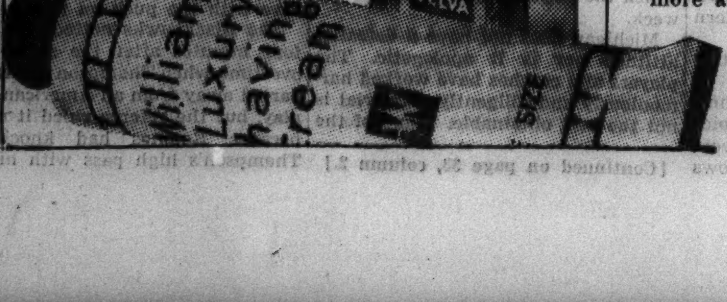
3-LETTER MAN, Roald Morton of Dartmouth College, who recently starred on the Big Green's football, baseball and hockey teams, says about Williams "Twin-Action" Shaving Cream: "My face often felt sore and irritated from shaving until I started using Williams. Now I get a smooth, clean shave every morning without my razor scraping or pulling."

LOUIS MEYER, winner of the 1936 Indianapolis 500-mile race and the only driver to win 3 times, says: "Listen, boys, when it comes to picking a shaving cream that really does a job on tough whiskers like mine, I'll take Williams."

"BIG BILL" TILDEN, 7 times U. S. Champion and the greatest player in tennis annals, finds: "Williams wilts the 'starch' right out of my whiskers and, believe me, it takes a good cream to soften these tough bristles. My face feels a lot cleaner and cooler, too, when I use a dash of Aqua Velva after shaving."

Soaks Whiskers Softer

Made by a special homogenizing process, Williams Shaving Cream has a greater capacity to hold water than ordinary creams. 1. It soaks the "starch" out of your whiskers quicker than any other popular cream, tests show. 2. It instantly softens the scaly outer skin on your face—allows razor to cut off each hair at the base. Try a tube.



"Twin-Action" Shaving Cream Softens Skin ... Wilts Whiskers Down to Base!

And that's why these famous tough-bearded men and thousands more are using Williams "Twin-Action" Shaving Cream.

First, Williams' rich, wet lather penetrates the oily film on your whiskers. It quickly takes the "starch" out of the 40,000 horny bristles that make up your beard.

Second, it soaks and softens the scaly outer skin of your face . . . allows razor edge to reach right down to the base of each hair.

Your razor cuts through these limp, wilted whiskers easily, smoothly . . . without scraping or pulling.

HOOSIERS RATED HEAVY FAVORITES OVER MAROONS

Indiana Enjoys Position for First Time in Series.

Indiana's Hoosiers, who will arrive in Chicago today for their battle with the Maroons at Stagg field tomorrow, are coming up to the Midway top-heavy favorites for the first time in the series. Only four times in the twenty-five previous contests between the Maroon and Crimson teams has Indiana emerged the victor, and on none of those occasions was its advance rating so high.

Indiana has lost only two games this season, both to strong opponents, Nebraska and Ohio State, by close scores. Since the advent of Coach Bo McMillin, the Hoosiers have lost only one November game, that to Chicago in 1934, when Jay Berwanger had a field day. This year they outman the Maroons so clearly that McMillin apparently is ready to start a team of "shock troops."

Nearly All Maroons Ready.

Observers at the Midway believe that Chicago will put up a better fight than they did last year when the Hoosiers won, 24 to 0. A blight of injuries before and during the game hampered the home squad considerably last season. While there are some cripples at the Midway this week nearly every one will be able to play.

Maroons Shift Lineup.

Because of ailments, the starting Maroon line tomorrow probably will differ from that of recent games. On the basis of yesterday's practice, the ends will be Gillerlain and Frick; tackles, Antonic and Wright; guards, Jordan and Bosworth, and center, Whiteside. Bob Fitzgerald, Ken Petersen, Earl Sappington, and Harmon Meigs, who have been starters, probably will be used extensively, however.

The defensive portion of the practice consisted of special instructions on the plays in which Vernon Huffman, Hoosier triple threat star, is the key figure. Coach Shaughnessy did not neglect, however, to mention the abilities of such other Indiana backs as Filchock, Fox, Cherry, Norton, Eads, and Fowler.

INDIANA SQUAD READY.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—After going through a final light workout this afternoon, Indiana university's football squad was pronounced ready for the Chicago contest at the Midway Saturday afternoon. The squad will leave tomorrow morning and will not work out in Chicago.

Two Indiana back fields, both composed of reserves, were tested in a signal drill. One consisted of Norton, quarter back; Filchock and Oliver, half backs, and Graham, full back, while the other included Anderson, quarter back; Cavacini and Tanner, half backs, and Whitman, full back.

JANKOWSKI IS READY.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Eddie Jankowski, senior full back, will be in the starting lineup when the Badgers play Cincinnati here Saturday afternoon, Coach Harry Stuhldreher said today.

Jankowski was injured in the Chicago game two weeks ago and has since been playing a reserve rôle to Howie Weiss, a sophomore. In addition to his blocking and line crashing abilities, Jankowski is rated the best place kicker on the squad. The Badgers have scored 11 touchdowns this fall, but only twice have they added the extra point.

For the third straight day, Coach Stuhldreher and his aids worked with the varsity in strengthening the running game. Warned by Badger scouts that Cincinnati has a deceptive attack, Stuhldreher closed today's session with a thorough review of Cincinnati formations in a dummy scrimmage.

Michigan's Fans Believe N. U. Can Lose

best football players can't pass the Michigan entrance requirements. Only two of thirteen Detroit star high school players a year ago could enter Michigan. None in the group at Toledo could enter.

These are not alibis for this year's record. They may be harbingers of what Michigan must accept now that the university has adopted a standard for matriculation which is higher than mere possession of a high school diploma.

No Clamor For Change.

In passing, it should be added, that no Michigan man who understands the situation, an impasse which also confronts the University of Chicago, is clamoring for a change in football coaches. It is a bit difficult to explain except on basis of material, why Harry Kipke, who led his teams to four Big Ten titles in five years, suddenly should be unable to direct his players to more than six victories in the last 22 games.

Michigan worked out this afternoon for the Northwestern game in the final hard practice of the week. Capt. Matt Patanelli, who has been injured, is expected to start at left end, Bob Cooper, who took his first drill yesterday since receiving a shoulder injury two weeks ago, will not be able to play. The exact nature of the injury, at first thought to be a fracture, rather than a torn or pulled ligament, has defied accurate description.

Vandewater, Garber at Guard.

Stark Ritchie, right half back, also remains on the list of cripples. His position Saturday will be taken by Russell [Wallie] Hook, Grand Rapids sophomore.

John Smithers, left half, and Cedric Sweet, full back, will continue to carry the burden of attack. Sweet's kicking may prove to be invaluable and Coach Kipke is drilling the line to give him more protection, apparently fearing that a Wildcat may duplicate the Illini feat of punt blocking.

Clarence Vandewater probably will be paired with Jesse Garber at guards in the lineup. Don Siegel and James Lincoln have done well enough at tackles to retain their assignments. Dan Smick continues to hold the right end position.

FULLER LOST TO N. U.

Northwestern will meet Michigan tomorrow without the services of Leon Fuller, regular center, who has not recovered sufficiently from injuries received in the Wisconsin game to permit him to play.

Erwin Wegner, reserve center, will replace Fuller in the Wildcats' starting lineup tomorrow. Wegner, a junior, has seen considerable service this season and is expected to make an adequate replacement at the pivot position.

The Wildcats held their last heavy practice yesterday. The workout consisted of another drill on pass defense and blocking. Attention was also paid to forward passing, a phase of attack that the Purple has neglected in recent games. Don Heap, Ollie Adelman and Bernard Jefferson were all given an opportunity to test their throwing arms.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

OHIO STATE VS. ILLINOIS.

"OHIO STATE may have beaten Chicago 44 to 0, but the Buckeye machine is not going to roll over Illinois."

That is the word from L. M. [Mike] Tobin, stimulator of public interest in Illinois athletics. There is basis for that opinion, aside from Tobin's perennial optimism, in the history of the series, originating back in 1902, which has a count of twelve Illinois victories, ten for Ohio State, and two ties.

In these twenty-four games, only nine have showed winning margins of more than 7 points. Ten have been played with margins of 3 points or less. Highest Buckeye figures were 40 to 0 in 1931, and highest Illinois, 46 to 0 in 1904. Upsets have been so common in this traditional rivalry they hardly are upsets.

That past history and memory of last year's encounter are what spurs Illini this week-end on "Dad's day" in an effort which most neutral onlookers would call a hopeless cause.

Ohio State, co-champion with Minnesota in 1935, was set for a slaughter when Coach Zuppke took his crippled, light, scrappy gridders to Columbus last fall. Instead, Buckeyes emerged with a 6 to 0 victory made possible by Tippy Dye's long run after receiving a punt, and because little Jewett Cole of Illinois tripped over a teammate who had blocked a tackler when it seemed he had a clear field for a touchdown run. Twice Illini held for downs within their 10 yard line.

The Wake's first experience with this series was in 1921 at Columbus. Ohio State had not lost a conference game. Illinois had not won one. Don Peden's forward pass to Larry Walquist gave Illinois a 7 to 0 victory and deflected the title from Ohio State to Iowa. Seeking Coach Jack Wilce of the Buckeyes for an interview after the game, he was nowhere to be found. Finally we located him in a nervous near-collapse in a darkened room of the athletic building. It was after that contest that the term "Fighting Illini" became a fixture.

But there had been kaleidoscopic changes before that. In 1916 at Champaign, Illinois led 6 to 0 up to the closing minutes, when a small fast Buckeye broke loose for a touchdown. Then Buckeye Chic Harley calmly changed shoes after his run and kicked the point after touchdown which meant victory. In Harley's last year Ohio State was a strong antegame favorite, but Bob Fletcher place kicked a field goal in the last few minutes for a 9 to 7 count which gave the conference title to Illinois.

In 1920 Ohio State completed a pass for 7 to 0 in the final seconds, the gun cracking as the ball was in flight, but, of course, the play counted. That gave title to the so-called "horseshoe champions" because Ohio State had pulled several other close contests from the fire in the fourth period.

The last four games have been narrow. In 1932 Vuchinich's field goal determined the issue. Ohio State repeated in 1933 by a point after touchdown, 7 to 6. In 1934 Zuppke's "flying trapeze" scored two early touchdowns and a 14 to 13 victory against the Buckeyes' vastly superior strength. Last year the Buckeye margin was 6 points, as told.

NORTH CENTRAL BACKS, ENDS BEAT LINE MEN, 9 TO 6

Any argument about the relative merit of North Central's varsity back field and line was settled in favor of the former yesterday when a team composed of backs and ends took a 9 to 6 decision from an eleven made up of tackles, guards, and centers.

Toronto Mat Title Claimant Receives Fractured Leg

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Yvon Robert, 216, Toronto, a claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling title, received a broken leg tonight in a match with Cliff Olson, 210, Baudette, Minn. The match ended in eight minutes. However, Olson declined to accept the decision or claim the title.

Penn Guard Out for Year with Cracked Vertebra

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Bill Fielder, star guard, was lost to the University of Pennsylvania football team for the remainder of the season today.

Lasater to Start for Illini Against Ohio

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Harry Lasater, sophomore lineman, will probably start against Ohio State at left tackle, judging from Bob Zuppke's maneuvers today in the last prolonged workout before the Dad's day battle with the Buckeyes.

Lasater, whose 6 feet 4 inches in height make him tower among his smaller fellows, has played considerably this season, and Zuppke hopes by this time that he has had the requisite experience. He will be relieved by Jack Berner, who has played regularly on the left side since the Iowa game.

Apparently the starting lineup otherwise will be unchanged unless Zuppke elects to start Frank Bell, sophomore, at left end, relieving him later on with Ken Nelson, veteran wing man.

This lineup would be: Ends, Nelson and Castelo; tackles, Lasater and Morris; guards, Fay and Kuhn; center, Sayre; quarter back, Strong; left half, Wardley; right half, Spurgeon; full back, Wilson.

The Illini will withdraw to the Champaign Country club tomorrow. Dad's day festivities will open with a pep meeting and other events Friday evening.

In order that the fathers of University of Illinois band men may see their sons parade, the Illinois band for the Ohio State game will be increased to 310. It normally is 180.

OHIO TAKES 33 PLAYERS.

Columbus, O., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Ohio State's football squad wound up its preparation today for the clash with Illinois at Champaign Saturday afternoon, with Coach Francis A. Schmidt naming a squad of 33 to make the trip.

The Buckeyes will leave about 7 a. m. tomorrow for Danville, Ill., where they will do their final brushing up on signals at a short Friday afternoon session. They will go to Champaign just before the game.

George Jacobus Is Again Elected P. G. A. President

Tom Walsh of Chicago was elected secretary succeeding R. W. [Doc] Treacy of Grand Rapids, Mich., who resigned, and Jack Mackie of New York was again elected treasurer.

Treacy was elected to the group of eight vice presidents. the other vice presidents named were Ed Dudley, Philadelphia; Willie Maguire, Birmingham, Ala.; Ray Hall, Pullman, Wash.; Tom Boyd, New York; Al Collins, Kansas City; Grace Alvis, Cleveland, and Dewey Longworth, Oakland, Cal. Johnny Farrell, a vice president during the last year, was again nominated, but asked that his name be withdrawn.

The 1937 National P. G. A. tournament will be played at the Pittsburgh, Pa., Field club May 24-30, inclusive, while the 1937 Ryder cup matches will be played June 29 and 30 at Southport, England, with the Southport and Ainsdale courses being used.

The association named a committee to formulate arrangements to aid disabled and unemployed professionals through the association's benevolent fund.

Between 500 and 600 new jobs for golf professionals are in the making.

Through an arrangement between the federal government and the Professional Golfers' Association of America close to 600 new public courses will be built within the next few years, Jacobus said. The government will furnish the funds, with the work to be done with advice from the P. G. A.

Jacobus said the huge project was outlined in several meetings with government officials and that construction would start within a few months. Under the agreement the P. G. A. will be consulted as to the locations of the new courses and only members of the P. G. A. will be hired to serve as pros.

Tilden, Fenger Play Tonight in Semi-Final

Tilden Technical High school, back in the city prep title picture for the first time since the victorious era of Dick Lutz, Bill Larkin, et al, tonight takes the trail which may lead to Mayor Kelly's championship contest between the Catholic and public school title holders at Soldiers' field, Nov. 28.

Tilden, champion of the central section, which for many years had produced the Chicago Public High school league winner, faces its first hurdle, a scrappy, powerful Fenger eleven, which will represent the south division, at the 124th Field Artillery armory, 52d street and Cottage Grove avenue.

Expect 10,000 Crowd.

That the game will draw the largest crowd of the league season was assured by officials of both schools who reported that 10,000 tickets have been sold. The seating capacity of the south side arena is only slightly more than 5,000, but there will be an adequate number of ushers and policemen to keep the ticket holders from jumping into the back fields and lines of the teams.

Fenger has failed twice during the last six years to capture the championship shield, but a new chapter may be written in the school's athletic history this year. One of the reasons for the championship hopes is Rudy Mucha, 18 year old full back, who is a brother of Chuck Mucha, Washington State line coach.

Four Touchdowns Per Game.

Mucha who has compiled a brilliant prep record, is 6 feet one inch tall, weighs 200 pounds and has played in every game for the last three years. He played in all but ten minutes of Fenger's games this season, scoring an average of four touchdowns per game.

The other finalist will be either Austin, west section champion, or Schurz, north division title holder. They will meet tomorrow afternoon at Lane Tech field, Western avenue and Addison streets. Final workouts will be held today on the school fields.

Fenwick in Catholic Final.

Fenwick of Oak Park already has clinched a place in the Catholic league's final round. The team won the west division championship last Sunday. Leo will seek to capture the east section title Sunday afternoon against St. Rita on the latter's field, 63d street and Claremont avenue.

The Fenger-Tilden starting lineups follow:

PIRATES' TITLE HOPES HINGE ON CARDINAL GAME

It's Win Sunday or Lose Out to Giants.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, leaders in the eastern division of the National Football league, must win Sunday's game with the Chicago Cardinals at Wrigley field to remain in the championship race.

The Pirates, with six victories and four defeats, have only two league games left, Sunday against the Cards and two weeks later with the Boston Redskins. The New York Giants are closely trailing the Pirates with four victories, two defeats, and a tie, with four more games to play.

The Cardinals appear to be rounding into form. They played in the mud last Sunday, but showed a better offense than at any time in two years. The running of George Grosvenor, who ran 88 yards for one touchdown and scored the only other by crashing through the line, inspired the squad.

BRADDOCK WILL SIGN WHEN AND IF PAID $100,000

Plans for Louis Fight Still Built on Hopes.

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Plans to have Jimmy Braddock fight Joe Louis in Atlantic City next February went merrily on today. Nothing was accomplished, but that didn't stop the boys from planning—and hoping.

Herman Taylor, Philadelphia promoter, who has offered Braddock $400,000 to meet Louis in a twelve round no-decision bout on Washington's birthday, predicted a crowd of 48,000 and a gate of between $700,000 and $800,000 if the fight becomes a reality.

Emerging from a huddle with Joe Gould, Braddock's manager, and Mike Jacobs, representing Louis, Taylor said Gould promised he would sign a contract the minute Taylor puts up $100,000 as evidence of good faith. Taylor said he would go to Atlantic City tonight to try to raise the money.

Louis Ready to Sign.

Jacobs, who controls both Louis and Max Schmeling, No. 1 challenger for Braddock's heavyweight crown, said Louis is ready to sign as soon as Braddock's name goes on paper.

Although Braddock is under contract with Madison Square Garden to make the first defense of his title against Schmeling next June, Gould is willing to take a chance of his man being knocked out by Louis, possible trouble from the Garden, and everything else, in return for $400,000 which, he adds, is a lot of sugar.

If the bout goes on and Louis stops the champion, he would not be recognized as title holder by the New York state boxing commission, but the general public probably would unhesitatingly acclaim Louis the unofficial champion.

"Sure, we'll sign," said Gould. "We'll take our chances with the Garden and the boxing commission. The Garden has no kick. Only this week its promoter advocated giving Schmeling the go-by in favor of John Henry Lewis. That would be a fight, wouldn't it? It wouldn't draw peanuts.

Banks on Promise.

"Six weeks ago the boxing commission informed me that if Braddock would post $5,000 as a guarantee he will fight Schmeling, he could have a couple of tuneup bouts. I am banking on that promise."

Meantime Madison Square Garden marked time. Col. John Reed Kilpatrick, the president, said he would sit tight until he is convinced the Atlantic City proposal is "not a lot of newspaper talk."

But the colonel indicated if necessary the Garden will take steps to protect its contract with Braddock. "We certainly would not approve a meeting between Louis and Braddock," he said.

Mike Jacobs, who is associated with the Garden in promotion of the June battle, will visit the Garden tomorrow or Saturday and seek Kilpatrick's assent to the Atlantic City show.

Hopes to Convince Him.

"I believe I can convince him it will be to the Garden's interests to go along with us," he said. "For one thing, a Braddock-Schmeling match would not draw much more than $350,000. But if Louis knocks out Braddock, even in a no decision bout, he would be recognized as champion by the public and a return meeting with Schmeling would mean another million dollar gate.

"On the other hand, if Braddock can beat Louis he will be more of an attraction than ever for the Garden. No matter who wins at Atlantic City we would agree to promote next June's fight jointly with the Garden."

The state athletic commission is expected to discuss the matter at tomorrow's meeting. Chairman John J. Phelan and his associates decline to say what their attitude will be, but they are known to feel that Schmeling, by virtue of his knockout of Louis last summer, rates a title chance.

Schmeling and Braddock were matched last September, but the champion developed arthritis and was advised to take a rest.

FRED A. BRITTEN FACES TRIAL FOR DUCK VIOLATIONS

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—Fred A. Britten, former Republican congressman from Illinois for the last twenty years, has been summoned to the District court here tomorrow to answer the charges of shooting wild ducks without a federal migratory bird stamp.

Judge Calvin W. Chesnut, before whom the former congressman will appear, will also hear a hundred other cases and clear the District court docket of the group of duck hunting violations placed before it several weeks ago.

Britten is said to have been the guest of Joseph B. Weaver, head of the bureau of navigation and marine inspection, on a shooting party last Nov. 30 in Dorchester county, Md. At a previous hearing Mr. Weaver appeared before Judge Chesnut and paid a small fine.

Winner b. f., 4, by Pompey-Polyanthus. Owner, S. L. Burch. Trainer, same. Went to post at 2:12. Off at 2:16. Start good. Won driving, place easily.

PRINCESS ATHENE ran into lead in last quarter mile and stood long drive gamely and just lasted to win. SOME GOOD, on the extreme outside, finished with a rush and would have won with a stronger ride. MY SURPRISE was a stout factor from the start. MINEY MYERSON never had racing room. ELWAWA on the inside and in deep going.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Claiming. Two year olds. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Winner, ch. g., 2, by Haste-Curiosity Shop. Owner, Herman Philipps. Trainer J. Byer. Went to post at 3:16. Off at 3:18½. Start good. Won ridden out, place driving.

SCROOGE moved up very fast around turn, ran into lead in stretch, but boy took no chances and rode him out. PASSING EVE came through on inside, finished very fast. MUST BE was hard ridden the last three furlongs and had no excuse. GOLDEN ERA was used up racing BELSHAZZAR into defeat and stopped badly. MERRYMOOD ran well for six furlongs.

FIFTH RACE—One mile and a sixteenth. Claiming. Three year olds and up. Purse $2,000, added. Net value to winner, $1,320; second, $400; third, $200; fourth, $100.

Winner, dr. b. g., 4, by Gallant Fox-Martha Snow. Owner, E. K. Bryson. Trainer, H. Baker. Went to post at 3:41½. Off at 3:42. Start good. Won easily, place driving.

CALUMET DICK in good form. He was allowed to gallop along back of the early pace, began to close ground entering stretch, ran into lead a furlong out and won going away. CAUGHT, away fast, was rated along and made a game effort. SILENT SHOT moved up with a rush around turn, made a determined bid and held on well. PRINCE ABBOT had no mishap. LEMONT had plenty of speed for six furlongs, then tired.

SIXTH RACE—One mile and three-sixteenths. Claiming. Three year olds and up. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

North Section C. Y. O. Bouts End in Upset

North section qualifiers in the C. Y. O. ring meet were determined last night at Loyola university gym. Both novice and open division qualifiers in the quarter-final round of the tournament were named.

The quarter-final round of the C. Y. O. tourney will be run off Nov. 17, 18, 19, and 20.

Last night's competition at Loyola gym was marked by one major upset when Mario Christopher, one of the strong tournament favorites in the lightweight division, dropped a three round decision to Teddy Hemstead.

Newcomer Finishes Fast.

Hemstead, a comparative newcomer, staged a rally in the third round to earn the judges' decision and the applause of the crowd. He is from Our Lady of Mt. Carmel parish.

In the open division, the best fight involved Joe Du Pont and Charles Alicoate, both from St. Margaret Mary's parish. Du Pont, a tournament veteran, had a slight edge in the closing round after a nip-and-tuck scrap and was awarded a close decision.

The "find" of the night was Alex Pug, a novice lightweight from Five Holy Martyrs, who made an impression on both fans and officials by his defeat of Tony Lello, St. Nicholas of Tolentine, in three furious rounds.

Monday the last of the sectional preliminaries will be held at St. Agnes gym, Chicago Heights, for suburban candidates.

GENE MEANY IN LINE FOR POST ON BOXING BOARD

Report Appointment Will Be Made Week of Dec. 14

Gene Meany, born on Chicago's west side 49 years ago, is in line for appointment as a member of the Illinois athletic commission to fill the vacancy created by the death of Packey McFarland last Sept. 23. The appointment will be announced the week of Dec. 14, according to reports. It is understood that the appointment will be among those Gov. Horner will submit for confirmation by the senate, which will be in session at that time.

Joe Triner, chairman of the board, admitted that Meany is the leading candidate for the vacancy.

"I'm going to discuss the matter with the governor late next week," he stated, "because the job ought to be filled as soon as possible."

Meany Ready to Accept.

From other sources close to the situation, however, it was learned that Meany already has been offered the position and will accept it.

George Getz, who has gone on his annual fishing trip in the Florida Keys, is the other member of the commission.

Meany was commission secretary until last February when he resigned to accept the post of inspector at one of the various safety automobile testing stations located in Chicago. Prior to his appointment as secretary, Jan. 7, 1935, Gene served fourteen years as clerk of the Probate court during Gov. Horner's tenure as Probate judge.

Attends Stadium Show.

Meany attended his first show since resigning as secretary at Chicago Stadium last Friday. He sat in the press row reserved for the commission, accompanied by Charles Bartels, secretary to Pat Nash, chairman of the Cook county Democratic central committee and national committeeman from Illinois.

Amateur boxing shows will be held tonight at Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison street, and Northwest stadium annex, Irving Park boulevard and Kilpatrick avenue. A five round rematch between Verne Patterson and Jonny Barbara will head the card at Northwest. Barbara, South Bend, Ind., sectional Golden Gloves welterweight champion, won their previous meeting. The Madison club's headliner will involve Earl Gibson, Coulon gymnasium lightweight, and Johnny [Twin] Helstrom.

Everett Marshall, La Junta, Colo., claimant of the heavyweight wrestling championship, is due tomorrow to finish preparations for a scheduled 90 minute bout with Ali Baba at the Stadium one week from tonight. The state athletic body has given title recognition to the match, with the stipulation that the winner must defend the crown against Jim McMillen by next January. Ali Baba will reach the loop Sunday. He is booked to wrestle at New York next Wednesday, but his agents are attempting to cancel the match.

Pal Silvers, Brooklyn heavyweight, will arrive tonight for his ten round main event with Harry Thomas of Eagle Bend, Minn., at Marigold Gardens Monday. He will open workouts at Franklin park gymnasium tomorrow. Harvey Mortenson, Chicago heavyweight, will make his first appearance in a comeback campaign against Bernie Bowman in a four round supporting contest. F. M.

CULVER TRIO PLAYS KENYON.

Culver, Ind., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—The Culver Military academy indoor polo team, winners in the first two starts this season, will play the Kenyon college trio from Gambier, O., Sunday.

TEXTILE MILLS ENLIST IN MOVE TO RAISE WAGES

Others Lift Pay or Grant Bonuses.

Wage increases and bonuses were announced yesterday by a number of companies, swelling the list that has been expanding during the last few weeks.

New England's woolen and worsted industry announced wage increases that will affect nearly 50,000 workers. Notices of wage increases were posted in mills of 11 communities in New England. The National Association of Wool Manufacturers released a list of 19 woolen textile firms which have raised or are about to raise wages and declared the list to be "only a partial one."

Mills Announce Increases.

The American Woolen company announced a 10 per cent wage increase, effective next Monday, for its 14,500 employés. The Arlington Mills announced a "new and higher" wage scale for its 5,000 employés, effective Nov. 23. The Pacific Mills, which also employ thousands of workers, were listed as among those having arranged to advance wages.

The Bridge Worsted company, employing approximately 6,000 workers, said its employés would share wage increases approximately $720,000 annually, beginning Nov. 23. The Waucantuck Worsted company announced a similar increase for its 600 employés which will add about $60,000 to the annual pay roll.

Other Companies Raise Wages.

The Gonic Manufacturing company, Rochester, N. H., posted notices of a 7½ per cent wage increase, effective Jan. 1, a Christmas bonus of $25 for each employé, and a week's vacation with pay if business conditions continued good. The company employs about 1,080 workers.

The Seldon Worsted Mills announced pay increases for their 200 employés, but the amount was not made known.

More than 4,500 Rhode Island woolen and worsted mill workers were informed by posted notices that their pay would be raised 10 per cent Nov. 23.

The Lymansville company, Lymansville, R. I., followed the lead of the other mills and will raise the pay of 450 operatives.

The Uxbridge Worsted company, employing approximately 6,000 workers, announced wage increases of approximately $720,000 annually, beginning Nov. 23. The increase will approximate 10 per cent for each worker. The Waucantuck Worsted company, Uxbridge, Mass., announced a similar increase for its 600 employés.

Grants Cash Bonus.

The Addressograph-Multigraph corporation announced at Cleveland that its 1,600 workers will receive a cash bonus of one week's pay. The minimum bonus will be $25.

Royal Typewriter company workers will receive wage increases between 8½ and 9 per cent, it was announced yesterday at Hartford, Conn. About 5,000 employés are affected and the annual increase to the pay roll will be about $500,000.

The Mishawaka Rubber and Woolen Manufacturing company, Mishawaka, Ind., announced wage increases ranging from 5 to 10 per cent for its 3,800 employés, effective later this month. It was estimated that the increases will add $300,000 to the annual pay roll.

Dayton Rubber Raises Pay.

The Dayton Rubber company, Dayton, O., announced that $150,000 will be added annually to the wages of 1,200 workers. A. L. Freedlander, president, said the increases, averaging 8 per cent, became effective last Monday. The management also granted a week's vacation with pay for factory workers, effective Jan. 1.

Employés of the Western Auto Supply company, Kansas City, Mo., who receive $2,500 or less a year, will get a 5 per cent increase in pay effective Nov. 18.

The Ferguson & Lange foundries, Chicago, announced that a 5 per cent pay increase granted last October will be followed by a similar boost at the start of the new year.

Propose Pay Increase.

Officials of the Celanese corporation at a meeting at Cumberland, Md., yesterday proposed to textile union representatives an increase in pay which would amount to approximately $900,000 a year for workers at the Cumberland plant. It was said that while the increase would amount to more than 11 per cent in the annual pay roll, it would not mean a flat increase alike to all workers. The union had demanded a 15 per cent increase in wages.

Collins and Aikman corporation, maker of upholstery fabrics for automobiles and furniture, increased wages 10 per cent for several thousand workers effective next week.

Court Blocks Changes for Firms' Capital

Several Delaware corporations yesterday announced withdrawal or holding up of recapitalization plans as an aftermath of the Delaware Supreme court decision of last Tuesday in which the action of Wilson & Co., Inc., meat packers of Chicago, in wiping out dividend arrearages where stockholders object was declared invalid.

The decision is expected to have a far reaching effect in view of the large number of companies incorporated in Delaware. The court held that an amendment of the corporation charter purporting to eliminate accumulated arrears of preferred dividends is not valid in that state, at least in the case of companies capitalized prior to 1927.

Retail Store Firm Drops Plan.

At St. Louis, H. N. Arnstein, vice president and counsel of Consolidated Retail Stores, Inc., announced that the board of directors had voted to withdraw a plan for recapitalizing the company's preferred stock to eliminate arrears in dividends and existing defaults in stock retirements.

"Inasmuch as Consolidated Retail Stores was incorporated in 1926 under Delaware laws," said Arnstein, "the decision is conclusive with respect to the invalidity of the proposed plan."

He reported that the directors had appointed a committee to consider a substitute plan.

A special meeting of directors of Federal Water Service corporation will be held to consider withdrawal of that company's recapitalization plan and cancellation of notice for a stockholders' meeting, which had been called for Dec. 5, C. T. Chenery, president, announced.

National Supply Delays Plan.

At the same time officers of the National Supply company decided to hold up plans for recapitalization, similar in many respects to the Wilson plan, pending legal advice on the effect of the court's decision.

Commenting upon the decision, J. D. Cooney, vice president and general counsel of Wilson & Co., said yesterday: "We have not had time to analyze the opinion. It affects only a very small percentage of the stock. Substantially all classes of stock have been exchanged, and it is not a very serious consideration one way or the other."

According to informed sources, the likely procedure will be either to carry the case to higher courts or to effect some settlement with the stockholders who have not exchanged their shares in acceptance of the plan. It is understood only about 2 per cent of the old preferred and class A stock has not been exchanged.

Decree Reverses Lower Court.

The court's decision reversed the judgment of Chancellor Wolcott in dismissal of a suit brought against the company by two dissenting stockholders of class A shares, who sought to enforce payment of $21.25 a share of dividend arrears.

These stockholders, Joseph Keller, owner of 500 class A shares, and Edna Rives, owner of 200 shares, brought their suit on behalf of themselves and all other class A stockholders. They contended that although a majority of all classes of stock approved the plan of recapitalization, whereby the A stock was converted into common shares and arrearages in dividends extinguished, they were not bound by this action and were entitled to the arrearages before common stockholders could receive any dividend.

Wilson Plan Outlined.

Directors of Wilson & Co. in December, 1934, proposed a plan of recapitalization whereby the 7 per cent preferred stock would be exchanged for 6 per cent preferred at the rate of 1.4292 shares of the new for the old. Class A holders were to receive five shares of common for each share of A stock. Arrears of $26.25 a share, or $5,965,260, on the 7 per cent preferred and $21.25 a share, or $6,656,265, on the class A were to be eliminated.

A large majority of all classes of stock approved the plan of recapitalization on Feb. 19, 1935, and dividends on the new stock were declared on Feb. 26.

STOCK MARKET CRASH WAS SEVEN YEARS AGO; TREND NOW UPWARD

Seven years ago yesterday one of the most severe of the stock market collapses of 1929 occurred, it was recalled yesterday in the financial district, furnishing a contrast to the present upward trend. On Nov. 12, 1929, the market entered its second big decline, two weeks after the initial crash on Oct. 28 and 29.

Stock prices continued to slide on Nov. 13, but the first of the "false recoveries" occurred on Nov. 14. It was induced by the report that John D. Rockefeller had instructed his brokers to buy up to a million shares of Standard Oil of New Jersey at $60 a share.

Following are quotations on some of the market leaders in 1929, compared with yesterday's close in New York. The table shows the peak for 1929, the close and loss on Nov. 12, 1929, and the final quotation yesterday.

Big Rail Order Gives Hint of Fast N. Y. Run

An indication that new high speed passenger service may be provided between Chicago and New York was given yesterday in an announcement by the Pennsylvania railroad that it is buying 100,000 tons of new steel rail to cost approximately $4,000,000. It also was disclosed that the Burlington will build a high speed streamlined passenger locomotive.

The Pennsylvania road said that it was making the purchase in anticipation of further track improvements in 1937 in the light of the increased volume of trafic moving "and in preparation for continued advances in the speed and comfort of its service."

Considered New Streamliners.

Some time ago eastern reports said the Pennsylvania was giving consideration to streamlined trains which might be used in place of the present Broadway on the Chicago-New York run. Officials of the road said that there was no definite development, but admitted that the subject of fast streamlined trains was under consideration.

Included in the rail purchase will be approximately 36,000 tons of rail weighing 152 pounds to the yard, the heaviest used in the railroad's high speed running track. Rail weighing 131 pounds to the yard will complete the purchase. The road said the new purchases will enable it to continue its extensive program of renewals and the substitution of heavier rail in tracks throughout the entire system.

Will Build 11 Engines.

Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington railroad, said in Burlington, Ia., yesterday, that the line will build eleven locomotives at its West Burlington shops to cost more than $1,000,000. He said the plans call for ten locomotives which may be used either in the freight or passenger service and one streamlined locomotive, capable of a speed of 120 miles an hour.

The streamlined engine will be similar in design to the Zephyr Diesel-electric locomotives, but will be propelled by steam.

Rumor Germany May Seize Citizens' Foreign Holdings

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Rumors that foreign holdings of Germans might be expropriated by the government and that more drastic trade restrictions were possible caused foreign bonds and shares to fall sharply in the boerse today. There were reports that the threatened expropriation of foreign bonds in Germany was caused by the desire of the government to oust foreign issues in view of a projected large internal loan.

STOCKS RECEDE UNDER WAVE OF PROFIT TAKING

Trading Less Active than on Upturn.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 12.—Profit taking swept over the stock market today, restraining the bullishness created by the recent flood of dividends, increased earnings, and optimistic prophecies of better things to come. Pivotal issues, including rails, steels, industrial and mining shares, dipped 1 to 4 points.

After an active first hour trading slowed down considerably and the total turnover for the season at approximately 2,581,000 shares was the smallest in a week. In the opinion of observers much of the total represented adjustment of speculative positions.

A few groups of stocks were able to buck the trend, notably merchandising and amusements. There were also a number of miscellaneous strong spots sprinkled throughout the list.

Corporation News Cheerful.

Corporation news continued generally bullish, the list of favorably dividend announcements being considerably enlarged by additional extra disbursement, but with many students of the market inclined to look for further technical adjustment in the leaders, the speculative fraternity adopted a cautious policy.

Strength was exhibited by retail merchandising shares and mail order issues in spite of the profit taking in other sections of the list. Though early gains were pared late in the session, Allied Stores, Arnold Constable, Macy, Kresge, and May posted gains. Spiegel-May-Stern jumped 4 points on the proposed stock splitup, and Sears-Roebuck crossed 100 on a gain of more than a point, while Montgomery Ward turned in an indifferent performance.

Loew's Leads Its Group.

Among the amusements, traders cast Loew's in the leader rôle, pushing it up $2.25 to a new high. On a smaller gain, but in a more active market, Paramount also reached a new high price for the year.

It was a different story in the rail section, where losses ran to more than 2 points. The decline was attributed to indications that car loadings will decline this week.

Bethlehem and U. S. Steel lost over a point each, and prices for silver mining shares were revised downward sharply as the boomlet in silver came to an end. United States Smelting, leader of the recent rise, tumbled 4 points, Cerro de Pasco gave up 2⅜, and American Smelting lost a fraction.

Coppers, airplanes, and chemicals fell back and oils were easier. In the blue chips Eastman Kodak posted a deficit of 3⅝ points and American Can gave up a like amount.

More Companies Show Sharp Gains in Earnings This Year

The flow of favorable earning reports continued unabated yesterday as leading companies, including several located in Chicago, announced sharp improvement over a year ago.

The United Light and Power company, Chicago, a holding company with operating properties in the south, west, and middle west, reported net income of $4,112,392 for the twelve months ended Sept. 30 after charges and income taxes but before the federal surtax on undistributed profits.

This was equivalent to $6.85 a share on the $6 cumulative preferred stock, on which there is an accumulation of unpaid dividends, and compared with revised net income of $1,184,535, or $1.97 a share, on the first preferred stock in the preceding twelve months.

Eastern Railroad Earns More.

One railroad entered the list of companies reporting sharp profit gains. The Atlantic Coast Line had net income of $1,062,262 for the nine months ended Sept. 30, or $1.28 a share on the common stock, against a net loss of $1,476,618 in the first nine months of last year.

The National Tea company, Chicago, reported net earnings from Jan. 1 to Oct. 10, 1936, were $172,356 after all charges and taxes except the federal surtax. This was equivalent, after preferred dividends, to 16.6 cents a share on the common. From Jan. 1 to Oct. 5, 1935, net earnings were $87,630, or 3 cents a share. In the like period of 1934 the company earned $327,632.

Up to June 20 of this year the company had a profit of only $23,043, or a deficit of 3 cents a share, indicating a sharp improvement in the later months of this year.

The Lincoln Printing company, Chicago, reported net earnings of $325,106 for the first ten months of this year before taxes, compared with $190,524 in the corresponding period of last year. Directors will meet next week to consider an additional common dividend in view of the existing taxes on undistributed profits.

The American Cyanamid company, chemical producer, had net income of $1,095,263, or 43 cents a share on the combined A and B shares for the September quarter. This compared with $1,040,289, or 41 cents a share, in the corresponding quarter of last year.

In the first nine months of this year the corporation's net income totaled $2,803,266 after charges but before the federal surtax, equal to $1.11 a share on the combined shares, against $2,533,969, or $1 a share, in the like period of 1935.

The Hupp Motor Car corporation reported a September quarter loss of $229,026, compared with a net loss of $430,954 a year ago. The net loss for the nine month period was $708,576, against a loss of $2,521,410 in the corresponding months of last year.

The Dixie-Vortex company reported consolidated net profits of $870,859 for the nine months ended Sept. 30, equivalent to $2.64 a comman share after dividends on the class A stock.

"It appears that profits for the entire year 1936 will cover all dividend requirements at present rates and will also leave a portion to be carried in the surplus account," said R. C. Fenner, president, in making the announcement.

Wholesale Commodities Higher, U. S. Index Shows

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—(AP)—The bureau of labor statistics reported today that wholesale commodity prices advanced 0.1 per cent during the week ended Nov. 7. The bureau's all-commodity index for the week stood at 81.3 per cent.

SILVER PRICES DECLINE; OTHER METALS WEAK

Silver prices dropped sharply in New York and London yesterday and other metals were also quoted lower, as the recent boom in nonferrous metals appeared to be checked.

In New York the price of foreign mined bar silver dropped 2 cents an ounce to 45½ cents, still ¾ cent higher than the level from which it was boosted Monday, the first change since May, to meet the rising London quotations.

Export copper, which a few days ago sold in New York at a new six year peak of 10.90 cents a pound, was sold yesterday at 10.45 cents. Tin also continued to lose ground following a sharp break in London on Wednesday.

EXTRA DIVIDEND VOTED BY MANY MORE CONCERNS

Pennsylvania Road to Pay $1 a Share.

Led by the Pennsylvania railroad, which on Dec. 21 will distribute $13,167,696 in dividends, many corporations yesterday announced payments of regular and extra dividends, most of which will go into the pocketbooks of stockholders in time for Christmas spending. Libby, McNeill & Libby paid the first common stock dividend since 1921.

The Pennsylvania railroad will pay $1 a share, the second such disbursement to be made this year. The other $1 a share payment was made in February on 1935 earnings. This year's total disbursement of $2 a share is the largest since 1931 when $3.25 a share was paid. Payment of the latest dividend will be made to stockholders of record Nov. 23.

Libby to Pay $1.

Libby, McNeill & Libby declared a dividend of $1 a share on the common stock, payable Dec. 18, to shareholders of record Nov. 27, 1936, and gave holders the option of receiving shares of Libby, McNeill & Libby common stock instead of cash for this dividend at the rate of one share of stock for each $10 of dividend due to a shareholder. As the company does not issue fractional shares, all shareholders owning less than ten shares of the common stock will receive their dividend in cash.

The company announced that it voted the common dividend because of the federal tax on undistributed earnings. It also voted the semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent on the preferred shares.

U. S. Gypsum to Pay Extra.

Announcement that it will pay an extra dividend of $1.25 a share and a regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock was made yesterday by the United States Gypsum company. The regular dividend was made payable on or before Dec. 31, the extra will be payable Dec. 24, and the regular preferred dividend of $1.75 a share will be payable Jan. 2. All payments will be made to stockholders of record Dec. 4.

The payment of the extra dividend

Highest Since Boost in Reserve Requirements.

Idle bank funds, which form a base for potential credit expansion of vast proportions, reached a total of 2 billion 260 million dollars last Tuesday, according to the weekly statement issued yesterday by the federal reserve board. This represents an increase of 120 millions since Nov. 4 and is a new high mark since reserve requirements of commercial banks were raised 50 per cent on Aug. 15. The figure is 408 millions higher than on Aug. 16.

These idle funds are known technically as excess reserves, or the amounts in excess of what commercial banks are required to keep with the reserve banks as reserves against deposits.

Total Reserves Increase.

The rise in excess reserves reflects an increase of 130 millions in total reserve balances of the member banks to a total of 6 billion 825 millions. The increase in total reserve balances reflected increases of 47 millions in the gold supply, 22 millions in reserve bank credit, and 15 millions in money in circulation, together with decreases of 66 millions in treasury funds and 9 millions in nonmember and other deposits.

The rise in gold brought the total supply in the United States to a new all-time high of 11 billion 105 million dollars—approximately half of the world's monetary gold supply.

Treasury Cuts Deposits Here.

Of the treasury withdrawal of its deposits to meet expenses, 16 millions was taken out of the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago. The treasury's account was reduced to $171,470.

Loans to brokers and dealers by reporting member banks in New York stood at 973 millions. This was 8 millions less than on Nov. 4, and compared with 855 millions a year ago. Chicago banks reported brokers' loans at 35 millions, compared with 39 millions on Nov. 4, and 23 millions a year ago.

EXTRA DIVIDENDS VOTED BY MANY MORE CONCERNS

will put $1,490,128 into the hands of stockholders. Total per share disbursement on the common stock this year was $3.25, of which 25 cents was paid on 1935 earnings.

Special Dividend Voted.

Directors of the Jewel Tea Company, Inc., declared a special dividend of $2 a share on the common stock and the regular quarterly dividend of $1 a share. Both payments will be made Dec. 21 to stockholders of record Dec. 7.

An extra dividend of 20 cents a share and the regular semi-annual dividend of 30 cents a share will be made by the Commercial Solvents corporation on Dec. 15 to stock of record Nov. 21.

The Sharon Steel corporation declared a 30 cent quarterly dividend and an extra disbursement of 75 cents a share. This will be the first payment made by the company on the common stock since 1930. While the date for the payment was not announced it will be made some time in December.

An extra dividend of $3 a share in addition to the quarterly payment of $1 a share will be made by the Western Auto Supply company on all its outstanding class A and B common stock.

Votes First Payment.

The Western Maryland railway directors declared the first dividend on the road's 7 per cent preferred stock. Payment will be made Dec. 15 to stock of record Dec. 1. Charles W. Brown, president, said that although the road has had more than $77,000,000 of capital stock outstanding for many years, the stockholders have never received a return because earnings have not been sufficient to justify payment of a dividend. Brown said that the forthcoming payment will be for the year ended June 30, 1919.

Allen Industries, Inc., voted an extra dividend of 50 cents a share in addition to the regular quarterly payment of 25 cents, making a total of $1.75 for the year.

Dividend Is Increased.

Michigan Steel Tube products voted an increase in the dividend on the common stock to 40 cents a share. In the two preceding quarters, 25 cents a share was paid.

Consolidated Retail Stores declared two dividends of $2 each on the preferred stock, representing payments on the June and September quarters.

The Pacific Can company will pay an extra dividend of 25 cents a share and the regular quarterly payment of 25 cents on Dec. 24.

Washington Flexner, president of the Lincoln Printing company, disclosed that the directors will meet soon for the purpose of declaring an additional dividend on the common stock. On Oct. 15 the company paid a dividend of 25 cents a share, the first distribution since Feb. 1, 1932, when a dividend of 50 cents a share was disbursed.

CORN RECOVERS EARLY DECLINE; CLOSES HIGHER

Wheat, Rye, Soy Beans Also Advance.

The corn market made a strong finish yesterday after an easy start. Closing prices on futures were at the top with gains of ⅜ to ¾ cent a bushel. The upturn came in the face of a decline of 1 to 5 cents a bushel in the cash corn market. December contracts closed at $1.02⅛ a bushel.

Wheat advanced ¾ to a cent a bushel and rye rose ½ to 1⅞ cents, the latter on the December option.

Buying of soy bean futures, credited to processors, advanced prices 2½ cents a bushel. Active demand in the spot market and reports that practically all the soy bean meal to be produced during November and December had been sold for shipment helped the advance in futures.

Corn Offered from Ohio.

Corn futures declined around a cent a bushel in the early trading on reports of liberal offerings of cash corn for deferred shipment from the country. Ohio points were estimated to have offered around 250,000 bushels of cash corn yesterday for shipment to Chicago. Prices, however, were said to have been somewhat above buyers' views.

The normal market for Ohio corn is in the east but free offerings of Argentine corn in that section have restricted the demand for the domestic grain to such an extent that Chicago now provides the best market.

The rally in corn futures of 2 cents a bushel from the low point was ascribed to local buying and short covering.

Prices on December Deliveries.

	Yest.	Tues.	Wk. ago.	Mo. ago.
Wheat	$1.15⅝	$1.14⅝	$1.15½	$1.15⅛
Corn	1.02⅛	1.01⅜	.98	.94⅞
Oats	.43⅛	.42⅞	.42⅜	.41½
Rye	.87½	.85⅝	.85	.82½

Traders in wheat futures paid little attention to the news. An early decline in prices was followed by a strong rally when corn started upward. The aggregate trade was small. Commission houses that frequently act for mills were moderate buyers of futures on the decline. Winnipeg and Liverpool wheat futures showed little change in price as compared with Tuesday's close. Export demand for Manitobas was limited.

SALES TO SPAIN MUCH REDUCED BY CIVIL WAR

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—[Special.]—The marked effect of the Spanish civil war on United States trade with that nation was revealed today by figures made public by the department of commerce showing that total exports from this country to Spain in September were valued at only $245,000 as compared with $3,734,000 in September last year.

The figures were contained in a compilation of American foreign trade in September which showed exports to every continental division except Oceania had increased as compared with last year and that exports to 15 out of 51 countries had also increased.

Total exports for the month were $220,149,000 as compared with $198,803,000 in September of last year. Total imports were $215,645,000, against $161,647,000.

Delegates to Oil Meeting Discuss Technical Subjects

Technical problems affecting their industry were discussed yesterday by delegates to the seventeenth annual meeting of the American Petroleum institute. Axtell J. Byles, president of the institute, appointed the following members of the general committee of the marketing division: W. H. Ferguson, Continental Oil company, Denver; W. V. Hartmann, Gulf Refining company, Pittsburgh; B. L. Majewski, Deep Rock Oil corporation, Chicago; E. B. Reeser, Barnsdall corporation, Tulsa, and Charles L. Suhr, the Pennzoil company, Oil City, Pa.

Dyer Explains Greater Value of Insurance Over "Security"

Declaring that social security cannot be bestowed upon a people, Dr. Gus Dyer, professor of economics at Vanderbilt university, Nashville, Tenn., last night told the Life Advertisers' association at the Edgewater Beach hotel that the biggest job of the insurance men is to tell the public what private insurance has done for them. He said that the only social security that counts is the development of character in achieving that security.

"There is a tremendous movement in this country, largely based upon ignorance, that security must be bestowed upon the people," Dyer asserted. "Social security will be destroyed when you make men parasites and destroy the civilization to which they belonged.

View on Security.

"Man's social security lies in taking care of himself, making the nation strong and invincible against any foe. Moral character is based upon the capacity of the individual to give up things today what he wants tomorrow. People not trained in that are not capable of standing up when problems come."

Referring to the saving habit encouraged by the insurance companies, Dyer told the insurance men that they have brought about one of the greatest movements this country has had since its beginning.

He pointed out that in the period from 1921 to 1931 the assets of life insurance companies increased by 13 billion dollars, the deposits in savings banks by 21 billion dollars, and assets of building and loan associations by nearly 8 billion dollars.

Savings Reach Big Total.

This increase of more than 41 billion dollars in assets of savings institutions was equal to the total wealth of Germany in 1930, Dyer said. Present assets of 56 billion dollars for these institutions, he asserted, are 17 billions more than all the wealth of Germany and two and a half times all the wealth of Italy.

"The business of this country is largely financed by the billions of dollars you hold in trust," he continued. "You have invested wisely. That's the only reason why you can pay out so much. The unusual protection given by the constitution was the foundation upon which you could go to the people and tell them to invest. You must realize that any attack upon the constitution is an attack upon your vote."

COURT ENJOINS BOND REORGANIZING GROUP FOR FALSE REPORTS

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals in an opinion handed down yesterday upheld what had been termed one of the "most drastic" injunctions ever issued by a federal court in bankruptcy reorganization cases.

The opinion, written by Judge Walter C. Lindley and concurred in by Judges Will M. Sparks and Charles G. Briggle, affirmed an order of Federal Judge Ferdinand Geiger of Milwaukee restraining the bondholders' committee of the Schroeder Hotel company from "communicating directly or indirectly in writing, printing or orally, to any bondholder or other security holder any information or advice with regard to proceedings of this court."

Judge Geiger's order was predicated upon a finding that the committee, which consisted of three members, had previously disseminated "false, fraudulent, and misleading" information in regard to the reorganization of the property, which is located in Milwaukee, under section 77B of the amended bankruptcy law.

In upholding Judge Geiger's order the Appeals court took cognizance of the contention of attorneys for the bondholders' committee that "to restrain all communications is to restrain free speech."

"Obviously," the opinion read, "all rights under the constitution and its various amendments must be exercised at all times with reasonable regard for the conflicting rights of others."

FORD ANNOUNCES PRICES OF TWO NEW 1937 LINES

Prices of the 1937 Ford automobiles were announced yesterday. The base price of the line powered by the new sixty horse power V-8 motors is $480 at Dearborn, Mich., or $30 less than the base price of the 1936 Ford line powered with the eighty-five horse power engine. The 1937 Fords with the eighty-five horse power motor have a base price of $520, which is $10 more than this year's base figure. The price on the line with the smaller engine is an all time low level for a Ford V-8 112 inch wheelbase car.

The base prices of $480 and $520 on the respective lines are for the five window coupes. Top price at Dearborn on the sixty horse power line is $580 for the four door touring sedan. Top price on the eighty-five horsepower line is $790 for the convertible sedan. In the eighty-five horse power line the four door touring sedan is priced at $620 and the de luxe four door touring sedan is priced at $665.

FRANCE'S GOLD POSITION BETTER; NOTES DECREASE

Declining note circulation and sight liabilities enabled the Bank of France to improve its reserve position during the week ended Nov. 6, although gold reserves were unchanged for the third consecutive week, according to the condition statement issued yesterday.

The French bank's gold reserve on Nov. 6 was placed at 64,358,000,000 francs [$2,987,820,150], compared with 50,110,000,000 old francs [$3,322,369,300 on the basis of old parity] in the week ended Sept. 25 just prior to devaluation.

The Bank of England statement for the week ended Nov. 11 showed the fifth consecutive weekly decline in gold holdings. The bank's gold stock of Nov. 11 was placed at £249,570,000, compared with £249,000,000 in the preceding week.

In New York yesterday the pound sterling eased 5-16 cent to close at $4.88, and the French franc remained unchanged at 4.64¼ cents.

Premiums on Australian Wool Tops Are Reduced

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Members of the New York Cotton exchange and Wool Top exchange today voted changes in by-laws reducing premiums on tops made from Australian wool to 3 per cent from 10 per cent over American. New contracts become effective tomorrow, beginning with the February delivery. This will necessitate two sets of prices, old and new contracts up to and including August. The double prices will continue until all old contracts are liquidated.

URGES BUSINESS TO STUDY, MEET PUBLIC'S WISHES

Advertising Leader Says: "Forget Politics."

Advertising men must forget politics for awhile and look within their own field if they wish to remain in public favor, Stuart Peabody, advertising manager of the Borden company, New York, asserted yesterday noon before the Chicago Federated Advertising club at the Hotel Sherman.

He said advertising has little to fear except its own shortcomings and that business, industry, and advertising can best protect themselves against oppressive legislation by studying the public's wishes and meeting them without governmental prodding.

Urges Sound Advertising.

"This public is aroused," Peabody warned. "That is evident from the election. In the last analysis, that public is our chief concern—not government, or laws, or coöperatives, or crock-pot muckrakers.

"Let advertising people forget for awhile the New Deal, the politicians, the reformers, and the cranks. Let them seek a sound and fair means of keeping advertising as they themselves and their own consciences would have it. Then we shall see advertising in the years to come accepted and acclaimed by both the government and the public as the valuable and indispensable force in modern life we believe it to be.

"A lot of developments lie ahead, most of them uncertainties, and I do not suppose the administration itself knows yet just what it is going to do with its new and greater power. But advertising will be in the spotlight—probably more than ever before."

Talks on Coöperatives.

As to consumer coöperatives, he said that "if business and advertising do not abuse their natural functions they have little to fear from coöperatives in this country for some time to come.

"Consumer coöperation is essentially a social philosophy," he said. "It is, therefore, directly affected by the direction of social, political, and economic trends. We have an administration which is strongly social minded. The government is in a position, through special legislation, to do a great deal to foster coöperatives."

WEST SIDE TRUST STOCKHOLDERS PAY LIABILITY

Two stockholders of the defunct West Side Trust and Savings bank, Halsted street and Roosevelt road, yesterday settled their stockholders' liability by paying 90 per cent on their holdings. Judge Grover C. Niemeyer of the Superior court approved the settlement, which was negotiated by Attorney Charles Liebman, representing the depositors.

The stockholders who settled and their holdings are: Mrs. Maud Morris Martineau, London, England, daughter of Edward Morris, founder of the Morris Packing company. On a liability of $30,500 she paid $27,450. The Arras Securities, Ltd., Calgary, Canada, settled $43,600 of liability for $39,240.

At the time the bank closed its stock liability was $1,000,000. Since then, stockholders have settled liability of $165,000.

U. S. MINT TURNS OUT MOST COINS FOR PEACE TIMES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Record peace time coinage during the first ten months of this year was reported today by the mint.

During this period, it said, 499,554,280 coins valued at $32,297,238 were issued, compared with 434,141,000 valued at $28,186,143 in the corresponding 1935 period.

Last year recorded the previous peace time high but officials said indications were that the total for 1936 would be well over that for 1935.

Rail Heads Give Views on Transportation.

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Joseph B. Eastman, interstate commerce commissioner, said tonight that many of the nation's traffic problems could be solved by coördinating all types of carrier regulation under a federal department of transportation. He spoke before the Academy of Political Science.

"A good start in rounding out the system of public regulation was made in the motor carrier act of 1935," he said, "and I hope that the same thing can be done for the water carriers and the air carriers.

"The government must see to it that competition does not take on unfair and destructive forms, and that the operations of the various types of carriers are combined and coördinated where that will serve the public interest best."

Railroad Leaders Speak.

Samuel T. Bledsoe, president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, said unification of some, and perhaps many, terminals offered opportunity for bettering the railroads' condition.

Frederick E. Williamson, president of the New York Central Railroad company, pointed to developments in speed and passenger comforts which he said had come "out of the depth of the depression."

Virgil Jordan, president of the National Industrial Conference board, viewed the railroads' future as gloomy. "Underlying tendencies in economic and political conditions," he said, probably would "materially increase railroad transportation costs and depress the purchasing power and employment of workers in all other industries, or they will cripple the financial position of the railroads during the next five or ten years."

Urges Less Interference.

Robert V. Fletcher, vice president and general counsel of the Association of American Railroads, said the railroad industry asked "only that the hand of government be not so heavily laid upon it that it may not utilize the energy, the initiative, and the enthusiasm of those who devote their lives to its welfare."

Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co., spoke of the "melancholy spectacle of almost one-third of the country's railway mileage in the bankruptcy courts or going through forms of reorganization." He added he had no intention of giving the "impression that the great, strong systems of the American railroad world are in a bad way," but rather that the industry "as a whole is in the slough."

AVERY AND KNODE GIVEN NEW POSTS BY U. S. GYPSUM

Directors of the United States Gypsum company yesterday elected Sewell L. Avery as chairman of the board and O. M. Knode as president. Avery formerly held the position of president and Knode was executive vice president. Both men have been with the company since it started on Feb. 1, 1902, and Avery has been president since 1905.

Avery has held the unique position of being the head of two huge corporations at one time. While president of United States Gypsum he was called to take the helm of Montgomery Ward & Co. when the affairs of the big mail order house were not as bright as they now are.

Although he is giving up the position of president of the Gypsum company, it was stated he will retain his active interest in the concern in which he is one of its largest stockholders. Besides being president and chairman of the board of Montgomery Ward, Avery is a member of the board of directors of several of the nation's largest companies, including the United States Steel corporation, Armour & Co., and the Pullman company.

PLAN OF REORGANIZATION OF

Peoples Light and Power Corporation

NOTICE TO HOLDERS OF 5% CONVERTIBLE DEBENTURES AND TO HOLDERS OF 5% NOTES OF PEOPLES LIGHT AND POWER CORPORATION

A hearing on the Plan of Reorganization, dated June 1, 1936, is scheduled before the United States District Court in Wilmington, Delaware, on November 21, 1936.

The holders of more than $4,750,000 principal amount of the general and unsecured claims, in the class of which the Debentures and Notes form a part, have accepted the Plan. Less than 10% of the amount of such claims is now needed, in addition to acceptances already assured from creditors of this class, for the purpose of confirmation of the Plan. The Debentureholders and Noteholders are reminded that the Plan has been approved by the Debentureholders' and Noteholders' Protective Committee which, since 1931, has represented a large amount of these securities.

Unless the balance of the Debentures and Notes still necessary for confirmation of the Plan is promptly obtained, the November 21st hearing must be adjourned.

The Corporation has been in receivership or in proceedings for reorganization under Section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act for nearly five years, and, in the judgment of the Reorganization Managers, further delay in effecting reorganization can only be prejudicial to creditors.

Holders of Debentures and Notes who have not previously deposited their securities are therefore urged to evidence their acceptance of the Plan by forwarding their securities for deposit immediately. The Depositaries for these two issues are The New York Trust Company, 100 Broadway, New York, N. Y., and Tradesmens National Bank and Trust Company, Philadelphia.

Forms of letters of transmittal to be used in forwarding Debentures and Notes for deposit, as well as copies of the Plan, of circular letters to securityholders and financial statements, may be obtained upon application to Peoples Light and Power Corporation, 90 Broad Street, New York, N. Y., or to Harvey A. Basham, Jr., Secretary, 100 Broadway, New York, N. Y., or to either of the above mentioned Depositaries.

Dated, November 12, 1936.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 12.—The boom in first class bonds gathered further momentum today as virtually every outstanding United States treasury obligation rose to a new high record price on lively dealings. The rise, one of the largest of the year, added nearly ½ point to treasury 2¾s, 1945, from ⅛ to 4-32 of a point to other long term maturities. The government guaranteed groups averaged about ⅛ higher.

Dealers in government securities, who experienced the best day since the sessions immediately following the election, said the chief demand today appeared to be coming from banks rather than from insurance companies, and that the banks were enlarging their portfolios of long term treasury securities.

Corporation Bonds Irregular.

The active business and the rapidly rising prices in the government group overshadowed proceedings in other sections of the list. Speculative obligations of domestic railroad and industrial companies in many cases lost fractions to a point, while the best railroad issues were strong.

Rails which reached new highs included Santa Fe general 4s, Big Four general 4s, Great Northern general 5s and 4½s, and some of the Pennsylvania general mortgage series. Among those bonds which were in supply were Milwaukee sinking fund 5s, Chicago, Great Western 4s, various Illinois Central issues, and Katy and Missouri Pacific obligations. Southern railway securities were firm. Allegheny corporation convertible 5s of 1944 reached a new peak.

Moves in Other Issues.

American Writing Paper 6s were lower, but Childs company 5s, Crane debenture 3½s, Loew's debenture 3½s, and Symington Gould convertible 4s and 6s reached new record levels. On the curb exchange there was a spectacular rise in Baldwin Locomotive 6s.

Most foreign loans were in favor at slightly higher levels, with speculative buying of Chilean government issues, Cuban 4½s, Mexican and some Brazilian state and city issues.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Pittsburgh United.

Investors' Guide: Please send me any information you might have on the Pittsburgh United Corporation.—A. K.

Answer: When Pittsburgh United corporation, then known as Oil Well Supply company, sold its properties to United States Steel corporation it became a holding company whose assets consisted almost solely of 108,402 shares of U. S. Steel common stock, the sale price of the property.

Capitalization consists of 58,212 shares of $100 par 7 per cent preferred and 389,963 shares of $25 par common stock. The liquidating value of these stocks depends almost entirely on the market value of U. S. Steel common. As the price of U. S. Steel stock has increased, the liquidating value of Pittsburgh United preferred has increased from $52.86 a share at the end of 1934 to $69.48 at the end of 1935 and $121.77 on the basis of the Oct. 31, 1936, price of $76 a share on U. S. Steel common.

The preferred stock is entitled to $110 and accrued dividends in the event of either liquidation or redemption. Dividends have been omitted since 1932, arrears being $33.25 a share on Aug. 1, 1936.

Julius Kayser & Co.

Investors' Guide: Please give me information on the common stock of the Julius Kayser company.—J. K.

Answer: Julius Kayser & Co. is one of the three largest distributors of women's full fashioned hosiery. This line accounts for half of sales. The company also manufactures women's underwear and gloves.

Net income in the three months ended Sept. 30, 1936, was $226,000, or 54 cents a share, compared with $217,000, or 52 cents a share, in the corresponding 1935 period. The earnings record by years ended June 30:

1936	$14,448,000	$646,000	$1.51
1935	12,390,000	408,000	.93
1934	11,599,000	186,000	.38
1933	10,456,000	122,000	.22
1932	13,590,000	*1,330,000	*3.23

*Deficit.

Financial position is strong.

Capitalization consists of $528,000 of employés' 8 per cent preferred stock and 401,900 shares of $5 par common stock.

Though dividends are not on a regular basis, the common now appears to deserve a fairly good rating. Payments this year have been 37½ cents each on Feb. 15 and May 15 and 50 cents on Sept. 1. Another 50 cents is payable Nov. 30.

Commercial Solvents Corporation

Nov. 12, 1936.

The directors declared today a semi-annual dividend of thirty cents (30c) per share and a special dividend of twenty cents (20c) per share on the outstanding common stock of this Corporation both payable on December 15, 1936, to stockholders of record at the close of business on November 21, 1936.

T. F. CARTY, Treasurer.

SENIOR SHARES OF BUTLER BROS. OFFERED TODAY

Proceeds Will Be Used to Retire Bonds.

A banking group headed by Hornblower & Weeks will offer today 285,000 shares of 5 per cent convertible preferred stock of $30 par value of Butler Brothers, wholesale distributors of popular priced dry goods and general merchandise. The stock will be priced at $31 a share.

Net proceeds of approximately $8,198,178 from the sale of the stock will be applied to the retirement on Feb. 1, 1937, of $5,100,000 of 5 per cent debentures and the balance of approximately $3,029,553 will be added to working capital to be used in reduction or extinction of current bank loans and for other corporate purposes.

Abbott Laboratories Offering.

Public offering will be made today of 60,000 shares of common stock of the Abbott Laboratories at $53 a share by a group headed by A. G. Becker & Co., Inc. Of the offering, 40,000 shares will represent new financing. The $2,120,000 so obtained will be added to the general treasury to be used as needed for the general development of the company. The remaining 20,000 shares were furnished by certain stockholders and the funds derived from their sale will be apportioned among them.

Public offerings of 194,000 shares of common stock of Bath Iron Works corporation also will be made today at $12 a share by Hemphill, Noyes & Co. and a group of associates. Part of the proceeds will be applied to retirement of first mortgage 7 per cent bonds, serial notes, and to increasing working capital.

Oliver Farm Plans Issue.

A registration statement was filed yesterday by the Oliver Farm Equipment company covering an issue of common stock, proceeds from the sale of which will be used to strengthen the concern's working capital position.

Officials said that it is proposed to grant stockholders the right to subscribe for the stock to be issued on a basis of one share for each four shares held. The number of shares to be issued, it was said, will be between 67,000 and 68,000.

Public offering will be made today of 40,000 shares of $1.50 cumulative, convertible preferred stock, without par value, of Sterling, Inc., operators of eight retail instalment furniture stores in New York City and New Jersey.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was unchanged today at 3.70c per lb for spots and 3.65c for new crops. Interest seemed to center in next year's quota sugar with sales confirmed of about 63,000 bags of Philippines for November-December and January-February shipment at 3.65c; 50,000 bags of Cubas for June shipment at 3.70c, and 28,700 bags of Porto Ricos for March shipment at 3.65c, most of which was concluded late Tuesday. Futures showed a gain of 1 point early on trade covering against sales of actuals, but reacted under increased realizing and hedge selling promoted by reports of more liberal offerings of new crops. Final prices were at the lows of the day, off 1 to 3 points net. Sales, 15,000 tons.

Refined was quoted at 4.80c for fine granulated, and it was reported that the trade had covered requirements for the next month before the upturn became effective. Refined for 1937 delivery, effective at the close Monday, will be advanced 10 points by one of the leading refiners to 4.80c, with carrying charges of 2½c per 100 lbs for the first quarter and 2½c additional for each succeeding quarter.

COFFEE

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(AP)—COFFEE—Futures were steadier today on increased covering and trade buying promoted by the steadiness of the primary markets. There were partial setbacks from the best under hedging. Santos open 1 to 3 points higher and closed 1 to 4 points higher. Sales, 13,500 bags. New No. 7 opened 4 to 9 points higher and closed 5 to 14 points higher. Sales, 29,500 bags.

EGGS RISE TO NEW HIGH, REACT LATER; BUTTER OFF

New high prices for the season were established in egg futures yesterday during the early trading on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. However, a reaction came later on profit taking, induced by the recent sharp upturn in the market, and in evening up for the government's report on cold storage stocks issued later in the day. Closing prices were ⅛ to ¼ cent a dozen lower, with November contracts at 28⅛ cents. Sales of futures were 234 cars.

Withdrawals of storage butter in October were the lightest in two decades, the bureau of agricultural economics reported yesterday. The total amount of butter withdrawn from freezers was 3,516,000 pounds, compared with 28,612,000 a year ago and a five year average of 20,684,000. Shell egg holdings on Nov. 1 were estimated at 3,790,000 cases, the lightest since 1932.

Butter futures declined ¼ to ½ cent, with November at 30¾ cents a pound. Sales were 129 cars. Potatoes declined 11 to 12 cents, reflecting the weak undertone in the spot market and a bearish construction placed on the government's estimate on the crop issued late Tuesday. January contracts closed at $2.86 per 100 pounds. Sales, 54 cars. Prices follow:

PRICES OF MEATS AND LIVE STOCK DIP ON HEAVY RUN

Hogs Decline Sharply; Top Sale Is $9.70.

Unusually heavy receipts caused a break in most classes of live stock and a reduction in wholesale quotations for meats yesterday. Beef and veal sold steady to 50 cents per hundred pounds lower, with declines in lamb meat ranging upward to $1 at some points. Most pork markets were steady to $1 lower.

The break in swine was the sharpest since Sept. 1, and the average at $9.45 was the lowest in nine days, showing a loss of 15 cents. Light hogs were plentiful and led the break, most stock under 170 pounds registering losses of fully 25 cents, with some off quality lights showing more loss. The top for full carload lots, $9.70, compared with a peak of $9.85 on the preceding session.

Sheep Prices Break.

Sheep receipts yesterday at 15,000, the largest Thursday run since March 26, broke prices 15 to 25 cents. The top sale at $8.90 was the lowest since Oct. 8 and 60 cents under the preceding Thursday.

Top for load lots of steers declined to $11.85, the first time since Tuesday of last week that load lots failed to reach the $12 line. This price was paid for a small lot yesterday, while the bulk of steers brought $7.50 to $11.25. Medium and heavy steers ruled weak to 25 cents lower, with the clearance unsatisfactory. Light and handyweight stock, however, maintained a steady basis.

MEAT STOCKS RISE

With the exception of pork and lard there was a marked accumulation of meats in cold storage houses throughout the country during last month, a report of the department of agriculture disclosed yesterday. Record slaughtering of cattle piled up a total of 104,680,000 pounds of beef in storage houses on Nov. 1, the largest tonnage for that date in seventeen years, except in the drouth year of 1934 when the total reached 108,399,000. Beef in store has been increasing rapidly the last few months, current holdings showing a gain of 153 per cent over four months ago.

Pork in store declined to 352,260,000 pounds at the start of the month, a decline of 9,348,000 pounds, compared with a month earlier and a drop of 68,588,000 pounds in two months. Excepting 1935 when the Nov. 1 pork stocks were down to 240,663,000, the lowest on record for that date, the tonnage in store this year is the lightest since the war.

Lamb Supply Large.

Lamb meat Nov. 1 totaled 5,925,000 pounds, compared with 3,374,000 pounds a month ago and 1,968,000 a year ago. Lard at 94,495,000 pounds compared with 101,796,000 on Oct. 1 and 53,497,000 a year ago, the five year average being 59,253,000.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Bleachable declined 9 to 10 points early today under liquidation to rally somewhat later. Selling was promoted by the disappointing census bureau report showing crushing during October of only 253,000 brls, against 401,000 brls last year. The easiness of cotton and lard also were factors. Covering and southern buying appeared on the setback, with the market closing 2 to 5 points net lower. Sales, 134 contracts. Bleachable, spot, nominal; December, 9.82c; January, 9.92c; March, 10.00c; May, 10.05c.

PRICES OF LARD CLOSE IRREGULAR IN FAIR TRADE

Trade in lard futures yesterday was fair with a late rally in grains largely offsetting the effect of a decline in the hog and cottonseed oil markets. Closing trades were 2½ cents lower to 2½ cents higher. Clear bellies [salt pork] closed unchanged to 15 cents higher.

Cash lard closed at $11.75; loose, $11.25; leaf, $10.87½, and clear bellies at $15.50 per 100 pounds. Prices follow:

RUBBER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(AP)—RUBBER—Crude rubber futures closed steady, 7 to 13 points lower. Dec., $17.58c per lb bid; March, 17.68c; May, 17.74c bid. Smoked ribbed spot, 17.60c nominal.

COTTON OFF ON LIVERPOOL EASINESS, HEAVY HEDGING

Heavy hedging sales of cotton futures and easiness in Liverpool more than offset aggressive domestic and future trading buying yesterday. Closing trades in Chicago were at net losses of 7 to 18 points. Other American markets declined 5 to 14 points. [A point equals 1-100 cent a pound or 5 cents a bale.]

Cotton cloths continued in good demand yesterday in New York, with the market strong. Sales of cotton cloths on Tuesday and Wednesday were estimated to have aggregated 25,000,000 yards. Consumption of cotton by American mills in October was privately estimated at 645,000 bales. In September consumption was 629,000 bales, and in October, 1935, was 553,000 bales.

Spot cotton closed 5 to 10 points lower, with New Orleans and New York 12.10 cents; Houston, 11.90 cents, and Galveston, 11.85 cents a pound. Prices follow:

On the date fixed for redemption, to-wit, on January 1, 1937, the interest on all of said Bonds will cease and all coupons maturing after said date shall become and be null and void. On January 1, 1937, there will become and be due and payable upon each and every of said Bonds the principal thereof, plus a premium of 4% of such principal, together with the accrued interest on said Bonds to said date, and all of said Bonds are required then to be presented for redemption and payment at the principal office of Bankers Trust Company, Corporate Trust Department, 16 Wall Street, New York, N. Y., with all coupons maturing after January 1, 1937. The coupons maturing January 1, 1937 should be detached and presented for payment in the usual manner.

Dated October 31, 1936.

Announcing

the most revolutionary loan plan ever offered.

Promise-to-Pay PLAN

No Security—No Endorsers.

No Wage Assignments.

Just Your Plain Note

Now you can get a loan on just your Promise-to-Pay. If you can make regular payments, sign only a plain note and nothing else. It is just like borrowing from a friend on a simple I. O. U.—no endorsers, no wage assignments, co-makers, furniture, real estate, stocks, bonds, diamonds, or other security required. We take you at your word and give you the money you need on just your Promise-to-Pay. Unbelievably simple, yet there is no catch to this offer. Your honesty, integrity, and ability to pay are absolutely the sole requirements for a loan on the New Promise-to-Pay Plan.

Reduced Rates

Monthly charges are 3% on balances up to $100 and only 2% on balances above $100. Also all other types of loans at the same reduced cost. For full particulars, telephone, write, or stop in the office nearest you.

COMMONWEALTH LOAN CO.

REDUCED RATES

ON ALL LOANS ABOVE $100.

HOW YOU CAN BORROW.

1. If you can make monthly payments you can qualify for a loan.
2. You do not need co-makers or endorsers.
3. No inquiries made of employer or friends.

HOW YOU CAN REPAY.

1. Payments on all loans are small. For example, payments on a $200 loan are $10 per month plus interest charges on a 20 month schedule.
2. Monthly rate is 2% on the balance above $100, 3% on $100 or less. On $200 repaid in 20 months this is substantially less than the lawful maximum.

No Endorsers.

[Acme Photo.]

WORLD'S LARGEST BRIDGE IS OPENED TO AUTO TRAFIC—Aerial view of the $77,000,000 San Francisco-Oakland span, upon which autos were permitted for the first time. The cantilever section is in the foreground leading to Yerba Buena Island. Beyond the island is the suspension section, with San Francisco in the background. The total length of the bridge is 8¼ miles. (Story on page 10.)

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

GEN. DENHARDT ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF MURDERING WOMAN—Scene in New Castle, Ky., yesterday when Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt (indicated by arrow) refused to testify at inquest into death of Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor and was arrested for murder. Mrs. Taylor was found in a ditch near the Denhardt home last Friday. (Story on page 1.)

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

POLISH AMBASSADOR AND WIFE GUESTS AT SOCIETY DINNER—Count and Countess Jerzy Potocki (two in center) with Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Dewey at dinner last night in Casino club. The newly appointed ambassador from Poland to United States and his wife are making a short visit in Chicago. (Story on page 27.)

FIFTEEN ESCAPE SEWER CAVEIN—Sink hole in St. Paul street 150 feet above sewer tunnel yesterday after 5,000 tons of sand and rock had fallen into excavation. Fifteen workmen escaped with their lives.
